Wallace Rides Out Rebellion to Win Second Place

HITLER FLYERS RAIN BOMBS ON SCOTTISH CITY

Victims Buried in Tenement Debris.

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—German flyers dropped bombs in the streets of a southeastern Scottish city tonight, smashing a tenement building and trapping an undetermined number of persons in the débris.

One bomb fell near a street car, shattering the windows. The passengers were not seriously hurt.

One raider machine gunned a street and parents rushed out to drag playing children to safety.

There were 16 families in the bombed tenement, and authorities said there were "some casualties." The bomber was reported shot down later.

[The British censor deletes the names of bombed places. Edinburgh, Perth, and Dundee are sizable cities in southeast Scotland.]

"Hit and Run" Variety.

Scotsmen said tonight's raids were mostly of the stealthy "hit and run" variety.

They said the bombers glided in low with motors cut off, loosed their bombs and sped away.

The damage, they said, was not great.

"I saw the bombers coming in quickly and silently from the sea," said one witness. "They swept over their targets, there were some explosions and then, with a roar, the bombers started their engines and fled out to sea."

British ships off the northeast coast of Scotland fought off an attack by German warplanes amid shelling and bomb explosions so intense that houses ashore rocked with the vibration. The sky was lit by the flashes of antiaircraft shells exploding like fireworks, accompanied by the thunder of bombs.

Whole Day of Strafing.

The new raids climaxed a day in which Britain was strafed with bombs and machine gun bullets over its length and breadth. At least six persons were killed in the early raids, and hostile planes were almost continuously in the air.

Moreover, the air ministry announced tonight that a Henschel 126 army coöperation plane of the type which the Germans used in Flanders to scout for troops was sighted off the south coast for the first time today and was winged by British fighters.

The British air force struck back with daylight raids on barge concentrations in the Netherlands and Belgium, and military objectives in the Ruhr. Fires were reported following attacks on oil depots at Ghent and Gelsenkirchen, the latter in northwest Germany.

Again Attack Germany.

Tonight, from home bases, British flyers returned to the attack on Germany and German occupied sections en masse. Large groups of bombers could be seen crossing toward France.

[The German high command declared its planes had attacked Tunbridge Wells, in Kent just out of London; Aldershot, the English "Plattsburg," airports, factories, and harbors in south and central England.]

Prime Minister Churchill, answering questions in the house of commons, observed that British casualties had been "singularly light" despite "months of widespread, if ill-directed," bombings.

Six German dive bombers attacked steamers in the English channel today, but an eye witness said apparently none of the ships was hit. One of the attackers was brought down.

Three Killed at Gibraltar.

Bomb splinters killed a woman in northwest Scotland. Four elderly persons were reported killed in a southeast England town. A bomb killed a man in a field.

Five persons were injured and many houses were damaged in one Welsh town.

Gibraltar, Britain's stronghold in the Mediterranean, was showered with bombs that killed three civilians and injured several more—the first casualties in that heavily fortified base which Spain wants.

[Advices from Spain said seven persons, including a nun, were killed and many wounded at Gibraltar.]

Grim Picture: Tour of British No Man's Land

BY DREW MIDDLETON.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, July 18 (AP)—The mightiest army ever assembled in Britain stands to its guns and positions each dawn and dusk fully confident of its ability to whip the German army in the field.

A two day tour covering some 500 miles of this strange front revealed the vast amount of work which has turned certain areas into a series of prepared battle positions of great depth, and the ardent desire of the troops for revenge for the Flanders defeat.

As amazing as anything else in this island is the stoic bravery of the common people who continue to live in areas which at any hour may become great battlegrounds.

Live Regular Lives.

These people, most of them men whose wives and children have been evacuated and the old folks who will never leave the land, live their regular lives while all around them fortifications widen and solidify.

From the coast itself where sentries stand looking out over the gray sea to villages miles from the sea this section of Britain has been awakened from the sleep of nearly 900 years of security.

Earthworks crown hills. Concrete pill boxes and gun positions, masked by paint and foliage, command vital roads and vital landing points for air or sea borne invasion. Thousands of troops tramp the country lanes and ceaselessly patrol the numberless areas where the first German blow may fall.

Guns Easy to Conceal.

Gun positions, redoubts and trenches are far more easy to conceal in foliage-covered hills than in the flat plain of Flanders.

Altho fortifications are impressive in character, there is great stress laid on mobility. The general staff is able to move thousands of troops almost instantly to points where the Germans might land in force.

Coastal defenses, including tank traps and blocks, seem designed to entangle invaders until the full weight of the army can be brought to bear. Mobility plus defense in depth thus appears to be the army's answer to the menace of invasion. Officers say the attack probably will be preceded by a week of intensive bombing.

CONVENTION NOT FREE, SAYS SEN. LUCAS IN WITHDRAWING NAME

In asking that his name be withdrawn from the list of candidates for the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination in the Chicago Stadium last night, Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois used an expression that for a startled moment hushed the noisy crowd.

"Had this been a free and open convention," he said, in explaining that he was bowing to the recognized wishes of President Roosevelt.

Listeners predicted that the expression would make campaign history.

GARNER NAMING OF NOMINEE IN MARCH WINS $10

Last March 30 Vice President John N. Garner, then a presidential aspirant, bet that President Roosevelt would be nominated for a third term.

Everett Watkins, a newspaper correspondent, exhibited yesterday at the Democratic convention a card on one side of which had been written:

"I bet $10 to $1 that Mr. Garner can't name the nominee for President. Everett Watkins."

On the back, with Garner's signature, was: "F. D. Roosevelt."

Garner placed it in an envelope and gave it to Watkins just before the latter left for Chicago and with instructions that the envelope was not to be opened until after the nomination.

Watkins mailed Garner a check for $10 yesterday.

'Excellent Choice,' Says McNary of Rival Nominee

Washington, D. C., July 19, Friday (AP).—Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican Vice Presidential nominee, had this to say of the Democratic nomination of Secretary Wallace for Vice President:

"He is a good friend and an excellent choice."

Willkie on the President's Speech: 'Very Interesting'

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 18 (AP). —Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican Presidential nominee, heard President Roosevelt's radio address in his apartment tonight and commented: "Very, very interesting."

He declined to elaborate.

Hunt Girl's 1st Boy Friend as Her Kidnaper

Dixon, Ill., July 18 [Special].—Police of five states were searching tonight for a small town girl, 16 years old, and an unwelcome suitor nearly twice her age who is charged with kidnaping her. Authorities here construed their disappearance as a serious matter.

The girl is Genevieve Full of Sublette, a village 18 miles southeast of Dixon. She lived with her parents and worked as a maid in the home of a resident of the village. Her accused abductor was her first boy friend, Russell Meyers, 28, of Sublette, the driver of a milk truck.

They have been missing since Monday night when Meyers, who had been ordered by the girl's father to stay away from her, overtook the girl on a highway and forced her to drive away with him.

On Way to a Show.

Genevieve at the time was in an automobile en route to a show in Amboy. She was accompanied by an escort, Winslow Smith, 23, and another young couple, Dorothy Lovering, 16, and Earl Myers, 23.

Miss Full's companions said Meyers drove his car alongside theirs a few miles outside of Sublette and ordered the girl to get into his car. When she demurred, her companion said, Meyers made threats which cowed the group, and Miss Full entered her suitor's car.

The missing girl's sister, Shirley, who is 11, said that a few hours before the disappearance Genevieve told her she had received an offensive letter from Meyers. Genevieve told her younger sister she was afraid of the man, and hoped he would not molest her.

Father Swears Out Warrant.

When the girl was not brought home Monday night, her father, John Full, a road patrolman, reported the matter to authorities and yesterday swore out a warrant charging Meyers with kidnaping. A request for help in searching for the pair was broadcast to the police of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana, and Missouri.

"We're worried particularly about them," the girl's mother said, "because they weren't on good terms. They had gone together occasionally for several months until four weeks ago when Mr. Full told Meyers to leave Genevieve alone until she became of age."

FARM SECRETARY GETS 624 BALLOTS AS DELEGATES BOO, THEN FLEES HALL

President Accepts 'Draft' in Speech from Capital.

Delegates to the Democratic national convention early today heard Franklin D. Roosevelt accept the precedent-shattering third term nomination which they tendered him 24 hours before.

The President spoke from the oval room of the White House and his words boomed from the amplifiers in the Chicago Stadium, where 20,000 persons sat silent thruout the address.

Thanks Delegates for Wallace.

As he thanked the delegates for bowing to his choice of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace as the Vice Presidential nominee, Mr. Roosevelt's tones were fatherly. His voice was melancholy and persuasive as he told why he had remained silent so long on the third term issue.

It grew stern as he spoke of foreign dictatorships and was edged with sarcasm as he stated that world affairs probably would prevent his making a campaign tour, but that he would stand ever ready to point out any falsifications of fact that he might note.

The President began with the assertion that he accepted the nomination only after deep conflict between his desire to retire and the urgings of his conscience. When reëlected in 1936 it had been his firm intention to leave public life at the end of the second term, he continued.

Calls Public Need Paramount.

But now, he asserted, the European war had created a public danger in the United States.

"In the face of that public danger," he told the delegates, "all those who can be of service to the republic have no choice but to offer themselves for service in those capacities for which they are fitted."

"When the conflict [European war] broke out last September, it was still my intention to announce clearly and simply, at an early date, that under no circumstances would I accept reelection," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"It soon became evident, however," he continued, "that such a public statement on my part would be unwise from the point of view of sheer public interest. As the President of the United States, it was my duty, with the aid of the congress, to preserve our neutrality. . . .

Cites World Crisis as Reason.

"It was also my duty to maintain to the utmost the influence of this mighty nation in our effort to prevent the spread of war and to sustain by all legal means those governments threatened by other governments which had rejected the principles of Democracy."

The President continued that he had reached the conclusion that no declaration should come from him until the national convention. It was made within an hour after the formation of the permanent organization of the convention, he added.

Silence Applause for Talk.

Just before Mr. Roosevelt's address began Permanent Chairman Alben W. Barkley informed the Stadium throng that the President would be unable to hear their applause and that any demonstration would be an interruption. As the opening words were spoken blue searchlights shed their glare on a huge drawing of the President's face, which hung on the west wall.

When the speech had ended the delegates launched into a six minute demonstration, while the band played "Hail to the Chief." Democratic officials said the President heard this by radio in the White House.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The text of President Roosevelt's address to the convention follows:

"Members of the convention—My friends:

"It is with a very full heart that I speak tonight. I must confess that I do so with mixed feelings—because I find myself, as almost every one does sooner or later in his lifetime, in a conflict between deep personal desire for retirement on the one hand, and that quiet, invisible thing called "conscience" on the other.

"Because there are self-appointed

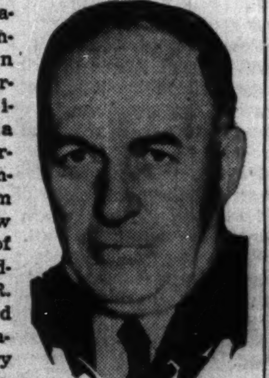
ANTI-NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS GET READY TO BOLT

BY CHESLY MANLY.

Comment among anti-New Deal senators and representatives attending the Democratic national convention here yesterday indicated that a considerable number of them may follow the lead of Senator Edward R. Burke and Representative Harry B. Coffee, both of Nebraska, in refusing to support President Roosevelt for a third term.



Senator Edward R. Burke.

Senator Burke announced that he will support Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential candidate, in a letter to Willkie made public by the senator's office in Washington. Burke expressed confidence that "a host of citizens nurtured in the Democratic faith as you and I have been will rally to the defense of the vital principle that under our form of government a limitation on the tenure of office of an all-powerful executive is essential."

Coffee Opposes 3d Term.

Representative Coffee issued a statement saying he could not "conscientiously support any President for a third term."

The antithird term senators and representatives attending the national convention declined to comment for publication on Senator Burke's announcement, but their private observations indicated wholehearted sympathy with his course.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia left for home yesterday afternoon, deserting the convention. He had no desire to attend last night's session for the nomination of Henry A. Wallace for Vice President and the reception by radio of President Roosevelt's acceptance speech.

Others Against 3d Term.

Senator Ellison [Cotton Ed] Smith of South Carolina refused to attend the convention because his delegation was instructed to vote for Mr. Roosevelt's renomination. Former Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts surrendered his credentials as a delegate because he could not support the motion to make Mr. Roosevelt's renomination unanimous.

Senator Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana refused to be a delegate to the convention because that state's delegation was instructed to vote for a third term.

Other senators who may refuse to support the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket, according to the anti-New Dealers attending the convention, include Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, Josiah W. Bailey of North Carolina, Walter F. George of Georgia, Pat McCarran of Nevada, Rush D. Holt of West Virginia, Carter Glass of Vir-

Wild Disorder Marks Democrat Revolt to Dictation.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

In the midst of a party revolt that raged in the Chicago Stadium for five hours the Democratic national convention nominated Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and adjourned sine die at 1:05 o'clock this morning.

The convention unparalleled in political annals came to a sensational end. Democratic leaders went forth into the night from the Stadium apprehensive of the effect upon party prospects of the events that took place there in the space of four days.

The upheaval that shook the party was precipitated by President Roosevelt's renomination of himself for a third term in defiance of the unwritten law limiting the tenure of the Presidency to 8 years.

Revolt at Dictation.

It became more violent with the disclosure of the full measure of the dictation of the convention's every act by the President. It reached its culmination in the riotous resistance last night to the nomination of Secretary Wallace at the behest of Mr. Roosevelt.

Then at the conclusion of this incident, the like of which had never been witnessed in a national convention, the delegates listened to a masterly speech of acceptance by the President of the third term nomination, a speech in which he sought to rationalize his course by arguments that drove the wedge deeper into his party.

Plea by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Finally the extraordinary aspect of this convention was heightened by the appearance before it of Mrs. Roosevelt who in a subtle speech pleaded justification of her husband and indirectly urged the acceptance of Wallace as her husband's running mate.

But for five hours before the President spoke every mention of the name of Secretary Wallace in the Vice Presidential nominating and seconding speeches and in the balloting evoked storms of booing by delegates and spectators jammed in the convention hall. At times during these deafening demonstrations of opposition to Wallace, Chairman Alben W. Barkley lost control of the convention.

Ready to Accept.

Secretary Wallace had come to the convention hall to be nominated with a speech of acceptance in his pocket. He had distributed copies of it to the press in advance. He expected to deliver it to the convention after being nominated.

Mr. Wallace sat on the platform during all the booing of his name. He preserved a stoical countenance thruout the ordeal. Mrs. Wallace who sat by his side was tearful. When at last he was declared the Vice Presidential nominee Wallace started forward to be ready to deliver his speech of acceptance.

Stops Acceptance Speech.

Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, one of President Roosevelt's spokesmen here, rushed up and intercepted the secretary. Byrnes was fearful of what would happen if Wallace were to face that booing convention.

"Don't do it, Henry," cried Byrnes, "don't go out there. You'll ruin the party if you do."

The man who had just been named for the President's running mate hesitated, looked toward that hostile assemblage of Democrats and then stole quietly away after the conclusion of the President's speech of acceptance. Wallace's prepared speech went undelivered. Found by reporters as he was leaving the convention hall, Wallace refused to be interviewed and said he did not know when he would accept the nomination.

Fear Injury to Party.

Many Roosevelt leaders felt that the broadcasting of the proceedings with the storms of booing of the party's Vice Presidential candidate must have done Democratic prospects incalculable injury. There were signs of hitherto loyal Roosevelt lieutenants deserting the ill fated cause.

The President's complimentary references to Postmaster General James

A. Farley were interpreted as a public appeal to the cabinet member to continue as chairman of the Democratic national convention in which position he twice organized victory for Mr. Roosevelt. The national committee will meet this morning to elect the new chairman and launch the Democratic election canvass.

But Mr. Farley made it clear that he would not remain as party manager. As a result of the party upheaval produced by Mr. Roosevelt's acts Senator Byrnes told his friends that he would not accept the national chairmanship under any circumstances. The President may have to fall back on Frank C. Walker, New York lawyer, altho he, too, has indicated that he does not want the job.

Roll Call Takes 5½ Hours.

As a result of the indescribable confusion produced by the revolt against Wallace it took three hours to present the names of the candidates for the Vice Presidential nomination and another hour and a half for the balloting. At the conclusion of the ballot-Wallace had received 623.7 votes, while his principal opponent, Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama, had 331 8-30.

Senator John H. Bankhead immediately moved, on behalf of his brother, to make the nomination of Wallace unanimous and the motion was carried to the accompaniment of a final salvo of boos.

The battle over the Vice Presidential nomination was spectacular and exciting and packed with drama. Again and again the sweltering crowd of 25,000 persons was swept with tornadoes of booing by the opponents of Wallace and waves of cheers for Bankhead, former Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, and others whose names were presented for the nomination.

Threatens to Refuse Bid.

Senator Byrnes, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, and other Roosevelt lieutenants were startled and consumed with anxiety over the revolt against the nomination of the President's choice. They gathered in a private room and discussed the crisis with the President on the long distance telephone.

Presently the word came forth from the huddle of the leaders that Mr. Roosevelt would not accept his renomination for a third term if the convention should deny his request for Wallace as his running mate. It was stated that the President was prepared to make a statement to that effect to the convention, if necessary.

Rivals Withdraw Early.

It was early in the forenoon that Senator Byrnes in a telephone talk with the President learned that he wanted Wallace for his running mate. Byrnes passed the word along and the rival candidates, including McNutt, Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, Gov. Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri, withdrew from the contest in favor of Wallace. All the rivals withdrew except Bankhead.

McNutt was recruited to place Wallace in nomination. At the request of the President, Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, who aspired to the nomination, stepped aside and agreed to second the Wallace nomination.

Not long after that program had been arranged the storm broke. Delegation after delegation was found to be shot thru with opposition to Wallace. Even the Roosevelt forces that accomplished the renomination of the President the night before were honeycombed with disaffection.

Objections Deep Seated.

The objections to Wallace were numerous and deep seated. He was opposed because he is a "backsliding Republican." He was opposed because he is a mystic, a dreamer, a visionary. And he was opposed on the ground that he is a poor campaigner and does not fill the demand for a vigorous and nimble nominee, capable of trading blows with the redoubtable Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential nominee.

Many delegates resented the dictation of the nomination of Wallace by the President. In vain the Roosevelt leaders argued that it was necessary to name a candidate for Vice President whose hold on the farmers would offset the influence in the agricultural states of the Republican nominee, Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen bill. This contention was countered by leaders of farm organizations and farm state delegates with the assertion that it is not the farm legislation but Wallace's administration of it that is unpopular with the farmers.

Revolt Spreads Widely.

By the time the convention met in the night session the revolt had spread to enormous proportions. McNutt had declined to place Wallace in nomination. State after state got in line for Bankhead around whom the opposition was rallying.

The most dramatic moment of the struggle came when McNutt himself had been placed in nomination without his authorization. The convention went wild with enthusiasm for the federal security administrator,, a world war veteran and American Legion commander.

Lucas Withdraws

United States Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois withdrawing name as candidate for Democratic Vice Presidential nomination. He said he desired to accede to President Roosevelt's desire to pick own running mate.

It looked as if McNutt could have been nominated by acclamation on the spot. But as a Roosevelt officeholder he was obliged to quench his ambition, decline the nomination and second Wallace.

McNutt thanked the convention for the demonstration of favor. He pleaded for unity.

"I am here," he said, "to support the President's choice. I follow his wishes."

Seconds Choice of Wallace.

Thereupon he withdrew his name and seconded Wallace.

Pennsylvania furnished a second for Wallace, delivered by Philip Murray, vice president of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers. A tornado of boos drowned out the cheers.

Next came Representative Rayburn to second the nomination of Wallace. He did the job and again the boos swept the convention hall.

When the roll of states was called for the presentation of names for the vice presidential nomination Representative Henry B. Steagall of Alabama proposed Speaker Bankhead.

Bankhead Put in Race.

"Alabama," said Steagall, "offers her most brilliant and beloved son, a man whose unquestioned fitness meets every requirement. His record extends over a quarter of a century. He has been tested and tried."

He talked for 10 minutes extolling the record and attainments of the speaker of the house. There followed the usual popularity demonstration accorded candidates. This one lasted 14 minutes. The delegations participating included nearly all the southern states, reinforced, however, by Wisconsin, Colorado, California, Nebraska, New York, Missouri, and Washington.

Next, Arizona yielded to Maryland and National Committeeman Howard Bruce placed Jesse H. Jones, director of the federal loan agency, in nomination as the "greatest American in this country." The demonstration accorded him flashed in the pan. Arizona, Texas, and Mississippi whooped it up for Jones but it was all over in 1 minute.

Labled "Farmers Friend."

Then Arkansas yielded to Iowa and up rose Frank R. O'Connor of Dubuque to propose Wallace. Mr. O'Connor for three years was regional administrator and general counsel of the Farm Credit administration for four states.

"You can write across his brow in inerasable chalk the words 'the farmers' friend,'" declaimed O'Connor. "Iowa, the greatest agricultural state in the union gives to this convention and the Democratic party its great and illustrious son, Henry A. Wallace."

A storm of cheers greeted the presentation of Wallace's name and also an equally thunderous storm of boos from the opponents of the agriculture secretary.

"We want a Democrat," came the cry multiplied a hundred times, from the body of the delegates.

At the mention of Wallace's name, the Iowa delegation brought out fresh stalks of corn and began a demonstration down the center aisle behind the state's banner.

The banners of Florida, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Connecticut, Texas, Minnesota, Puerto Rico, California, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Ohio followed.

Organ Goes Dead.

As the parade got under way, the great organ went dead and the hall was almost silent. After two minutes the organ broke into the "Iowa Corn Song" and the march of the paraders quickened.

At 8:34 when Chairman Barkley rapped for order and continued the roll call, the demonstrating delegates appeared to be glad to get back to their seats.

California was next on the roll call. Representative Jerry Voorhis withdrew the name of Gov. Culbert L. Olson, the state's favorite son candidate for Vice President. Olson drew a chorus of booes when he seconded Wallace's nomination. Olson held his place on the rostrum and when the disapproval died away he continued his seconding speech, praising Wallace's record for the farmers.

On behalf of Colorado Philip Kornbein presented the name of Senator Alva B. Adams of that state.

Altho Connecticut was committed to Wallace, Delegate John M. Bailey of that state was permitted to second the nomination of Bankhead. More playing of "Dixie" and rebel yells ensued.

Delaware yielded to Oklahoma. John Welles, speaker of the Oklahoma assembly, proposed Paul V. McNutt. The McNutt interlude followed.

Brown Put in Nomination.

When Michigan was called Murray D. Van Wagoner, candidate for governor, placed Senator Prentiss M. Brown of that state in nomination. Cheers; no boos.

Delegate John E. Regan of Minnesota argued that agriculture be given proper representation and seconded Wallace. Boos; no cheers.

Missouri seconded the nomination of "a man who has always been a Democrat, Speaker Bankhead." Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, chimed in with another second. Then up rose Delegate J. V. Conran of that state, got the platform, and in a perfect oratorical rage proclaimed that Missouri never could be carried with a Republican on the Democratic ticket. The delegates went wild with approval.

Demonstration for Bankhead.

"This is no rabbit convention," exclaimed Conran as he seconded Bankhead. The cheers were deafening and another Bankhead demonstration was staged.

Nebraska seconded Bankhead.

When New York was reached Ed Flynn, the Bronx boss, said that the President wants Wallace. An avalanche of boos. North Dakota seconded Wallace and got a tornado of boos.

When Oklahoma was called that delegation announced it is "still drafting Paul McNutt." The convention went into a paroxysm of exultation. South Dakota seconded Wallace amid a storm of boos.

At the call of Texas Mr. Jones got recognition and withdrew, saying that his name had been presented without his knowledge or consent. Many delegates had told him, he said, that they wanted to vote for him for the vice presidential nomination. He was appreciative but must decline.

Francis M. Durbin of Ohio attempted to take the platform but was thrown off by the policemen. He protested and Chairman Barkley offered his protection. Durbin made his way to the speaker's stand and tore off his coat amid cheers.

Yells Drown Out Talk.

"I think this convention would be remiss if it did not give a vote of thanks to Mayor Kelly," said Durbin.

His voice was drowned in boos.

"Chicago," he went on, "is a great city. There is nothing wrong with it except THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and the Hearst papers."

Durbin said Bascom Timmons, a Texas newspaper man, and a conspicuous Garner leader, would make a good Vice President. Timmons in the press section took a bow. Durbin then nominated Charles Sawyer, Ohio national committeeman.

"Just because the Republicans nominated a backsliding Democrat let us not try to put one of those over," said Durbin.

Sawyer spoke and withdrew, saying he stood with Roosevelt for Wallace. The delegates booed.

Paul Hemmy Jr. of Wisconsin placed Senator Lucas in nomination in a speech paying a notable tribute to the senator's ability. He was immediately followed by Lucas, who withdrew.

The Philippines seconded McNutt and another McNutt demonstration was loosed. Senator Brown now withdrew and urged the nomination of Wallace. He got plenty of boos. That ended the presentation of names for the nomination and the balloting began after Mrs. Roosevelt spoke.

WOMEN SNIFFLE AS HERO M'NUTT BOWS IN DEFEAT

8 Years of Presidential Hopes Yield Nothing.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Women wept softly in corners of the palatial Indiana delegation quarters in the Stevens hotel yesterday as word spread that their hero, former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, had arrived empty handed at the end of the Presidential and Vice Presidential trail he had followed for eight expensive years.

McNutt, it was learned, telephoned President Roosevelt that he would support the New Deal choice, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, for second place on the ticket. He repeated this assurance in a phone call to Wallace and said it face to face with Harry Hopkins, head of the White House strategy board.. And he carried out his pledge last night on the convention floor when he refused to allow his own nomination to stand and spoke up for Wallace.

Leaps Onto Bandwagon.

On Monday McNutt had tried to salvage something out of his arduous campaigning by making an early leap onto the Roosevelt bandwagon before the President's intentions became apparent. His backers were confident this would win him at least an even break from the White House crew in the Vice Presidential contest.

It has been estimated that $250,000 has been spent on McNutt since he was elected governor in 1932. He was an unwearying traveler while governor, while high commissioner of the Philippines, and in his present job as federal security administrator. In May he did 14,000 miles of campaigning, most of it by airplane.

Hoosier delegates felt they had ample cause for bitterness. Their candidate was the largest in the Chicago political show—6 feet 3 inches tall and of athletic proportions. His handsome likeness was known everywhere: wavy white hair surmounting rugged, yet youthful tanned features.

Seemed to Have Everything.

From his former post as national commander of the American Legion on down, he seemed to have had all the connections supposed to count high in political success. He was an orator of note. As a former classmate of Wendell L. Willkie at Indiana university, his geographical background would have balanced that of the Republican nominee for President.

More than 20,000 visitors—another record—had streamed onto the Indiana delegation's 8,000 square feet of marble paved floor space, listening to the orchestra and partaking of refreshments. They gaped at the color photo enlargement of Roosevelt, containing 325 square feet of canvas [the largest of the convention], and usually got McNutt buttons.

Remembered was the fabulous champagne supper which McNutt laid out for 4,000 guests in Washington, D. C., in 1938. The cost was $7,500. Even blasé banquetgoers of the capital were dazzled.

Splendor Tied to Failure.

But the splendor of the McNutt campaign is said to be directly connected with its failure. Money for the big show was raised largely by the Indiana 2 per cent club, which levied assessments upon state pay rollers. And recently the federal income tax sleuths had busied themselves in this direction, with the result that $85,000 was claimed from the organization leaders.

Also, McNutt himself has been a target of income tax investigation. There is a report that he paid $3,000 to settle a claim of tax deficiency.

Wayne Coy, close friend of both McNutt and Hopkins, said: "McNutt has always been a good soldier." Not all supporters of McNutt took the turn of events this easily.

"They can't make a lot of our boys vote for a Republican like Wallace," a Texas delegate said.

A Virginia delegate swore that his state would vote Republican in November "but not for one like Wallace."

And the women who had worked hard under the cheery McNutt smile continued to sniffle in their handkerchiefs.

MOTHER VOICES HER PRIDE OVER A SON, WALLACE

Des Moines, Ia., July 19, Friday (AP).—Expressing a mother's pride in the selection of Henry A. Wallace as the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee, Mrs. Henry C. Wallace said shortly after midnight she did not believe her son's ideas are "much different" from those of his famous Republican father.

The father, Henry Cantwell Wallace, was secretary of agriculture under Presidents Harding and Coolidge. He died in office in 1924.

The son, Henry Agard Wallace, formally became a Democrat in 1936, altho he always has said that he left the Republican party in 1924.

Asked what she thought of the latest honor accorded her son, the 73 year old matriarch of the Wallace family said:

"I'm afraid I'm proud of him."

But she wishes he could continue as secretary of agriculture.

"I believe he could do more good if he stayed where he is," she said.

BEER ON SALE AT CONVENTION —BUT BRIEFLY

Democratic convention bosses, who for four days and three nights have kept beer out of the Stadium, became suddenly aware last night that the foaming beverage was being sold all over the vast hall. Some of the vendors had penetrated to the national committee boxes during the heated nominating speeches for Vice Presidential candidates.

In 90 minutes—before officials halted the sales—300 cases, 7,200 bottles, had been disposed of at 25 cents a bottle, it was learned. Police routed the vendors, who refilled their baskets with pop and milk. J. G. Grouzard, Stadium concessionaire, intimated some one had given him permission to sell beer, but wouldn't say who. He just looked mysteriously about and put a finger to his lips.

CONVENTION LULL DRAWS JEERS OF TICKET HOLDERS

Jaded Delegates Listen to Gallery Clamor.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the Democratic national convention found delegates jaded and lackadaisical following the riotous celebration attendant on President Roosevelt's renomination the night before. Spectators, however, were vociferous and filled the air with verbal raspberries when they found they were to miss out on the selection of a candidate for Vice President.

The ticket holders set up a storm of indignant "noes" when adjournment was taken until evening, voiding their pasteboards. They poured boos from the galleries on the head of Permanent Chairman Alben Barkley as he made the announcement.

Hear Young Wyoming Singer.

Barkley opened the brief afternoon session at 2:19. The Rev. B. Everett Carr of St. Peter's Episcopal church pronounced the invocation. After the national anthem was played, John Replogle, a red headed young man from Lander, Wyo., sang "God Bless America" with "Somewhere in Old Wyoming" as an encore.

The convention adopted unanimously a resolution by Congressman Adolph J. Sabath of Chicago, chairman of the house rules committee, providing that every state carried for the Democratic presidential nominee will get a bonus of two additional delegates at large in future conventions. States also will be prohibited from splitting up votes into fractions smaller than one-half. Wednesday night they were being divided into 15ths and 30ths.

Elder Lightfoot Solomon Michaud, Negro evangelist from Washington, who described himself as a "delegate from the state of happy mind," obtained the floor to nominate Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt for Vice President.

Cromwell Offers Petition.

James H. R. Cromwell, husband of Doris Duke, the tobacco heiress and Democratic nominee for senator from New Jersey, presented a petition he said was signed by "50,000 of the plain people of New Jersey" urging Roosevelt's reëlection.

A resolution introduced by Lawrence [Chip] Robert, convention secretary, thanking the press and radio, was adopted. Robert returned later to include the newspaper photographers in the resolution. "Otherwise I might never have my picture taken again," Robert said.

Willkie to Speak Today on W-G-N from Denver

Wendell Willkie, the Republican nominee for the presidency, will be heard in a broadcast over W-G-N and the coast to coast Mutual network at 2:30 p. m. today. Willkie will be heard from Denver where he will address the Live Stock Market Growers' association at a luncheon meeting. He is to speak for about 15 minutes.

WALLACE KNOWN FOR THEORIES OF CROP PLANNING

Picked for Second Place on Roosevelt Ticket.

Henry Agard Wallace of Iowa, nominated by the Democratic party for Vice President, is one of the New Deal's most ardent advocates of economic planning.

Secretary of agriculture since President Roosevelt first took office in 1933, Wallace has instituted a number of projects designed to give the government, in return for cash paid out, control of farm production. Some of these have been abandoned, but Wallace always has had a new one to take the place of whatever was discarded.

Politically he has been something of a mystery. He was originally a Republican, but supported Roosevelt in 1932 because he disapproved Hoover policies. It has been rela d that he registered as a Republican until 1936.

Son of Cabinet Member.

The nominee was born in Adair county, Ia., on Oct. 7, 1888. His father, Henry C. Wallace, was secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Harding, and his grandfather, "Uncle Henry" Wallace, was a political power in Iowa and was an intimate of Republican leaders in the state 60 years ago.

Wallace was graduated from Iowa State college in 1910 and at once became connected with Wallace's Farmer, a journal of large circulation that had been managed for decades by men of his family. The paper's support was thrown behind the Democratic party in 1932.

He was associate editor from 1910 to 1924, editor from 1924 to 1929, and edited the merged Iowa Homestead and Wallace's Farmer from 1929 to 1933. In 1935 the Wallace Publishing company, owner of the merged papers, was sold to the James M. Pierce corporation to satisfy a mortgage of $2,224,742. The sale price was $1,013,000, and the Pierce corporation was given a deficiency judgment for the difference of more than $1,200,000.

Theory of Overproduction.

Wallace went into the cabinet as an exponent of the theory that the farmers' great trouble was overproduction, and that the way to cure them was to persuade or compel the tiller of the soil to produce less.

One of his first plans was to have the government purchase five million little pigs and slaughter them, that a balance of production and consumption might be established—and consequently a favorable price level. He said that extraordinary conditions the world over justified this.

"Plowing under 10 million acres and slaughtering the pigs would rightfully have been considered insane before the world war," he said. "Then the United States was a debtor nation. Now it is a creditor nation and cannot sell abroad as it did then. American farmers must cease adding to world surpluses."

Wallace was the principal proponent of the agricultural adjustment act, under which processing taxes were levied on many farm products and bounties paid to farmers who reduced acreage. This act was destroyed in its original form by a Supreme court decision. It has been replaced by laws that permit payments for soil conservation and give the secretary of agriculture dictatorial powers over milk supplies in several large cities.

Bitter Critic of Opponents.

In the early New Deal years Wallace bitterly criticized those who opposed his program of scarcity. On one occasion he declared that unless Chicago took "a more statesmanlike attitude" toward the processing tax the city "must surely become an ash heap."

On the tariff Wallace has had very definite views. It has been his contention that tariffs tended to cut down on international trade and limit markets abroad—that industrialists and their employés got undue benefits that tended to keep their earnings above farm earnings.

At times the Wallace plans have been popular with farmers; at other times there have been loud protests. In 1934 a gathering of 2,000 members of the Farmers' Holiday association at Des Moines, Ia., petitioned the President to remove the secretary on the ground that he was "an enemy of farmers" and that the administration had not made good its campaign promises.

Private Business Venture.

One of Wallace's private business ventures was the Hi-Bred Seed company of Grimes, Ia., producers and merchants of hybird corn seed. His interest in the company was small; that of his wife more substantial. This variety, according to experts, produced nearly 20 per cent more usable corn than ordinary varieties.

When it was pointed out in 1934 that farmers using hybrid seed could reduce corn acreage 20 per cent, collect benefits for the reduction and still raise as much as they ever did, Wallace replied that only 1½ per cent of Iowa corn acreage was hybrid, and that it would take ten years to produce enough seed to have an appreciable effect on the midwest corn crop.

Recent surveys indicated that 81 per cent of the Iowa crop last year was hybrid and perhaps 70 per cent of the Illinois crop. Agricultural experts are not sure that hybrids can be grown without taking undue amounts of fertility from the soil.

Plans for Easier Credit.

Recently Wallace has been advocating a loosened farm credits system—under his management—and the driving down of farm mortgage interest rates.

The Democratic Vice Presidential nominee is the author of a number of works on agricultural and related subjects. He is married and the father of three children, Henry B., Robert B. and Jean Wallace.

An Old Country School Will Hold a Reunion

Rochelle, Ill., July 18 [Special].—More than 100 former teachers and graduates are coming from many states to attend the Husking Peg Country school reunion in White Rock township on the school grounds Sunday. The old school, the third erected in Ogle county, was originally a log structure with a small steeple three feet higher than the roof. The steeple suggested the name of Husking Peg. In the early 1870s the log cabin was replaced by the present frame structure.

Five pairs of former University of Chicago students—all newly married—sailed into the port of San Juan, Puerto Rico, yesterday on the first leg of a unique honeymoon trip. They embarked several days ago from New York on an old schooner, The Chance, on a trip which will last until they tour various isles in the South seas.

The trip originated in the mind of Christopher Sergel, a young Chicago writer, who convinced his father, Roger, 4830 Kenwood avenue, that he and his wife, Hope, should go on a South Sea Islands trip before settling down to the routine of married life. The elder Sergel agreed and supplied most of the money for the purchase of The Chance. The other newlyweds, all former classmates of the Sergels on the Midway, chipped in with whatever funds they had.

Those on the rip besides the Sergels are the Rileys, Jesse, a chemist, and Mary, the ship's cook; Allen Paine, a specialist on insect and plant life for the Cleveland museum, and his wife, Helen; the Hnatkos, Michael, the ship's radio operator, and Josephine, an artist, and Lee Fortress and his wife, Lillian. After leaving Puerto Rico, the schooner will stop at Panama and then proceed to Papagos.

MRS. WALLACE FLIES HERE, BUT MISSES VICTORY

Nervously Leaves Stadium Before Nomination.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Henry A. Wallace became the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee at 12:06 this morning, but his wife, who last night flew into Chicago to witness his victory, was not there.

She had left the platform at the convention in the Chicago Stadium six minutes before, when her husband was 16 votes short of the 548 necessary for nomination. She was pale, almost tearful and exhausted, and was going to bed, she said.

Comes Back for Roosevelt.

Somewhere in the next half hour, she changed her mind and came back to sit on the platform, her face hidden behind a paper fan, while President Roosevelt spoke. When it was all over, she was agitated and frightened.

"I can't say anything," she said. "Really—nothing."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, beside whom she had been sitting, thrust an arm through her arm and quickly led her off the stage. They went out of the Stadium between rows of uniformed policemen thru a howling mob of curious to a waiting limousine. And the two wives of the Democratic nominees, one tall and self-possessed, the other short and shy, but both dressed in Eleanor blue, drove away into the night, one to fly back to Hyde Park, the other to see her husband.

Evening an Ordeal for Her.

For Mrs. Wallace, a quietly beautiful woman, the evening had been an ordeal. It had been her first experience in the limelight, which she abhors, and instead of hearing her husband acclaimed by one and all, she had heard a long night of "boos" before his final victory. Thru them all she sat tremulously smiling.

Like Mrs. Roosevelt, she too had come flying into Chicago—from Des Moines, Ia.—to be there. That too was an ordeal, for it was her first airplane flight, and she made it in fear and trembling.

"But I liked it," she confided shyly.

She was doing her marketing in Des Moines yesterday morning when prominent Democratic women here at the convention telephoned and pleaded that she come. Not until 4:30 p. m., after she and her two sons and daughter had listened by radio to the afternoon proceedings, did she finally decide to come.

One Place Left on Plane.

"I wanted to bring the children," she said. "They wanted to come much more than I, but there was only one place left on the plane, so I took it."

She arrived at the Stadium about 9:30 p. m. and took a place on the stage beside Mrs. Roosevelt. Her tailored blue dress, quite by coincidence, was the identical shade of the "Eleanor blue" which the President's wife wore.

"I didn't have a proper dress," Mrs. Wallace apologized. "This is the only thing I could find."

Nevertheless, she looked very pretty, with a little white straw hat, tufted with white veiling, on her gray hair, and her wide brown eyes luminous and kind. Her face is young and unlined, her voice soft and her speech shy. If she has a single outstanding characteristic, it is that of kindly sweetness. She looks sweet and motherly.

Face Clouds at Boos.

"When you heard your husband was being mentioned for the Vice Presidency, did you feel a burden descending upon you?"

"Yes" she said slowly. "I did . . ."

She paused here, her face clouding as the name of Wallace was mentioned and received with resounding boos.

"A dread . . ." she continued "something to face for the next few years. . . ."

Before leaving Des Moines, Mrs. Wallace remarked that she dreaded "the next four years for any one, in Washington, with chaos on all sides and the responsibility that is bound to rest on the national leadership."

Last night's appearance in the spotlight of politics was a new experience for the cabinet member's wife. She has always regarded herself primarily as a homemaker, believing that a wife's most important task is to create a haven of rest in his home for a busy man.

Have Three Children.

Mrs. Wallace's maiden name was Ilo Browne, and each of the Wallace children now bears her family name as a middle name. They are Henry Browne Wallace, 25, who is married and farms near Des Moines; Robert Browne Wallace, 22, a 1940 graduate of Iowa State college at Ames, and Jean Browne Wallace, 20, who made her debut last year and just finished her freshman year at Connecticut State College for Women.

She met the secretary when he was a reporter on his father's farm journal, Wallace's Farmer, and she was a student in Drake university at Des Moines. They were married in 1914 and lived in Des Moines until Wallace was named to the cabinet in 1933. Now they live in a hotel apartment in Washington, but Mrs. Wallace spends every summer in Des Moines.

HANGS SELF IN ROOM.

Sam Manotenko, 59 years old, a laborer, ended his life yesterday by hanging himself in his room at 878 North Mozart street.

HOTEL MEN FIND PURSES TIGHT AT THIS CONVENTION

But Merchants Say Their Trade Is Good.

While the Association of Commerce was inclined to feel last night that Chicago got a bargain in bidding $125,000 for the privilege of playing host to the Democratic national convention, individual hotel keepers were minded to feel blue because the golden egg laid by the goose might have been somewhat bigger than it turned out to be.

The association's survey indicated that the $125,000 brought a return of at least 1½ million dollars. This estimate was based on a canvass of the city's hotels, restaurants, transportation lines, and merchants.

Hotels Never Filled Up.

Grumbling by hotel men was concerned with the fact that there was never a time when all their rooms were filled. Many a suggestion was heard that the convention crowds had kept the strings on their purses and that there was no such open handed generosity as there had been among the Democrats who came here for the 1932 convention.

Some observers blamed the two Hatch clean politics measures. They said that this legislation kept away the federal pay rollers, and that the pay rollers were those with the money and a spending philosophy nurtured by the New Deal itself. Others blamed what they called the dullness of the convention itself. They said that such a cut and dried assemblage lacked the color and excitement that would stir up a certain recklessness in spending.

Greatest gainers were the State street merchants, who estimated their increased business at nearly 1 million dollars. David Mayer Jr., president of the State Street council, said cool weather had been a big factor in producing a satisfactory patronage.

Clothing Sales Lively.

Most of the shoppers came prepared to buy substantial goods rather than souvenirs, Mayer said. Women showed a lively interest in fall clothing and evidently had been saving in order to buy new outfits in Chicago. Furs, he remarked, moved faster than any other item.

D. L. Toffenetti, speaking for the Chicago Restaurant association, said the convention had brought an increase in business amounting to about $70,000. Hotel restaurants not included in this group were estimated to have attracted at least $100,000 in convention business.

L. B. Ermeling, secretary of the Greater Chicago Hotel association, said that next to an American Legion convention a conclave of one of the major parties gets the warmest welcome from hotel men. The conventioners will have spent between $100,000 and $200,000 in Chicago for lodging before they leave, he estimated.

Preliminary estimates from taxicab companies showed an increase in business due to the convention amounting to about $35,000. Railroads reported that convention delegates, alternates, and visitors had purchased tickets worth about $40,000. Estimates from airlines amounted to about $38,000.

Local transportation showed little profit. Surface Lines officials said convention business would not amount to more than $5,000. Officials of the motor coach lines said they had done little better than break even on their special services. No figures were available from the Rapid Transit lines.

Sheriff Pays $200 Fine to Stay Out of Own Jail

Shawano, Wis., July 18 [Special].—Sherif Carl Druckrey of Shawano county paid a $200 fine today on a contempt of court charge to avoid being locked up in his own jail. He was accused of letting prisoners roam outside of the jail, especially two girl vagrants, who, County Judge C. B. Dillett said, were permitted to take a long motor trip unaccompanied. Sheriff Druckrey said the jail was in such bad condition hygienically that he felt he should let the prisoners out occasionally. Judge Dillett warned the sheriff recently when he sent a prisoner on an errand down town and the prisoner kept going. "If you ever do that again I'll lock you up in your own jail," said the judge. He gave the sheriff the choice of a $200 fine or 30 days in jail.

SENATOR BURKE'S PLEDGE OF HELP PLEASES WILLKIE

Nominee Has Farm Parley with Iowa Governor.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 18.—The message of Senator Edward R. Burke, Nebraska Democrat, volunteering his services to Wendell L. Willkie for the duration of the campaign, was received here today by the Republican presidential nominee as a forerunner of a drift of other Democrats to the Willkie standard.

"I am greatly pleased," Willkie said. "This is just the beginning of a succession of leading Democrats. Senator Burke but leads the van of those who will be announcing themselves in opposition to the third term and for the Willkie-McNary ticket in the fall elections."

A few minutes after the receipt of Senator Burke's message, David P. Strickler, Colorado Springs attorney, lifelong Democrat and Democratic presidential elector for this state in 1936, called on Willkie and pledged his support.

For Willkie, First and Last.

"Just say I am for Wilkie, first, last, and all the time," he said. He was accompanied by Thomas Heath of Preston, Idaho, Republican state chairman, who said that Strickler had urged him to support Willkie in the Philadelphia convention.

Willkie conferred today with Gov. George A. Wilson of Iowa on the farm problem, particularly the manner in which the tenancy question has been ameliorated in that state.

Willkie asked Gov. Wilson to arrange a conference of farm leaders about Aug. 5 in Des Moines. There Willkie will get the views of farm leaders and students in several midwestern states, including Illinois. Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be asked to attend the conference if he is able.

Probably Will Return.

Willkie will go to Des Moines from here and probably return here to finish his acceptance speech, reserving the formulation of the agricultural part of it until after the conference. It now appears that the acceptance address will not be given before Aug. 10.

After their talk today Gov. Wilson asserted Willkie had very sympathetic and definite views on the farm problem and that, in his opinion, Iowa would go Republican in the fall. Wilson was elected in 1938, becoming Iowa's first Republican governor in six years.

Gov. Wilson explained that Iowa, in approaching the farm question, paid particular attention to insurance company foreclosures. Under a plan which he sponsored and which Willkie found very practical, he said 300,000 acres in Iowa have gone back into the hands of individual farm operators, thus preventing mass insurance company tenant farming. This has been done thru 15 year contracts at 2¼ per cent interest.

Willkie Likes Plan.

The Iowa plan appealed to Willkie as a highly practical, coöperative plan of great social value. He observed, however, that this procedure would not be applicable in all places, particularly in the south, and that it did not touch the big economic problem of markets and farm prices.

Willkie had luncheon today with Prof. Paul Harmon of the physiology department, University of Indiana, and Mrs. Harmon. This evening he had dinner and a conference with Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, who flew here today. Willkie will go to Denver tomorrow morning to confer with live stock, wool, and beet sugar groups.

She is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, and has dark brown hair and hazel eyes. She received a jeweled crown and a loving cup as her award.

AYERS APPEARS TO BE MONTANA PRIMARY VICTOR

Helena, Mont., July 18 (AP).—Gov. Roy E. Ayers, seeking renomination on the Democratic ticket, appeared tonight to have emerged the victor in one of the closest primary contests in years.

On the basis of unofficial returns from 1,145 of Montana's 1,195 precincts, the governor held an edge of 978 votes over his closest rival, Arthur F. Lamey of Havre, Democratic state chairman. The vote was:

Ayers, 39,609; Lamey, 38,631; A. E. Kathan of Brady, 25,658.

Sam C. Ford, Helena attorney, appeared to be the opponent of Gov. Ayers. The Republican gubernatorial count in 1,114 precincts gave: Ford, 15,960; Mayor Charles A. Hauswirth of Butte, 13,995

Police Will Fingerprint Radio Defense Volunteers

Police Commissioner Allman instructed district stations yesterday to coöperate with amateur radio operators desiring to enroll with the national defense commission. Police will take the operators' fingerprints, which must be submitted with their applications to the Federal Communicagtions commission by Aug. 15.

ANTI-NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS GET READY TO BOLT

Senator Burke Comes Out for Willkie.

ginia, and Millard E. Tydings of Maryland. Senator Tydings, who received 9½ votes for the presidential nomination, withdrew and cast the unanimous Maryland vote for Roosevelt. His friends, however, do not believe he will give any active support to the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

Expected to Avoid Campaign.

Few of the senators mentioned are expected to go as far as Senator Burke and declare for Willkie, but indications are that they will refuse to take part in the campaign for Mr. Roosevelt's reëlection.

However, in Washington, last night Senator Holt announced he would seek a record vote on his antithird term resolution which has been pending in the senate for months but allowed to lie dormant by its author at the urgent request of his Democratic colleagues. Senator Holt refused to say whether he would become an active worker against the President's reëlection.

Senator Burke, a leader in the fight against President Roosevelt's court packing bill in 1937 and a foe of many other major New Deal policies, was defeated for renomination by Gov Roy L. Cochran in Nebraska's recent senatorial primary. He attributed his defeat, however, not to his opposition to the New Deal but to his vigorous support of the administration bill repealing the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act last fall. Hundreds of Nebraska's German-American voters warned him in letters and petitions that he would never be returned to the senate if he supported the arms embargo repealer.

Text of Burke's Telegram.

Senator Burke's telegram to Willkie stated:

"As one who feels deeply that in the light of present world conditions it is essential for our country to maintain the two term limitation on the tenure of office of President, I shall work for your victory at the polls in November.

"Thus only may we make certain that never again will any party or any individual be tempted to try to overturn the wise precedent established by Washington, strengthened by Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, and Jackson, and cherished by all Americans who prize their freedom.

"I am certain that a host of citizens nurtured in the Democratic faith, as you and I have been, will rally to the defense of the vital principle that under our form of government a limitation on the tenure of office of an all-powerful executive is essential.

"We share the firm conviction of the patron saint of the Democratic party, Thomas Jefferson, that should a President ever consent to be a candidate for a third term he will be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views. We believe with another Democratic President, Buchanan, that the principle that no President should be more than once reelected is as sacred as if it were written into the constitution.

"I disclaim the leadership of those of my party who but a few years ago put themselves on record that any departure from the two term tradition would be unwise, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions, and who today take the very action they then denounced. A fitting rebuke to their apostasy will be administered by an aroused people. In that program of education I volunteer my services for the duration of the campaign."

In the Convention Whirl

The galleries were well filled last night—again with more people than there were supposed to be tickets—but in the mezzanine and boxes there were many vacant seats.

Preceding the Wallace nomination Tom Garry, city sewer superintendent, who is now known as the "ghost voice of the convention," had his boys rush "Wallace for Vice President" banners into the hall. Garry's was the fog horn voice that extolled President Roosevelt at the Tuesday night demonstration.

The wife of Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland, who has occupied a box at each session, told a neighbor: "I've learned to applaud at political meetings when the speaker pauses."

Two contesting delegations came 2,700 miles from Puerto Rico to the convention, and both were seated. One group gave three votes for Roosevelt. The other nullified these votes with three for Farley.

Delegates received 4,000 telegrams during the balloting for the presidential nomination. Most of them said "We Want Roosevelt" and came from as far as Alaska.

The Stadium band played "Die Wacht Am Rhine" before the opening of the afternoon session, but no one noticed or seemed to care much either way. A cowboy tenor sang "God Bless America" for the 26th successful rendition of the convention.

Among the items reported lost by Democratic convention delegates are a purse containing sea shells and Canton, O., street car tokens, a book of Negro spirituals, and $50 done up in rubber bands. The latter item disappeared from the pocket of a Georgia delegate. The only items reported found to date are a Notre Dame year book, a pair of spectacles, and two sets of car keys.

DISTRIBUTION BEGINS TODAY!
FRANCK'S
Symphony in D Minor
FIRST ALBUM . . . Complete in 3 Double-Faced 12-Inch Records—6 Recordings

DISTRIBUTION HEADQUARTERS
65 East Lake Street
14 North Franklin Street

TODAY, Friday, July 19th, you can get the first unit of Cesar Franck's inspirational Symphony in D Minor, the last of twelve symphonic recordings available under this Chicago Music Appreciation Offer. Franck has earned the rightful title of true leader of the modern school of French symphony. The listener is held spellbound, entranced by the enchanting flow of this exalted music.

Because of its extreme length this masterpiece is released in two units which you get for only $1.69 per unit. Each unit consists of three double-faced 12-inch records. The first unit is now being distributed: the second unit will be available starting next Friday, July 26th. You would pay fifteen dollars for this same composition, recorded by the same orchestra under the direction of the same conductor, with the names of the orchestra and conductor on the records. Distribution of all records in this Chicago Music Appreciation Offer will continue as long as the supply lasts.

HOW THIS GREAT MOVEMENT WAS ACCOMPLISHED

You get the opportunity to take twelve of the world's greatest musical masterpieces into your home at an almost incredibly small price due to the following achievements:

(1) Some of the world's greatest orchestras and conductors waived their royalties.

(2) America's foremost music manufacturer reduced charges and profits to what that orginization considers the barest practical operating minimum.

(3) America's foremost newspaper promotion organization, the Publishers Service Company, organized and conducted the campaign for many of the nation's most prominent newspapers and music societies.

(4) In Chicago, Publishers Service is conducting the campaign in behalf of the Chicago Society for Music Education, a nonprofit organization which will receive the sums from the sale of the records, and after payment of all charges, will distribute the remainder among the four coöperating Chicago Musical organizations, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Opera, Ravinia Festival and Chicago Women's Orchestral Association.

(5) One symphony or symphonic masterpiece is distributed on Friday of each week. Distribution of each symphony continues throughout the campaign as long as the supply lasts.

CANADA IS HAPPY THAT DEMOCRATS NAME ROOSEVELT

U.S. in War by Christmas, Is One Reaction.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18.—Widespread satisfaction was expressed thruout Canada today at the renomination of President Roosevelt for a third term.

Having spent considerable time in Canada, he has many personal friends here. He also has accumulated a fund of general popularity because of the sympathetic attitude his administration has adopted toward the dominion with respect to the war.

On his arrival from Toronto today G. Howard Ferguson, former Conservative premier of Ontario and later high commissioner for Canada in Britain, voiced the popular satisfaction in a statement in which he declared that President Roosevelt's nomination was a good thing for Canada. He also predicted that Mr. Roosevelt would win the election on Nov. 4, and that the United States would be in the war before Christmas.

"Greatest Political Entity."

"Mr. Roosevelt's nomination will greatly consolidate public sentiment," Ferguson said. "America needs some big man to say 'this is the way we should go' and to lead her along. The effect of this attitude on the part of the greatest political entity in the world will be tremendous."

Ferguson added that the United States already has done a great deal for the British nations by supplying equipment, and that he personally had no desire to see it actively involved in the war because he felt it could do as much good for Britain by avoiding actual belligerency.

The view prevails that the Democratic party's attitude toward the war is more satisfactory from the Canadian viewpoint than the attitude of the Republican party.

Berlin Is Noncommittal.

BERLIN, July 18 (AP).—The German press was noncommittal today in its reaction to President Roosevelt's nomination for a third term. Editorial comment was confined to cautious evaluation of the Democratic foreign policy plank. Typical was the comment of the Hamburger Fremdenblatt, which told its readers that "the characteristic feature of the election platforms of American parties is that they are not adhered to in all points after one has taken office."

British Are "Satisfied."

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—British observers said today they were satisfied that, with the renomination of President Roosevelt, both the Republican and Democratic parties have candidates sympathetic to Britain's cause in the war. Said the London Daily Telegraph:

"A growing knowledge of what is at stake in our crusade was the strongest factor in the nomination of Mr. Willkie by the Republicans and in the call for Mr. Roosevelt to lead the Democrats again. Whatever the outcome of the November election, the President of the United States will be a vigorous leader who realizes that the liberties of the world are threatened, knows that we are fighting their battle, and desires to help us by every means for which his countrymen are prepared."

Capt. John R. Nygaard Enters Race for Congress

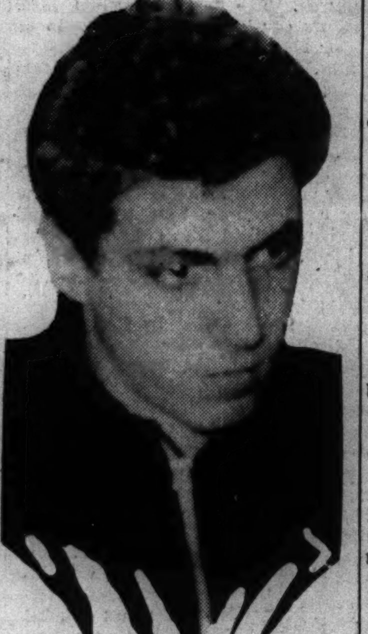
Eau Claire, Wis., July 18 [Special]. —Capt. John R. Nygaard, 49, United States army, retired, a graduate of West Point, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman from the 9th congressional district at the primary election next fall. Nygaard is a son of County Clerk John H. Nygaard, who has held that office 36 years. Congressman Merlin Hull, Black River Falls, Progressive, will be a candidate for renomination.

Sharon Corners Holstein Breeder Gored by Bull

Sharon, Wis., July 18 [Special].—Ben Schwartz, prominent Holstein breeder, was gored by a bull yesterday at his farm in Sharon Corners. His son, Howard, heard his father's call for help and drove the bull away. Schwartz is expected to recover.

Spurned; Kills Girl

Rita Wheaton, who was slain and thrown into creek by spurned suitor.



[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

Hugh B. Kenyon, who admitted slaying girl who refused to marry him.

Groton, Conn., July 18 (AP).—The body of Rita Wheaton, 18 years old, of Westerly, R. I., weighted down with heavy rocks, was found in a swift running stream about five miles east of here today. Lieut. Arthur T. Whitmarsh of the state police said Hugh B. Kenyon, 20, of Pawcatuck had been charged with murder in connection with her death.

Kenyon, who was arrested after police had been called by a Pawcatuck priest, admitted, Whitmarsh said, that he bludgeoned the girl with a blackjack after she refused his pleas to marry him and dragged her 42 feet from his parked automobile to the brook.

A white belt was fastened tightly about her throat and, pending an autopsy, authorities were unable to say whether death was caused by the beating, strangulation or drowning.

Kenyon, who was ordered held without bail until the investigation is completed, is the son of Mrs. Mabel Kenyon, who on June 11, 1920, shot and killed Dr. Herbert Tetlow, a Stonington physician of whom she was enamored. In her statements she said she slew him because he was tired of her. She was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to 10 years in prison. In 1926 she was released.

FRIENDSHIP OF NEW FRANCE IS OFFERED TO U. S.

VICHY, France, July 18 (AP).—France will continue her "traditional friendship" with the United States, Foreign Minister Paul Baudoin declared today in a published statement.

Declaring England had severed the last bonds linking her with France, Baudoin said "henceforth we are free to take our decisions as regards her; France will reply blow for blow to each of her aggressions."

"We shall continue to show towards the United States our traditional friendship, which has lost none of its sincerity," he added.

The Petain government announced that hereafter any naturalized citizen can be deprived of French nationality by simply publishing a decree. To help refugees, a moratorium until Nov. 1 was granted on payments of rents on homes they were forced to flee.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ASKS PARTY TO DO CAMPAIGNING

Flies to City for Speech at Convention.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, flew to Chicago from Washington last evening to address the Democratic convention; spent seven hours in the city, then returned to Washington in her chartered airplane. Her visit was made on the advice of Postmaster General Farley, chief party strategist.

Entering the Chicago Stadium on the arm of Farley, Mrs. Roosevelt was greeted with thunderous cheers as she stepped to the microphone. Observers on the platform commented that she had accomplished a dual purpose. She soothed the feelings of delegates ruffled in the fight over the Vice Presidential nomination, and served as a drawing card, keeping many delegates in their places who might otherwise have gone home to listen to the President's radio speech later in the evening.

Asks Party to Bear Burden.

Mrs. Roosevelt made a dramatic plea that party workers bear the burden of the election campaign because Mr. Roosevelt "must stay on the job" in Washington. The President's wife spoke slowly and gravely.

She was introduced at a psychological moment, just as the Vice Presidential balloting was about to start. She said she did not carry a message from the President, but that he would deliver his message himself.

Then, apparently referring to her husband's third term candidacy in violation of political tradition, she continued:

"I know and you know that any man within that office of great responsibility today faces a heavier responsibility perhaps than any man has ever faced before in this country.

A Serious, Solemn Thing.

"Therefore, to be a candidate of either great political party is a very serious and a very solemn thing. You cannot treat him as you would treat an ordinary nominee in an ordinary time. This year the candidate who is the President of the United States cannot make a campaign in the usual sense of the word.

"You will have to rise above considerations of partisanship. You must know that this is the time when all men and women must give every bit of strength to their country that they have to give."

The situation, Mrs. Roosevelt concluded, can be carried only by a "united people who love their country and have the determination that their party shall be absolutely devoted to the good of the nation."

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at Chicago air port in the chartered American Airlines plane at 6:15 p. m.

Accompanied by Her Son.

The only other passenger was her third son, Franklin. Farley met them and before starting for the Stadium arranged an interview with Mrs. Roosevelt for newspaper women.

She was rushed to the Stevens hotel where she drank an orangeade and posed for cameramen before going to the Stadium in a big black sedan, one of the official convention cars. An escort of policemen and secret service men accompanied her.

7 PERSONS HURT IN STRIKE RIOT; 5 ARE POLICEMEN

New York, July 18 [Special].—Seven persons, five of them policemen, were injured today when a riot developed in City Hall park as a climax to 11 weeks of picketing the office of Golding Brothers, textile manufacturers, on Lower Broadway.

More than 1,000 union members staged the demonstration and before the flow of traffic was restored to Broadway and normal activities resumed 20 of the demonstrators had been arrested. One of the injured was badly hurt.

The picketing and demonstration were an outgrowth of a strike of office workers. Picketing has been on a small scale until yesterday, when about 500 persons were loaned to the strikers by local 65 of the United Wholesale & Warehouse employés [C. I. O.] during their lunch hour.

Traffic was stopped on Broadway yesterday when police arrested five persons before the crowd was dispersed. Today the demonstrators shouted against "police brutality," asserted their right to picket, and demanded to see Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, who was at his summer city hall in Queens.

OUSTED TEACHER FIGHTS IN COURT OVER BOOK LISTS

Portland, Ind., July 18 (AP).—Indiana's "Scopes trial" opened today in Jay Circuit court with a jury of 10 men and two women charged with the responsibility of determining whether "Stars Fell on Alabama" should be read by high school sophomores.

Controversy has raged in nearby Redkey since October, 1938, and after several delays has reached the court thru a suit asking reinstatement of Walter Phinney, a teacher, and judgment of $1,000 in salary.

Defendants in the suit—the Redkey school board—allege Phinney lent improper books to his pupils. School board lawyers indicated in opening statements they would submit Carl Carmer's "Stars Fell on Alabama," widely read collection of sketches describing superstitions of "poor whites" and Negroes, as evidence in support of their contention.

SWISS ARE GIVEN WARNING ABOUT HOARDING CASH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, July 18.—An indirect warning against hoarding money was issued today by the Swiss National bank. In a published statement the bank said: "Whoever continues to hoard money in bank safes or at home is acting against the public interest and giving bad service to his country."

Urging that the country unite to "see that business goes well again," the bank urged steps to see that "production is taken up on a larger scale and that unemployment will no longer threaten our workmen."

In order to do this, the bank said, private enterprise must have cheap money at its disposal. It urged that money withdrawn from banks in the recent crisis be returned so loans to the public and private institutions, "which are so much in need of them," can be made at lower rates than are possible now because of the heavy withdrawals.

British Seize Treasurer of Settlement Council

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Home Secretary Sir John Anderson announced in the house of commons today the detention of Capt. Gordon Canning, who gained attention last March in connection with a purported German peace offer repudiated by the German legation. Canning is treasurer of the British council for Christian Settlement in Europe.

GOVERNOR OF BADEN APPOINTED GERMAN OVERSEER OF ALSACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 18.—Germans today were celebrating the "liberation of Alsace." The Essener National zeitung announced that the civil administration of Alsace has been entrusted to Robert Wagner, the governor of Baden, and that German authorities have opened offices in Strasbourg.

It was reported only 12,000 of the normal 200,000 population of Strasbourg have returned, but it was said that "until the Alsatians return, reconstruction work is entrusted to natives of Baden, who are of a similar race." It is hoped that by July 22 the more important bridges over the Rhine will have been repaired and train service from Germany to Alsace can be resumed.

Nazi newspapers expressed indignation over complaints of the Paris newspaper Temps which is alarmed about developments in France and about the outlook for France next winter if no measures are taken to bring in the harvest before it is ruined. Nazi papers assert that the armistice commission is giving consideration to "the real economic needs of France, but that any French wish for concessions in regard to France's military or political position cannot be considered."

Hit and Run Victim Dies; Young Motorist Accused

Bloomington, Ill., July 18 [Special]. —Perry Mann, 22 year old railroad employé, was charged with manslaughter after Peggy Bowman, 14 years old, a hit and run victim, died this morning in a hospital. The girl was injured last Friday night when an automobile struck the bicycle on which she and a schoolmate were riding and sped away. Mann surrendered on Sunday.

TEXT OF SPEECH TO CONVENTION FROM PRESIDENT

Delegates Hear Leader Accept by Radio.

commentators and interpreters who will seek to misinterpret or question motives, I speak in a somewhat personal vein, and I must trust to the good faith and common sense of the American people to accept my own good faith—and do their own interpreting.

Tells 2 Term Intention.

"When, in 1936, I was chosen by the voters for a second time as President, it was my firm intention to turn over the responsibilities of government to other hands at the end of my term. That conviction remained with me. Eight years in the Presidency, following a period of bleak depression, and covering one world crisis after another, would normally entitle any man to the relaxation which comes from honorable retirement.

"During the spring of 1939 world events made it clear to all but the blind or the partisan that a great war in Europe had become not merely a possibility but a probability, and that such a war would of necessity deeply affect the future of this nation.

"When the conflict first broke out last September, it was still my intention to announce clearly and simply, at an early date, that under no conditions would I accept reëlection. This fact was well known to my friends, and I think was understood by many citizens.

WAR CRISIS INTERVENES

"It soon became evident, however, that such a public statement on my part would be unwise from the point of view of sheer public interest. As President of the United States, it was my duty, with the aid of the congress, to preserve our neutrality, to shape our program of defense, to meet rapid changes, to keep our domestic affairs adjusted to shifting world conditions, and to sustain the policy of the good neighbor.

"It was also my obvious duty to maintain to the utmost the influence of this mighty nation in our effort to prevent the spread of war, and to sustain by all legal means, those governments threatened by other governments which had rejected the principles of democracy.

Tells Need of Swift Action.

"Swiftly moving foreign events made necessary swift action at home and beyond the seas. Plans for national defense had to be expanded and adjusted to meet new forms of warfare. American citizens and their welfare had to be safeguarded in many foreign zones of danger. National unity in the United States became a crying essential in the face of the development of unbelievable types of espionage and international treachery.

"Every day that passed called for the postponement of personal plans and partisan debate until the latest possible moment. The normal conditions under which I would have made public declaration of my personal desires were gone.

COMPLIMENTED BY CALL

"Thinking solely of the national good and of the international scene, I came to the reluctant conclusion that such declaration should not be made before the national convention. It was accordingly made to you within an hour after the permanent organization of the convention.

"Like any other man, I am complimented by the honor you have done me. But I know you will understand the spirit in which I say that no call of party alone would prevail upon me to accept reëlection to the presidency.

"The real decision to be made in these circumstances is not the acceptance of a nomination, but rather an ultimate willingness to serve if chosen by the electorate. Many considerations enter into this decision.

Recalls Others' Sacrifices

"During the last few months, with due congressional approval, we have been taking steps to implement the total defense of America. I cannot forget that in carrying out this program I have drafted into the service of the nation many men and women, taking them away from important private occupations, calling them suddenly from their homes and their businesses. I have asked them to leave their own work, and to contribute their skill and experience to the cause of their nation.

"I, as the head of their government, have asked them to do this. Regardless of party, regardless of personal convenience, they came—they answered the call. Every single one of them, with one exception, has come to Washington to service.

"These people, who have placed patriotism above all else, represent those who have made their way to the top of their professions or industries thru proven skill and experience.

NEEDS OF DEFENSE

"But they alone could not be enough to meet the needs of the times.

"Just as a system of national defense based on man power alone, without the mechanized equipment of modern warfare, is totally insufficient for adequate defense, so also planes and guns and tanks are wholly insufficient unless they are implemented by the power of men trained to use them.

"Such man power consists not only of pilots and gunners and infantry and those who operate tanks. For every individual in actual combat service, it is necessary for adequate defense that we have ready at hand at least four or five other trained individuals organized for noncombat services.

"Because of the millions of citizens involved in the conduct of defense, most right thinking persons are agreed that some form of selection by draft is as necessary and as fair today as it was in 1917 and 1918.

"Nearly every American is willing to do his share or her share to defend the United States. It is neither just nor efficient to permit the task to fall upon any one section or any one group. For every section and every group depend for their existence upon the survival of the nation as a whole.

"Lying awake, as I have, on many nights, I have asked myself whether I have the right, as commander in chief of the army and navy, to call on men and women to serve their country or to train themselves to serve and, at the same time, decline to serve my country in my own personal capacity, if I am called upon to do so by the people of my country.

FREE CHOICE LOST

"In times like these—in times of great tension, of great crisis—the compass of the world narrows to a single fact. The fact which dominates our world is the fact of armed aggression, the fact of successful armed aggression, aimed at the form of government, the kind of society we in the United States have chosen and established for ourselves. It is a fact which no one any longer doubts—which no one is any longer able to ignore.

"It is not an ordinary war. It is a revolution imposed by force of arms, which threatens all men everywhere. It is a revolution which proposes not to set men free but to reduce them to slavery—to reduce them to slavery in the interest of a dictatorship which has already shown the nature and the extent of the advantage which it hopes to obtain.

First Obligation to Serve.

"This is the fact which dominates our world and which dominates the lives of all of us. In the face of the danger which confronts our time, no individual retains or can hope to retain the right of personal choice which free men enjoy in times of peace. He has a first obligation to serve in the defense of our institutions of freedom—a first obligation to serve his country in whatever capacity his country finds him useful.

"Like most men of my age, I had made plans for myself, plans for a private life of my own choice and for my own satisfaction, to begin in January, 1941. These plans, like so many other plans, had been made in a world which now seems as distant as another planet. Today all private plans, all private lives have been repealed by an over-riding public danger. In the face of that public danger all those who can be of service to the republic have no choice but to offer themselves for service in those capacities for which they may be fitted.

"Those are the reasons why I have had to admit to myself, and now to state to you, that my conscience will not let me turn my back upon a call to service.

ONLY THE PEOPLE DRAFT

"The right to make that call rests with the people thru the American method of a free election. Only the people themselves can draft a President. If such a draft should be made upon me, I say, in the utmost simplicity, I will, with God's help, continue to serve with the best of my ability and with the fullness of my strength.

"To you, the delegates to this convention, I express my gratitude for the selection of Henry Wallace for the high office of Vice President of the United States. His first hand knowledge of the problems of government in every sphere of life and in every part of the nation—and indeed of the whole world—qualifies him without reservation. His practical idealism will be of great service to me individually and to the nation as a whole.

Sends Greetings to Farley.

"And to the chairman of the national committee and postmaster general—my old friend Jim Farley—I send, as I have often before, my affectionate greetings. All of us are sure that he will continue to give all the leadership and support he possibly can to the cause of American democracy.

"In some respects the next few months will be different from the usual national campaigns of recent years.

"Most of you know how important it is that the President in these days remain close to the seat of government. Since last summer I have been compelled to abandon proposed journeys to inspect many of our national projects from the Alleghenies to the Pacific coast.

"Events move so fast in other parts of the world that it has become my duty to remain either in the White House or at some nearby point where I can reach Washington and even Europe and Asia by direct telephone—where, if need be, I can be back at my desk in the space of a very few hours.

Must Remain Near Congress.

"In addition, the splendid work of the new defense machinery will require me to spend vastly more time in conference with the responsible administrative heads under me. Finally, the added task which the present crisis has imposed upon the congress, compelling them to forego their usual adjournment, calls for constant coöperation between the executive and legislative branches, to the efficiency of which I am glad now to pay tribute.

"I do expect, of course, during the coming months to make my usual periodic reports to the country thru the medium of press conferences and radio talks. I shall not have the time or the inclination to engage in purely political debate. But I shall never be loathe to call the attention of the nation to deliberate or unwitting falsifications of fact, which are sometimes made by political candidates.

"I have spoken to you in a very informal and personal way. The exigencies of the day require, however, that I also talk with you about things which transcend any personality and go deeply to the roots of American civilization.

BASIS OF AMERICANISM

"Our lives have been based on those fundamental freedoms and liberties which we have cherished for a century and a half. The establishment of them and the preservation of them in each succeeding generation have been accomplished thru the process of free elective government—the democratic-republican form, based on the representative system and the coördination of the executive, the legislative, and the judicial branches.

"The task of safeguarding our institutions is twofold. One must be accomplished, if it becomes necessary, by the armed defense forces of the nation. The other, by the united effort of the men and women of the country, to make our federal and state and local governments responsive to the growing requirements of modern democracy.

"There have been occasions when reactions in the march of democracy have set in, and forward-looking progress has seemed to stop.

Calls Régime One of Progress.

"But such periods have been followed by liberal and progressive times which have enabled the nation to catch up with new developments in fulfilling new human needs. Such a time has been the past seven years. Because we had seemed to lag in previous years, we have had to develop, speedily and efficiently, the answers to aspirations which had come from every state and every family in the land.

"We have sometimes called it social legislation; we have sometimes called it legislation to end abuses of the past; we have sometimes called it legislation for human security; and we have sometimes called it legislation to better the condition of life of the many millions of our fellow citizens who could not have the essentials of life or hope for an American standard of living.

"Some have labeled it a wider and more equitable distribution of wealth in our land. It has included among its aims, to liberalize and broaden the control of vast industries—lodged today in the hands of a relatively small group of individuals of very great financial powers.

FOUND IN ALL CLASSES

"All of these definitions and labels are essentially the expression of one consistent thought. They represent a constantly growing sense of human decency thruout our nation.

"This sense of human decency is happily confined to no group or class. You find it in the humblest home. You find it among those who toil, and among the shop keepers and the farmers of the nation. You find it, to a growing degree, even among those who are listed in that top group which has so much control over the industrial and financial structure of the nation. Therefore, this urge of humanity can by no means be labeled a war of class against class. It is rather a war against poverty and suffering and ill health and insecurity, in which all classes are joining in the interest of a sound and enduring democracy.

"I do not believe for a moment that we have fully answered all of the needs of human security. But we have covered much of the road. I need not catalog the milestones of seven years. For every individual and every family in the whole land knows that the average of their personal lives has been made safer and sounder and happier than it has ever been before. I do not think they want the gains in these directions to be repealed or even to be placed in charge of those who would give them mere lip service with no heart service. apply to poor and rich alike.

"Very much more remains to be done, and I think the voters want the task entrusted to those who believe that the words 'human betterment' apply to poor and rich alike.

"And I have a sneaking suspicion, too, that voters will smile at charges of inefficiency against a government which has boldly met the enormous problems of banking, finance, and industry which the great efficient bankers and industrialists of the Republican party left in such hopeless chaos in 1933.

DANGERS FROM ABROAD

"But we all know that our progress at home and in the other American nations toward this realization of a better human decency—progress along free lines—is gravely endangered by what is happening on other continents. In Europe, many nations, thru dictatorships or invasions, have been compelled to abandon normal democratic processes. They have been compelled to adopt forms of government which some call 'new and efficient.'

"They are not new; they are only a relapse—a relapse into ancient history. The omnipotent rulers of the greater part of modern Europe have guaranteed efficiency, and work, and a type of security.

"But the slaves who built the pyramids for the glory of the Pharaohs of Egypt had that kind of security, that kind of efficiency, that kind of corporative state.

Calls Tyranny Discredited.

"So did the inhabitants of that world which extended from Britain to Persia under the undisputed rule of the proconsuls sent from Rome.

"So did the henchmen, the tradesmen, the mercenaries and the slaves of the feudal system which dominated Europe a thousand years ago.

"So did the people of those nations of Europe who received their kings and their government at the whim of the conquering Napoleon.

"Whatever its new trappings and new slogans, tyranny is the oldest and most discredited rule known to history. And whenever tyranny has replaced a more human form of government it has been due more to internal causes than external. Democracy can thrive only when it enlists the devotion of those whom Lincoln called the common people. It can hold that devotion only when it adequately respects their dignity by so ordering society as to assure to the masses of men and women reasonable security and hope for themselves and for their children.

LIBERTY OUR CREDO

"We in our democracy, and those who live in still unconquered democracies, will never willingly descend to any form of this so-called security of efficiency which calls for the abandonment of other securities more vital to the dignity of man. It is our credo—unshakeable to the end—that we must live under the liberties that were first heralded by Magna Carta and placed into glorious operation thru the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Bill or Rights.

"The government of the United States for the past seven years has had the courage openly to oppose by every peaceful means the spread of the dictator form of government. If our own government passes to other hands next January—untried hands, inexperienced hands—we can merely hope and pray that they will not substitute appeasement and compromise with those who seek to destroy all democracies everywhere.

Expresses Pride in Record.

"I would not undo, if I could, the efforts I made to prevent war from the moment it was threatened and to restrict the area of carnage, down to the last minute. I do not now soften the condemnation expressed by Secretary Hull and myself from time to time for the acts of aggression that have wiped out ancient liberty-loving, peace-pursuing countries which had scrupulously maintained neutrality. I do not recant the sentiments of sympathy with all free peoples resisting such aggression, or begrudge the material aid given them. I do not regret my consistent endeavor to awaken this country to the menace for us and for all we hold dear.

"I have pursued these efforts in the face of appeaser fifth columnists who charged me with hysteria and war mongering. But I felt it my duty to arouse my countrymen to the danger of the new forces loose in the world.

"So long as I am President, I will do all I can to insure that that foreign policy remain our foreign policy.

"All that I have done to maintain the peace of this country and to prepare it morally, as well as physically, for whatever contingencies may be in store, I submit to the judgment of my countrymen.

FORESEES GREAT CHOICE

"We face one of the great choices of history.

"It is not alone a choice of government by the people versus dictatorship.

"It is not alone a choice of freedom versus slavery.

"It is not alone a choice between moving forward or falling back.

"It is all of these rolled into one.

"It is the continuance of civilization as we know it versus the ultimate destruction of all we have held dear—religion against godliness; the ideal of justice against the practice of force; moral decency versus the firing squad; courage to speak out and to act versus the false lullaby of appeasement.

"A selfish and greedy people can not be free.

Relies on the Record.

"The American people must decide whether these things are worth making sacrifices of money, of energy, of self. They will not decide by listening to mere words or by reading mere pledges, interpretations, and claims. They will decide on the record—the record as it has been made—the record of things as they are.

"The American people will sustain the progress of a representative democracy, asking the divine blessing as they face the future with courage and with faith."

New York, July 18 [Special].—The United States liner Manhattan arrived here today with 798 passengers, most of them American citizens fleeing France.

Among those aboard was Betty Taft, 3½ years old, daughter of the United States vice consul at Algiers. She is on the way to her home at Palo Alto, Cal. Another was Anthony Essay, 6, en route to Chicago to live with an uncle.

Due to disorganized sanitation in war torn Europe, unusual health precautions were taken in admitting the Manhattan passengers. The ship was stopped in quarantine for medical inspection of all passengers, both citizens and aliens, and immigration physicians made further examinations as the liner moved into the bay.

Fish for Knowledge

Helen Ridgely, National College of Education senior, returning to Wilmette with fish she caught for study in classes.

Dr. David Russell decided yesterday that his science class should know what lies beneath the scales of a fish. So he loaded 40 girls of the National College of Education into a couple of boats and headed out into Wilmette harbor to catch specimens for the dissecting tables. The young women didn't know whether they were after teleostomi [true fish] or ordinary sardines, with or without olive oil. As things turned out, it was of little moment.

Miss Helen Ridgely managed to get one, however, and someone else hooked another. And the girls agreed it was a lot more fun than just sending to the corner market for teleostomi [true fish]—or a can of sardines.

PRESIDENT IRKED AS CONVENTION BOOS WALLACE

Doffs Coat as He Tells Nation He Accepts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 19, Friday.—Shortly after last midnight President Roosevelt took off his coat and faced a battery of microphones to tell a waiting, impatient nation finally that he would break all precedent and run for a third term.

It was a long, hard day at the White House, made more difficult by the President's turning hot and then cold on the idea of broadcasting to the convention. Timely implied threats that he might not accept the nomination unless the convention selected his candidate for the Vice Presidential nomination—Secretary Henry A. Wallace—undoubtedly sped the process along.

The only departure from his prepared address, which ran more than 3,500 words, was made when he verbally patted on the back Wallace and James A. Farley, outgoing chairman of the Democratic national committee. At the conclusion of his message to the convention, the President telephoned Wallace and told him to take a week off. He didn't call Farley.

Will Visit Hyde Park.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he probably would go to his boyhood home at Hyde Park, N. Y., on Saturday and remain for most of a week. The President obviously was tired as he spoke the precedent shattering words. He had been up until 3 a. m. yesterday listening to the proceedings of his renomination in Chicago and arose early to work on his reply to the convention.

The President canceled all engagements yesterday and closeted himself with his White House aids and his old friend and political adviser, Judge Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York State Supreme court. None of the President's family was at home as the President sat in his study with this group listening to the convention proceedings.

Advance copies of the message had been promised at 7 o'clock last evening and White House reporters kept vigil from that hour until the President's broadcast at 12:20 a. m. Secretary Stephen T. Early had told reporters that the President's acceptance or rejection of the nomination might well depend upon the Vice Presidential nominee.

Brings Tart Warning.

The President was displeased at the boos for Wallace which blared thru the White House radios and displayed this feeling in the tart warning that Wallace should be named on the first ballot if the convention wished to hear the third term answer tonight.

This word was soon carried to the convention and things began to happen. The President was on his way to the oval room in the basement for the broadcast before the balloting was completed. Within 5 minutes the President's message was released and five minutes later the President was on the air. After calling Wallace he promptly retired and left orders for no appointments today before noon.

Latest Kink for Spies; Code in a Blonde's Curls

HONOLULU, T. H., July 18 (AP).—Army officers learned today how secret agents could deliver code messages with the aid of a pretty woman's hairdress and the deft touch of a barber.

M. L. [Bill] Hix, a barber at Hickam field, America's largest airdrome in the Pacific, demonstrated his code, using Bunnie Paris, a bookkeeper, as a model.

With a system of curls and waves turning left and right, up and down, Hix wrote this message:

"Blow up power plant."

The barber said he could write 200 words in a single coiffure.

TRIPLE SMASHUP KILLS WOMAN; 9 IN CARS INJURED

Fireman's Auto One of Those in Crash.

A woman was killed and nine persons, five of them small children, were injured late yesterday in a smashup involving three automobiles at Devon avenue and the Northwest highway.

The victim was Mrs. Eva Dell Foster, 65 years old, of 905 North 4th avenue, Maywood. She was riding in a car driven by her daughter in law, Mrs. Laura Foster, of the same address.

Fireman's Car Involved.

According to Jefferson Park police, the Foster car, going west, was struck by the car of Fire Lieutenant Frank Kiecal, 4146 North Meade avenue, who was traveling southeast on Northwest highway. The impact pushed Mrs. Foster's car into the parked auto of Victor Mertes of Des Plaines.

Mrs. Eva Foster died of her injuries in Swedish Covenant hospital. A passenger in the Foster car, Mrs. Gertrude Krizek, 837 South 19th avenue, Maywood, was confined to the hospital by injuries. Mrs. Krizek's three children, Mrs. Laura Foster and her two children, Lieut. Kiecal and Mertes received first aid.

Lieut. Kiecal signed a complaint charging Mrs. Laura Foster with reckless driving.

Child Killed by Car.

Elizabeth Patterson, 3 years old, 917 10th street, Waukegan, Ill., died yesterday in St. Therese hospital at Waukegan of injuries suffered Wednesday night when she was struck by an automobile as she ran into the street in front of the home of her grandmother at 1549 Victoria street, North Chicago. Her death was the first traffic fatality of the year in North Chicago. Joseph Rygiel of North Chicago was the driver of the car.

Mrs. Mary Hoag, 65 years old, 3819 Adams street, died in Little Company of Mary hospital last night of injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile collision.

Mrs. Josephine M. Helweg, 62, Boonton, N. J., died in the Woodstock hospital of injuries incurred Sunday when a car driven by her husband, William, collided with a motor bus near Richmond, in McHenry county. John J. Harding, 3416 North Oakley avenue, was the car driver.

Drives Into Post; Dies.

James Maher, 42, a city oiler, was injured fatally when his car crashed into a trolley post at 4605 South Halsted street. He lived at 4823 Union avenue.

Donald Parker, 28, of Aurora was killed when his car plunged off highway 25 in Lake Charles and struck a culvert.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 456 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 344 were killed in Chicago, where 12,242 were injured in the same period.

DRIVER GETS 30 DAYS IN JAIL AFTER FATAL INJURY OF PEDESTRIAN

Gerald Ruble, an unemployed musician whose automobile was involved in a fatal accident June 30 when he turned to talk to a passenger in the car, was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Safety court.

The charge against Ruble was leaving the scene of an accident. It was testified Ruble's inattention caused him to pass a stoplight, hit a parked car, and run over the curb at 59th and Halsted streets. The auto struck a pedestrian, Miss Sabina Tague, 50, of 7613 Aberdeen street. She died of her injuries.

Ruble was put on probation for a year on a charge of reckless driving. His driving privileges were suspended for six months.

CANADA SEIZES DUTCH VESSEL; REPORT MUTINY

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., July 18 (AP).—Royal Canadian mounted police today seized the Dutch freighter Prins Willem II. as it entered the harbor from Sandusky, O. A detachment of mounted police signaled the vessel to tie up at the east harbor wall and then went aboard. They would not discuss the action.

Mutiny among non-Canadian members of the crew had been reported shortly before the ship arrived. These crewmen will be interned, it was reported. A dispatch from Sandusky last night said the vessel tied up there since June 9 because of a sailors' wage dispute.

Capt. Christian A. Van Der Eyck termed the dispute a pretext to prevent sailing for Canada for fear of internment. The crew was jailed at Sandusky but eight sailors called the dispute a "misunderstanding" and rejoined the ship. Immigration officials took 12 others to Detroit for possible deportation.

SLAYER OF GIRL ORDERED HELD TO GRAND JURY

'My Mind Snapped,' Says Tavern Porter.

Robert Schroeder, 26 years old, a tavern porter, confessed slayer of 8 year old Maizie Smith, was held to the grand jury for murder yesterday at a coroner's inquest at which police had to guard him from the child's father and family friends.

The body of the child, beaten with a furnace shaker and a disconnected water faucet, was found behind a boiler in the basement of a tavern at 2850 North Central avenue, where Schroeder lives and is employed. Her home was at 2913 North Parkside avenue.

Won't Testify at Inquest.

Schroeder, after signing a confession dictated to Assistant State's Attorney Blair Varnes, refused to testify at the inquest.

"You know everything you have to," he said.

In his confession he said that he had gone to the basement to wash himself when the girl appeared. He was fully dressed.

"My mind snapped," he said. "I remember grabbing something and hitting her with it. I don't remember anything more until I got out in the rear yard and my mind cleared."

Joins Search for Child.

Schroeder joined in the search for the child after her parents, Harold, 33, a milk wagon driver, and Gertrude, 32, reported her missing. He was taken into custody after Sergts. Francis Donohue and Oliver Karwoski of the coroner's staff noticed blood on his clothing. His first confession was made to them and to Lieut. William Hanrahan of the Cragin police.

Sergt. Karwoski said that Schroeder was to be given a sanity test today by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, head of the county behavior clin .

"We feel that he is obviously sane," Karwoski said, "but we are puzzled by his own inability to assign any possible motive for his act. He is not overburdened with intelligence, but he is a graduate of Lane Technical High school. He is obviously evasive and not telling the truth."

Karwoski said that Schroeder had no record for psychopathic tendencies and that there were no recent complaints to Cragin police of women or children being molested in the district.

Believed Model Young Man.

The slayer was regarded as a quiet, well behaved young man by Mrs. Mollie Hossman, 47, who with her husband, Ernest, manages the tavern.

"Robert never evinced interest in women or girls and had almost no associates," she said. "He was honest in money matters. His recreation was in walks and movies. He did not drink. He slept in rooms adjoining the tavern and appeared to lead a quiet existence. I regarded him as a model young man."

As Schroeder was led in handcuffed at the inquest, Smith, his brother Phillip of 3451 North Tripp avenue, and E. F. Van Kessel, 562 Byrd road, Riverside, manager of the dairy where Smith is employed, attempted to get at him, but were restrained.

Dr. Paul Schmitt, coroner's physician, testified that the child's death was due to skull fracture. He said she had been injured but not raped.

Schroeder in 1937 was sentenced to 90 days in the Bridewell for obtaining money under false pretenses and a year later was sentenced to serve two concurrent sentences of six months for petty larceny.

HULL AND AIDS GO TO PAN-AMERICAN PARLEYS IN CUBA

Face Grave Difficulties at Conference Table.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull and a group of financial and economic experts left the capital this afternoon for Havana, Cuba, where the whole future of inter-American relations may be decided at a conference next week between the United States and its 21 sister republics.

Gravely aware of the severe test which awaits North American diplomacy, Secretary Hull said that the American republics will approach their task "in a spirit of complete friendliness toward all nations, demonstrating their will to conduct international relations on the basis of peace and friendship."

Hull Outlines Purposes.

"The American republics will deal with their problems realistically in the light both of emergency needs and broad objectives," he declared. "The major purpose of the Havana meeting is full and free consultation among the American republics with respect to the conditions, problems, difficulties, and dangers confronting each of them.

"The complete exchange of information enables each government thoroly to understand the problems, needs, and viewpoints of the others."

Translating this language into blunt English, the problem confronting the secretary of state is this:

"Can the Americas get together to repel invasion?"

A realistic view compels the admission by this government's representatives that great difficulties lie in the way of the achievement of their mission. A chronic suspicion lurks in some South American countries regarding the purity of the United States' motives. This suspicion has been nursed by Nazi agents, who will be at Havana in numbers, according to reports.

Three general subjects—neutrality, protection of the peace of the western hemisphere, and economic cooperation—will be discussed at the conference, the title of which is the "Consultative Congress of Foreign Ministers of the Americas."

Experts in Party.

Secretary Hull took with him more than 15 authorities in finance, economics, and cultural relations. Among them are Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle, who is the sponsor of the plan to set up a pool of the export surpluses of foodstuffs and raw materials of all the American nations—the so-called "cartel" program.

The delegation will arrive in Miami, Fla., tomorrow afternoon and proceed by boat to Havana, arriving Saturday. The conference will be officially opened Sunday.

BATISTA WARNS OF MANDATES OVER COLONIES

HAVANA, Cuba, July 18 (AP).—President-elect Col. Fulgencio Batista of Cuba cautioned tonight that the recently discussed question of establishing protectorates over European possessions in the western hemisphere must be handled with great care by the American ministers' conference.

"The peoples of America," Batista said, "are very jealous of their independence." He suggested that an arrangement for giving the peoples of European possessions in the Americas their independence might be more acceptable than establishing mandates.

Argentina to Shun Pacts.

BUENOS AIRES, July 18 (AP).—Foreign Minister José Maria Cantilo indicated tonight Argentina's delegates to the Pan-American defense consultations opening in Havana Sunday were opposed to possible military pacts or mandates for western hemisphere possessions of defeated European powers.

ARMY WILL TRY ITS HAND WITH CHUTIST TROOPS

Forms Experimental Unit of Volunteers.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Formation of an experimental unit of parachute troops and plans for mass training of air corps bombardment crews were disclosed today by the war department.

The war department announced that a test platoon of two officers and 48 men, chosen from volunteers in the 29th infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., would undergo parachute training from July 29 thru Aug. 3 at the Safe Parachute company, Hightstown, N. J., near Fort Dix.

Army air corps men and representatives of the parachute company will instruct the men.

Might Form a Nucleus.

Altho the department said the tests would be "purely experimental," it was indicated that the platoon might become the nucleus of larger units after further study of use of parachute troops in European fighting.

In conjunction with the air corps' program to train 7,000 pilots and 3,600 bombardiers and navigators a year, the army announced that a school for multiengine combat crews would be opened next March 15 at Ellington field, world war pilot training center near Houston, Tex.

Such training has been given in the past, but not in specialized schools.

An appropriation of $1,687,800 has been provided for hangars and barracks at Ellington field, and the school will accomodate 555 students when completed, in addition to a garrison of 200 officers and 1,279 enlisted men.

Bombardiers will be given 10 weeks of training.

Inspired by Europe.

The experiment with parachute troops marks a further step toward rebuilding the army along European lines. Already two armored divisions similar to Germany's hard hitting "panzer" divisions have been organized.

In military circles, it was understood that the army might soon undertake experiments in transporting soldiers and artillery by transport plane.

European dispatches have indicated startling success for the Germans, in Scandinavia, Poland, and on the western front, in employing bombardment planes, parachute troops, and air transported infantry as a swift team to pierce strategic points beyond enemy lines.

At least 10 years ago the United States army air corps gave demonstrations in laying smoke screens and landing troops and automatic weapons behind the screen. No extensive exercises were undertaken, however.

Policy on Aircraft.

During the day, the war department announced that it does not intend to build aircraft factories but to obtain planes solely from private industry. It also said the same policy would be followed in procurement of munitions.

Congressional committees had suggested construction of 30 airplane frame factories and three engine factories.

MOST OF FRANCE'S ART TAKEN FROM ZONE OF WARFARE

VICHY, France, July 18 (AP).—The greater part of France's art treasures were removed at the outbreak of the war from Paris to departments out of German occupied territory and will remain French property, Jacques Jaujard, director of national museums, announced today. He said German authorities have assured the French that none of the art treasures will be harmed even if taken back to Paris.

SOCIAL HYGIENE LEAGUE TO AID IN DEFENSE PLANS

The Illinois Social Hygiene league will take an active part in the hygiene drive that will be a part of the national defense program, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, president of the league.

The campaign will have as its goal the reduction of prostitution and delinquency in areas where there are concentrations of armed forces or industrial workers. A survey to seek out and treat venereal diseases will be the first work to be launched, Dr. Schmidt stated.

The league's activities will be particularly important to Chicago, he continued, because of army and naval training areas and vast industrial works here. Several hygiene societies will be asked to take part.

PERILS MADE US YIELD TO JAPAN, CHURCHILL SAYS

Explains Closing of Trade Routes to China.

British Excited

LONDON, July 19 [Friday].—The British press today discussed the "peace drive" which Adolf Hitler purportedly is launching soon. The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph said the "peace offensive's" main features will be to "secure the economic isolation of Britain and deprive her of United States backing in her war effort." The drive, it was said, will be directed mainly at the other countries on the American continent, entail an offer to absorb Latin America's primary products, and specify that England would be confined to trade with her empire.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 18.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today told the house of commons why Great Britain had agreed, under Japanese pressure, to close the lifelines over which the goods of war flowed to China.

The hard fact, Churchill declared, is that Great Britain is involved in a life or death struggle and cannot afford to be distracted by critical problems in other parts of the world.

Further disclosing the peril of the situation at home, Churchill said he had urged members of his ministry who were closely connected with conduct of the war to sleep in their offices.

"The reasons for this are sufficiently obvious," the prime minister said.

Churchill likewise put his foot down on any large scale exodus from Britain to other countries. On this point, he asserted:

"I do not believe the military situation requires or justifies such a proceeding—having regard to the relative dangers of going and staying—nor, in fact, is it psysically possible."

Churchill suggested that the United States could play a helpful rôle by dispatching ships to Great Britain to carry out the transfer of children and others to safer lands.

Churchill said that Britain's agreement to close the Burma and Hongkong routes was only a temporary arrangement of three months duration.

"The time so gained may lead to a solution just and equitable to both Japan and China," he said.

"To agree to permanent closure of the routes would be to default from our obligations as a neutral and friendly power to China."

Britain, Churchill said, still wishes to see China a free nation, but the real situation is that "we ourselves are engaged in a life and death struggle."

Mounting Tension.

England's surrender to the Japanese demands was precipitated by the "rapidly growing tension" between the two countries over the continued passage of war goods to China thru Hongkong and over the Burma route, Churchill explained. This tension demanded that something be done, he said, and Britain did it.

Britain, in time of peace, will be most happy to negotiate with China for the abolition of extra-territorial rights, the "rendition" of concessions, and revisions of treaties "on a basis of reciprocity and equality," commons was told.

FORT GUNS SINK JAP WARSHIP, CHINESE REPORT

SHANGHAI, July 19 Friday (AP).—Chinese reports were heard here tonight that a Japanese warship was sunk and five others were damaged in a heavy gun duel with Chinese forts at the walled town of Chenhai, gateway to Ninghsien [Ningpo], south of Shanghai. The damaged ships were said to been forced to put out to sea, beyond range of the land batteries.

At the same time, Japanese reports, which contained no confirmation of the ship-fort fight, said Japanese bluejackets captured the walled town.

JAPAN'S 'BIG FOUR' OF NEW CABINET MEET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, July 19, Friday.—Japan's "big four"—Prince Fumimaro Konoe, Lieut.-Gen. Eiki Tojo, Vice Admiral Zengo Yoshida, and Yosuke Matsouka—who will guide the nation thru what is undoubtedly its most critical period met today for the first time to decide the broad outline of the new cabinet's policies.

It is regarded as virtually certain the government will abandon the more or less prodemocratic policies of previous cabinets. Abandonment of a policy of courting the United States and adoption of positive measures to consolidate Japan's position as the stabilizing factor in East Asia thru strengthening her ties with the Rome-Berlin axis are expected.

Whether this means an alliance is problematical and depends largely on the attitude of the United States and Britain.

They drink an extra glass of it every night at bedtime . . . to make them sleep better . . . to build up vitality. It works, science says, for three reasons:

1) You take the milk when your stomach is empty. Preventing hunger pangs, it helps you get more restful sleep.

2) It reduces the tax on your energy store that even sleeping takes. (Your body's need of fuel each sleeping hour is actually 40% of the average for all your waking, working hours! That's because your heart keeps pumping, breathing continues, "relaxed" muscles are always under tension.)

3) It gives your body, in easily digestible form, a greater variety of nutritional essentials than any other food can provide!

Fresh milk is outstanding as a source of calcium and vitamins A and G . . . three of the four food requisites needed in abundance for retaining what scientists call "the characteristics of youth."

GERMANY HAILS ARMY IN BERLIN VICTORY PARADE

Goebbels Warns People, 'War Not Over Yet.'

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Paul Joseph Goebbels.

BERLIN, July 18.—In the first victory parade Berlin has witnessed in this war, the division which started from the German capital on Sept. 3, was welcomed back today by millions of Berliners lining the streets. The commanding officer of the Berlin forces, Gen. Fromm, and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels in his capacity as provincial leader of the Berlin area, greeted the troops.

"The war is not over," Goebbels told the soldiers. "Its last phase must still be won. The bells of peace will peal—then we shall build a greater reich and a better Europe."

He gave assurance that "whoever opposes the freedom and the honor of the German reich will be smashed just as France was smashed."

Goebbels told the Germans that theirs is "the most modern army history has ever seen."

Release for Some.

He said that the "oldest" of the veterans would be released from the army, and the rest would be given leave before being recalled for "great tasks which still remain."

Workers from Berlin armament factories were among those on the stand near the Brandenburg gate as a reward for their hard work. Goebbels assured the soldiers that while they were fighting "we at home have been working as hard as it is humanly possible."

It was the sixth time in German history that Berlin regiments returning from war had passed thru the Brandenburg gate on their way to the castle at the other end of Unter den Linden, from the defeat of Napoleon in 1814 to Dec. 10, 1918, after the world war.

March for Three Hours.

For three hours soldiers and officers in field grey goosestepped or rode past Goebbels and the generals standing on platforms erected on the square beside the Brandenburg gate. Most of the soldiers rode on horseback, on bicycles, on motorcycles, on gun carriages, on trucks of all descriptions or on wagons, many of which looked like prairie schooners drawn by handsome Belgian heavy draft horses.

Some American observers were convinced that 12 of the howitzers which were hauled past were French 155 millimeter guns. Other observers said they were German guns which are similar to the French howitzer. All observers agreed that one small ammunition carrying tank was a French model and that some of the big trucks evidently were American trucks which had been sold to the French army.

Before the parade started, big trucks drove up, laden with baskets of flowers.

Even as throngs gathered along Unter den Linden the high command reported new and destructive bombing raids in Britain and announced German troops had occupied the French island of Ouessant, [Ushant], opposite England's Land's End and commanding the southern entrance to the English channel.

Nazi bombers, said the high command, attacked Britain's key military training center at Aldershot, 30 miles from London, and smashed at airports, industrial plants and harbors in southern and central England. Other raiding planes set afire several British vessels in the channel and Nazi warships "somewhere overseas" sank 30,000 additional tons of British shipping.

Among objectives reported hit by bombers were the airport at Tunbridge Wells, an industrial plant at Eastbourne, Portland harbor and a large armament factory at Greenock, Scotland.

SELASSIE COMES BACK TO EDGE OF HIS KINGDOM

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Haile Selassie, "King of Kings and Conquering Lion of Judah," is back tonight in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, just across the border from his Italian conquered Ethiopia, with Britain behind his dream to win back his kingdom.

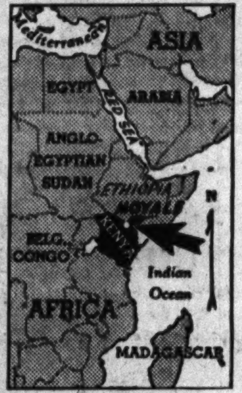
His return to Africa after four years of exile at Bath, England, came within a week after Britain again recognized him as the ruler of Ethiopia. The Negus and some of his greatest warriors have declared they only await arms to set off rebellion against their conquerors. Now there are reports that arms will be supplied.

Selassie's chieftains have said the half naked hill tribes are ready to fall upon their Italian overlords with only their native spears and knives. Selassie has named a commander in chief, Fitawari Berou, who left Jerusalem a month ago to contact the tribes.

TELL OF THIRSTY BRITONS' FLIGHT IN DESERT SIEGE

Slip Thru Italian Lines During the Night.

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Withdrawal by night of a battered, thirsty company of the king's African rifles, thru Italian lines about Moyale, British Kenya, after being besieged for more than two weeks was described in British military circles today.



Arrow locates Moyale, from which British fled.

They made their way to the safety of a British reënforcement column Sunday night. The British held on to Moyale, a colorful oasis with buildings of red clay on the edge of the Ethiopian desert, from June 28 until July 14, despite heavy Italian shelling. Two attacks, supported by artillery, were turned back on June 28 and July 5.

British bombers smashed Italian communications and a British column rushed out to relieve the post.

Run Short of Water.

But by July 11 the beleaguered garrison faced a new danger—lack of water. Wells ran low. The rescuers took their position on a ridge where their weapons covered the fort. Tho the fort is a strong one, it is dominated by several hillside points in Italian territory. Dense bush enabled Italian forces to move easily to concealed positions.

On the night of July 14, after a day of sporadic fighting, remnants of the besieged company, traveling light, slipped thru Italian lines and gained the safety of the British position.

British Bomb Moyale.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 18 (AP).—The Royal air force reported today a bombing raid on Italian held Moyale, border outpost between Britain's Kenya colony and Ethiopia, in which direct hits were scored on "the camp and surrounding buildings."

The British also reported air attacks on Tobruk harbor, Libya, and Agordat, in Italian East Africa, where a hangar was said to have been destroyed by direct hits.

Pursue British Troops.

ROME, July 18 (AP).—Italian troops and planes pursued British forces, in flight from their border outpost of Moyale, toward Buna, in Kenya colony, the Italian high command reported today. It claimed motorized columns were machine gunned and scattered, and that arms, munitions and troop transport trucks were captured.

The high command also reported further Italian air bombardments of the Mersa Matruh zone in Egypt and the Wajir airfield in Kenya. One English plane was said to have been shot down while bombing the Italian camp of Agordat.

BRITAIN TO HONOR WOMAN WHO SAVED PILOT AFTER CRASH

LONDON, July 18—For her courage in rescuing an injured pilot from a burning plane, Joan Daphne Mary Pearson, 29 year old corporal in the women's auxiliary air force will be awarded a military division medal of the order of the British empire.

The official citation says that altho aware there were bombs in the burning plane she stood in the wreckage, roused the stunned pilot, who released his parachute harness, and pulled him 30 yards away before one of the bombs went off.

Miss Pearson is the first member of the women's auxiliary air force to be honored for bravery.

Heils Hitler to Scottish Judge, Gets Extra 30 Days

GREENOCK, Scotland, July 18 (AP).—The judge didn't appreciate the manner in which William Bennet, merchant seaman, expressed his gratitude for a 30 day sentence for disobeying orders. Flinging his arm out in the Nazi salute Bennet shouted: "Thank you, sir; heil Hitler!" "Thirty days additional," shouted the judge.

Call Up Air Raid Wardens for Duty in Hongkong

HONGKONG, July 18 (AP).—Civilian air raid wardens were summoned for active service today as this British crown colony moved nearer a full emergency basis. Sandbagging of public buildings was expanded. Vital points were barricaded with barbed wire.

BELIEVE VATICAN TURNS TO FAVOR DICTATOR RULE

Shift Seen in Its Praise for Marshal Petain.

VATICAN CITY, July 18 (AP).—Praise in the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano recently for "good Marshal" Henri Philippe Petain, chief of the new French state, is considered by diplomats here as showing a more favorable attitude toward totalitarian régimes.

Vatican authorities declined to comment on the newspaper's observations, which included a statement that "the principle of authority" is higher than "the human will," which is "intolerant of restrictions and has attempted to overstep all limits, first with criticism and then with revolution."

German Officials Satisfied.

Foreign circles considered this passage a reference to social-political questions.

[German foreign office circles expressed marked satisfaction yesterday over what they regarded as a complete about face by the Vatican in its position toward totalitarian states.]

L'Osservatore compared one aim of dictatorship with that of the church in commenting on a set of principles enunciated by Premier Antonio Salazar of Portugal, a Catholic.

Likens Aims to Church's.

Salazar, the paper said, "sees the authoritarian régime turned to the purpose" of creating "a civic conscience which opens and prepares the way for spreading and strengthening the moral conscience."

That also "is the desire, aspiration and program of the church," L'Osservatore stated.

Turning to the totalitarian movement in France, L'Osservatore said "the foremost political problem of any people which does not want to die" is to cultivate a spirit which "will be able to impose the supremacy of the common good over private interests of individuals, groups and parties."

Praise for Marshal Petain.

Praising Petain as "the good Marshal," L'Osservatore said "it is from this old octogenarian that 20 year olds are asking the renovation of their country."

France's "spiritual regeneration," the newspaper added, would be the dawn of "a new, radiant day, not only for France but for all Europe and the world."

British to Train Youths as Engineers, Electricians

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—British youths 18½ to 19½, the war office announced today, will be enlisted for engineering and electrical corps training after enrollment in the infantry and a month's military drill.

REPORT GERMAN SOLDIERS PACK SPANISH CITIES

Refugees on U. S. Liner Tell of Sight.

New York, July 18 (AP).—A concerted movement into Spain of German soldiers—openly armed, uniformed and mechanically equipped—today was reported observed by Americans who fled troubled Europe thru the Spanish peninsula.

Many said that they saw "thousands of Nazi soldiers" entering Bilbao by armored car, as well as choking the streets of Barcelona and crowding the hotels of other Spanish cities.

These first hand reports from American citizens, who arrived home on the liner Manhattan, came but a day after Francisco Franco, Spain's chief of state, had served notice on Great Britain that he intended to return Gibraltar to Spain.

Today, dispatches came from Europe telling of the first Gibraltar casualties in bombings by planes from unidentified bases and of unknown nationality.

Saw Soldiers Everywhere.

One of the 799 Manhattan passengers, Henry Copley Greene, 68 year old editor of a historical magazine in Boston, said:

"In my travels thru Spain I saw German soldiers everywhere. Barcelona was flooded with German officers—in full uniform and carrying sidearms. There was talk everywhere of Spain getting Gibraltar back from the British. The Spanish people do not want to fight but their leaders have been influenced by the Germans."

Other passengers reported "swastikas everywhere."

"I saw several thousand German soldiers enter Bilbao in armored cars," said Charles Wright of St. Paul, Minn., who fled the German invasion of Paris.

Saluted the Citizens.

"They saluted the citizens as they drove down the streets. A few days later a part of what I think must have been the German general staff entered the city in French automobiles. They continued south."

Wright said he stayed at a Bilbao hotel which was a meeting place of Nazis.

Charles Findley, Pathe news representative in Paris, reported "More swastikas in Madrid than in all Germany." High powered German cars, he said, roamed thru Spain.

Laugh at British Song.

In Spanish cafés, he said, German officers rocked with laughter when musicians ironically played the British war song, "We Are Going to Hang Our Washing on the Siegfried Line."

The Manhattan was the last ship sent by the state department to remove American refugees.

Two hundred of the passengers were penniless when they reached New York. Sixty-eight passengers were children. Forty-six volunteer American ambulance drivers also returned. The ship left Lisbon, Portugal, last Friday.

21 IN NARCOTICS RING SENTENCED; 1 GETS 12 YEARS

Fort Worth, Tex., July 18 (AP).—Sentences ranging up to 12 years were passed today by Federal Judge T. Whitfield on 21 alleged members of the "Green Dragon" narcotics ring, accused of operating from New York to Chicago and in the southwest.

Phil Chadwick of Arlington, Tex., was sentenced to 12 years in Leavenworth penitentiary. His wife was given two years. Charlie Schiffman, who reputedly directed the operations in New York, was sentenced to 10 years.

B. H. Schaffer, former narcotics bureau agent found guilty of being a co-conspirator, was granted a request that his sentence be deferred until hearing of another indictment against him Saturday in Dallas.

Abe Chapman, a citizen of Poland, was granted his request that his sentence of eight years specify he not be deported.

Charles Bernardi of Chicago, who appeared for trial voluntarily, was given a two years suspended sentence.

200,000 SPANISH MARCH IN DEMAND FOR GIBRALTAR

MADRID, Spain, July 18 (AP).—The organized Falangist [Fascist] workers of Spain took their cue today from their chief of state and marched thru the streets of Madrid shouting for a Spanish Gibraltar.

They sang, too, "Face to the Sun!" on this fourth anniversary of the Nationalist revolution.

Two hundred thousand workers marched in the observance after Generalissimo Francisco Franco gave official approval to agitation for Spanish domination of the "rock" which Britain has held since 1704.

The generalissimo's speech appeared to have fired new enthusiasm into Spaniards to recover Gibraltar, forge national unity and build an African empire.

Four times the Spaniards have attempted to regain Gibraltar which the British took more than 200 years ago thru a naval bombardment and a landing party of 1,800 marines.

BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK IN CRASH; 17 LOST; 1 DEAD

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—The admiralty tonight announced the destroyer Imogen had been lost as the result of a collision in dense fog. The announcement said 17 sailors were missing and feared dead. One officer and 10 other sailors were injured, one fatally. The Imogen, 1,370 tons, carried a normal crew of 145. It was launched in 1936.

Moscow Decrees Pensions to Wounded Army Men

MOSCOW, July 18 (AP).—The soviet council of peoples' commissars decreed pensions today to wounded soldiers and also to the families of soldiers killed in battle. The payment depends upon the degree of the wound and the beneficiary's salary in civil life.

Britain Forbids New Car Sales to Private Citizens

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 18.—The sale of newly manufactured motor cars to private users was banned in the United Kingdom beginning tomorrow in order to augment much needed exports so the treasury can obtain foreign exchange to pay for war materials. The ban was announced today.

HIGH CATHOLIC LEADERS BLAST CONSCRIPT BILL

Protest Is Filed with Senate Group.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Representative Catholic bishops and archbishops of the country have filed a formal protest before the senate military affairs committee against the pending Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill on the ground that "no emergency should be allowed to destroy values that are of the very essence of liberty as we know it in America."

The carefully worded statement mentioned specifically only the failure of the bill to exempt from conscription priests, ministers of religion, seminarians, and lay members of religious orders [brothers], and asked for a deferred conscription status for teachers.

Call Plans Unjustified.

Referring to European dangers to this country, it stated:

"That these dangers justify national preparedness for defense on the scale contemplated in the bill under consideration is not supported by any evidence."

The statement said that Christians are regretfully obliged to realize that adequate defense requires military training of large numbers of citizens, but it warns against overstatement of needs that may lead to hysterical action.

Position Adopted July 4.

The position of the representative members of the hierarchy concerning conscription was formulated on July 4 by the episcopal members of the board of managers of the National Catholic Welfare conference, at a meeting held under Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch's chairmanship at the Drake hotel.

The New World, official weekly journal of the archdiocese of Chicago, will make the statement public in today's issue. It was presented before the senate committee on military affairs last week.

Promise 'Revolutionary' Vitamin Bread in Britain

FORESEE FRIGID GREETING TO NEW CABINET IN PARIS

Petain's Ministers Stir Anger of Public.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 15 [Delayed], [By Courier to Berlin].—While it is not certain whether the government of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain will establish itself at Versailles or Paris, it is considered that Parisians will give it an extremely cool, if not actively hostile, reception should it settle in Paris.

Altho the 8' year old marshal is regarded with indulgent respect, the presence at his side of such veteran politicians as Pierre Laval, Adrien Marquet, François Pietri, and Henry Lemery has aroused—particularly among the working classes—a storm of protest. This is being constantly fanned by an increasingly violent press.

Cabinet Called Fragile.

Versailles authorities said hey had not been officially advised that the government planned to settle there. They pointed out that all public buildings and most large private mansions are occupied by German troops and that it would be most difficult to accommodate the government.

The kind of reception the Petain government may expect in Paris is foreshadowed in Paris Soir, by far the most moderate of existing Paris newspapers. The Soir declares public opinion is unanimously opposed to the new cabinet.

"The presence of Pierre Laval is undesirable," the paper says, "and the fragility of the new cabinet is such that Petain is already thinking of resigning and penning his last will and testament. The man in the street is filled with anger, bitterness and disappointment."

Call It Punch and Judy Show.

La France au Travail, which has a large circulation among Paris workers, calls the political proceedings in unoccupied France "the Vichy Punch and Judy show" and emphasizes that the cabinet does not include a representative of the French working classes.

The Paris press does not spare Gen. Maxime Weygand, new minister of national defense. It scoffs at his claim to be a "disciple of Napoleon" and accuses him of monarchist tendencies. Pietri, minister of communications, a Corsican, is charged with being a Bonapartist.

Pointing out that there are 12 ministers in the cabinet, La France au Travail concludes, "There were 12 apostles, including Judas. England is still ready to pay more than 30 pieces of silver to get France back into its game."

LAST OF ROBBER GANG CAPTURED AFTER 4 YEARS

Police last night had in custody the eighth and last member of a northwest side robber gang charged with more than 50 crimes early in 1936. Two have been electrocuted for the slaying of a policeman. Five are serving penitentiary terms of a year to life.

No. 8 is Walter Kania, 29 years old, who has been sought since April 11, 1936, when the gang, in a suburban foray, robbed a Maywood factory of $780. Three policemen, including Chief Richard H. Bailey of Maywood, were wounded in the ensuing gun battle in which two of the robbers were captured.

Kania was seized in an automobile at Halsted street and North avenue by Sergt. John O'Malley and Policemen Bert Richter and John Curren of the Hudson avenue station. He was paroled from Pontiac prison Jan. 25, 1935, after serving 3½ years for robbery.

Almazan, Foe of Mexican Regime, Begins Vacation

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, July 18.—Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, opposition candidate for president in the recent election, sailed last night for Havana, Cuba, and a 26 day vacation after a triumphal train ride from Mexico City. Crowds greeted him at every station and 5,000 persons escorted him thru Vera Cruz streets to the steamship Mexico. Almazan said he expects to visit Panama, Costa Rica, Salvador, and Guatemala before returning to Mexico.

Two of photographs which won dismissal for Charles Kopenec of wife's suit for separate maintenance.

Judge John J. Lupe was shown an album of household scenes yesterday by Charles Kopenec, 51 years old, a commercial photographer who sought to demonstrate that he was a neglected husband. The photographs showed unwashed dishes stacked high in the sink, disordered rooms, and other evidences of untidiness.

Questioned by Attorney Norman Becker, Kopenec said his wife, Lillian, 48 years old, who was asking separate maintenance, spent all her time practicing for a song and dance act which she hoped would win her a vaudeville billing.

Judge Lupe said the evidence indicated Mrs. Kopenec was the person who had given offense. He dismissed her bill. Kopenec lives at 5212 South Paulina street.

TRACES NAZI SHIP PERFORMANCE TO U. S. PROPELLER

Seattle, Wash., July 18 (AP).—Germany has stolen a march on the United States by perfecting the cycloidal propeller, which operates on the principle of an egg beater, in the opinion of the inventor, Prof. F. K. Kirsten of the University of Washington.

He said today that some, at least, of Germany's motor boat torpedo craft are driven by the egg beater. This means, he said, that these little craft do not roll—even in a rough sea—and that they can turn so fast that they are nearly as difficult a target as an airplane.

How the Blades Work.

The cycloidal propeller is a set of blades, usually four in number, which extend vertically down into the water. They are shaped like short airplane propeller blades. They follow each other around in a circle like the horses of a merry-go-round.

Like some of the wooden horses, they also have a motion of their own. Each blade feathers a little like an adjustable plane propeller.

An egg beater, similarly adjusted, would throw all the egg in one direction. In the water this drive propels the ship.

While moving in those parts of the circular path that are straight forward and straight backward, the blades do not "feather"—that is, they merely cut the water. But if the ship starts to roll, the blades in this position pull tremendously in the direction opposite to the roll, smothering the roll.

Unable to Rock Boat.

In an experimental cycloidal boat, 38 feet long and 6½ feet wide, Prof. Kirsten said six heavy policemen leaped from side to side in unison without being able to roll the craft.

The egg beater ships are rudderless, for the cycloidal propeller drives the water in any direction desired, simply by the turn of a lever in the helmsman's hand on the bridge. The blades merely have to change slightly their angle of "feathering." They do not have to reverse direction, like standard propellers, to back the ship. They always travel the same direction.

In less than one second under full speed ahead, they can be driving full speed astern. This explains the maneuverability.

Save on Fuel.

Dr. Kirsten said his boat showed that the cycloidal propeller uses 15 per cent less fuel than a standard propeller to maintain the same speed. He said that in 1922 the United States navy bureau of construction approved this propeller, but that the bureau of engineering refused to consider it.

In Germany the Voith-Schneider company spent one million marks developing this identical propeller. Their last catalog, issued three years ago, listed the propeller on several naval craft and on numerous other ships up to 5,000 tons each. These were mostly German, but a few had been built for commercial use in Italy, France, England, Rumania, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Sweden. None was listed for the United States.

Experimenting on Plane.

Dr. Kirsten, who is head of aeronautical research at the University of Washington and nationally known as an aviation authority, is developing the same principle for airplanes. In this experiment, the egg beaters replace wings. They occupy the same position as wings, and revolve forward like staves of a barrel rolling on its side on the ground. They are six-bladed. For a full-size plane, these blades would be 16 to 20 feet long. Smaller egg beaters on each side of of the tail steer the ship.

Dr. Kirsten has a model the size of a Shetland pony, the queerest looking plane probably in the world. He says these cycloidal propellers would drive a present day air liner or bomber 500 miles an hour and enable a ship which now lands at 80 miles an hour to land at 30.

But it would cost $250,000 to build the first experimental plane. Prof. Kirsten has no such funds. He is trying to get the money by inventions in other fields, the profits going into a pot reserved for research.

100 IN ALCATRAZ ARE ON PARTIAL HUNGER STRIKE

San Francisco, Cal., July 18 (AP).—Nearly 100 convicts at Alcatraz prison have been on a partial hunger strike since last Monday, Warden James Johnston disclosed today.

The men, permitted to select their food cafeteria style, are eating only sparingly, but otherwise have made no demonstration. There are 250 of the nation's toughest federal prisoners in the San Francisco bay island prison.

"They are doing their work and nothing's happened," Johnston explained, "but the manner in which the incident began and has been carried on leaves little doubt that there is collusion and that each knew what the other was doing."

The warden does not know what brought on the prisoners' action, but added: "We can't make a man contemplating 75 years on Alcatraz face such a prospect with equanimity."

FOUR ACCUSED OF FIXING JURY ARE ACQUITTED

Ex-Convict's Testimony Hit in Verdict.

Attorney George M. Crane and three co-defendants accused of conspiracy in bribing a jury to report a not guilty verdict in a vote fraud case last December were found not guilty last night by a jury which deliberated three hours and 55 minutes in the Criminal court of Judge James F. Fardy.

The jury retired at 3:45 p. m. and reported a verdict at 7:40 p. m., 10 minutes after returning from dinner. William Fahey, 1059 North Leamington avenue, a street car conductor, who was foreman of the jury, said four ballots were taken. The first was 7 to 5 for aquittal, the second 9 to 3, and the third 11 to 1.

Hit Ex-Convict's Testimony.

"We were not impressed by the state's evidence," he said, "because it came from a source we considered untrustworthy. The principal prosecution witness, Marvin Olson, was an ex-convict. The jury felt it could not place any credence in his testimony."

Attorney Crane thanked the jurors personally. James Creed, superintent of city dumps, who was a bailiff in the courtroom of Judge Joseph Graber during the alleged "fixed" trial, said that the evidence showed why he was prosecuted. He referred to the fact that as a Democratic precinct official he helped to beat State's Attorney Courtney in his own ward in the 1938 mayoralty primary.

Convicted Cop on Trial.

On trial with Crane and Creed were John Howe, former state highway policeman who has been convicted of robbery, and Sam Orlando, 11th ward Democratic politician. They were accused of fixing the jury that acquitted Orlando and Joseph Vinci last Dec. 20.

During the trial, which began June 24, several members of the vote fraud jury told of being bribed to return a not guilty verdict for Orlando and Vinci. Other members of the jury testified they had been offered bribes but had turned them down.

One of the jurors, James McNamara, 5527 Shields avenue, told the jury he received $100 to vote for acquittal. McNamara said he was approached by Joseph Callahan, a gambler, who is under indictment with Crane, but is a fugitive, and another man whom he could not see clearly.

Tells of Receiving $100.

"Callahan told me," McNamara testified, "that there was $100 in it for me if I would vote for acquittal. I said, 'It looks pretty bad for the defense,' and Callahan answered, 'Yes, but $100 is a lot of money.'" McNamara said he later received the money thru a tavern owner friend.

Two women members of the jury, Mrs. Martha Aumond and Mrs. Lillian Connors, also testified they had been bribed to vote for a verdict in favor of the defense. Olson was the confessed go-between in the alleged conspiracy.

Acquittal of Orlando and Vinci in the vote fraud trial was a severe blow to the state's attorney's office. The prosecutors had considered the evidence against the two defendants as exceptionally strong. An investigation after the not guilty verdict disclosed the alleged jury fix plot.

THREATS STUDIED AFTER BOMBING OF BUND TAVERN

Investigation was started yesterday into threats received by the Haus Vaterlund club, headquarters of the German-American bund, 3857 North Western avenue, following a bombing there earlier in the day. A nitroglycerin bomb placed in the doorway of the club, which is a tavern, caused damage estimated at $500. No one was injured.

Ewer Thoroe, manager of the building, said threats are received over the telephone almost daily. He said that while a meeting was being held a week ago a telephone message was received that the place would be bombed. A police detail had been assigned to the club during a meeting of members Wednesday night.

Thoroe said the meeting ended about 11 p. m. and that the tavern was closed at midnight. The manager, who sleeps in the building, was thrown from his bed by the explosion three hours later. Three large plate glass windows in the tavern were broken and the door and sidewalk damaged by the blast.

Otto Willumheit, president of the Chicago bund group, told Capt. Daniel Lynch of the North Damen avenue station that the organization had not received any threats and that he was unable to give a motive for attack

YOUNG WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH FROM BUILDING

Miss Ellen Hertwig, 7720 South Shore drive, plunged to her death last evening from the building at 180 North Michigan avenue. A note addressed to her family was found in her handbag. The body struck the roof of a two story wing just west of the main building.

Her father, Alvin Hertwig, a grain trader, said his daughter, who was 22 years old, graduated from Morgan Park High school in 1938 and had attended Berea college, Kentucky. She also had been employed by the federal reserve bank, he stated.

Her note indicated she had few friends of her own age. Hertwig said his daughter had had a nervous breakdown a few months ago.

CROSS-EYED BANDIT GETS $30.

Suspect Seized on Charge of Taking $149 in Job Fraud

Detectives Joseph Petak and Edward Schumacher of the Albany Park police seized Fred Neumann in his home at 5324 Carmen avenue yesterday on charges of defrauding Mrs. Emma Lehmann, 3423 North Bell avenue. Mrs. Lehmann charged that Neumann, posing as a truck owner, offered to give jobs to her husband and son if she would pay $62 and $87, respectively, a total of $149, for their union initiation fees. She paid, but the jobs were not forthcoming, the woman asserted.

BOMBER OF MILK STORES CALLED MEMBER OF RING

Union Driver Acting on Orders, Says Detective.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan last night asserted his belief that Edmund Iwanski, union milk wagon driver who was wounded and captured Wednesday morning after he had bombed an independent milk store, was a member of a bombing ring. He said there were glaring discrepancies in the story told by Iwanski, who has confessed six bombings in all.

"All the evidence we have," continued Sullivan, "indicates that this man had somebody else with him in the making and planting of bombs. I can't discuss the nature of this information now, but it appears he committed bombings under instructions."

Denies Having Accomplice.

Iwanski, who is 35 years old, lives at 5362 North Nottingham avenue. He has been a member of the union for a number of years and has been employed recently at the Bowman Dairy company plant at 4310 North Kenneth avenue. He asserted he bombed the six milk depots because they were cutting down sales of union delivered milk on or near his own route.

"Nobody helped me, or knew anything about it," he asserted. "I was acting strictly on my own."

Iwanski was pursued by three policemen, shot in the right arm and captured as he fled from the scene of his latest blast in the Edgebrook Farms depot at 5718 Elston avenue.

He confessed at once and led police to his own basement, where he showed them several sticks of dynamite already made up in bombs. His willingness to talk made the police suspect that he was shielding accomplices.

Hazy About Dynamite.

Chief Sullivan was particularly skeptical about Iwanski's statement that he had found the dynamite on a farm near Bensenville and had stolen it, but couldn't remember the location. The bombs were made by inserting percussion caps attached to slow burning fuse into the dynamite sticks.

Iwanski's condition, the investigators said, made it unwise to quiz him yesterday. Physicians at the Bridewell hospital said the injured arm would have to be operated on and that the prisoner would have to remain under treatment six weeks.

A writ of habeas corpus, demanded in Iwanski's behalf, was abandoned when the police formally charged him with the six bombings. He is to appear in Felony court today, and bonds will be fixed there.

Chief Sullivan and Lieut. Kyran Phelan said Iwanski told them he attended Lane Technical High school and also went to Crane junior college for two semesters.

PAROLES GIVEN 94 INMATES OF STATE PRISONS

Paroles for 94 inmates of the four Illinois penitentiaries—Stateville, Joliet, Pontiac, and Menard—were announced yesterday by the state board of pardons and paroles thru its chairman, W. C. Jones. The paroles were authorized at the last board meeting, and nearly all are effective at once. Two lifers were among those freed: Henry Parish of St. Clair county, who served 21 years and 6 months, and Gus Blakemore of Massac county, who served 20 years and 5 months.

DIES IN BIRTHPLACE AT 87.

TO SAVE YOUR HAIR

The One Common Cause of Baldness Must Be Overcome

Every Man with Thinning Hair goes bald slowly over a long period of years unless saved by treatment.

And each man's thinning hair will show in one of about six different "standard" patterns of thinness or baldness.

(1) An ever enlarging spot on the crown.
(2) Thinning or high temples.
(3) Receding hair line at forehead.
(4-5-6) Combinations of the above.

The above different patterns invariably indicate the areas where circulation is poorest. Dandruff, itching, dryness, excessive oiliness are symptoms which often follow the fundamental cause.

All this time the hair at the sides and back of the head stays where it belongs because the circulation is still good there.

Our treatment reaches the circulation and restores it. Takes care of the various symptoms caused by its lack. Dry, scaly, itching scalps show almost immediate improvement.

Do not be needlessly alarmed about your hair. 95% of all cases of "thinning" yield to treatment, and show thickening.

$350,000 NAVAL STATION BUILDING PROGRAM RUSHED

Bids Taken on Seven New Temporary Units.

BY AL CHASE.

Bids are being taken on a rush building program for the Great Lakes Naval Training station, estimated to cost approximately $350,000 and to supply temporary living quarters for 1,000 apprentice seamen.

Five large two story barracks and two other buildings are to be rushed to completion as soon as the bids are opened next Friday, according to Commander R. D. Spalding, public works officer in charge of the national emergency activities at the naval station. He said two of the barracks will be finished within 60 days, and the others by one month later.

Conditions Now Crowded.

The program is intended to relieve the crowded condition at the naval station resulting from heavy recruiting. Last October the station had 70 officers and 850 enlisted men. Today there are 100 officers and 3,400 apprentice seamen.

Lieut. Edward W. Crandall, public relations officer for the station, said the training period has been speeded up so that sailors now are turned out in eight weeks instead of in six months, as they were two years ago. This has been accomplished, he said, by cutting out practically all leisure periods.

The five barracks buildings will be H-shaped, approximately 100 by 168 feet. A subsistence building, 210 by 180 feet, with six wings, three on each side, and a cooks' quarters also will be built.

All to Be Temporary Units.

All the new units will be of the temporary type built during the first world war and which mostly were torn down later. They will be of frame construction.

The naval station now has 100 buildings, of which 40 are of permanent steel and brick construction. During the world war it had upward cf 50,000 men in training at one time. At present the station is taking in about 1,000 men a month and turning out trained seamen at the same rate.

TAX FORECLOSURE SALES INDORSED BY COUNTY BOARD

The county board of commissioners yesterday indorsed the tax foreclosure sales program started last year by State's Attorney Courtney. It adopted a resolution authorizing Courtney to continue the program to clear up back tax bills and restore properties to taxpaying rolls.

The resolution was introduced by Clayton F. Smith, president of the board. Smith said the plan has resulted in the collection of $4,175,358 in back taxes and the return of properties paying $600,000 a year in current taxes to the tax rolls.

Under the plan a person or company that wants to bid for a tax delinquent property at a foreclosure sale submits a guaranteed bid to the state's attorney in advance of the proposed sale. If the bid is high enough the state's attorney starts a foreclosure suit. If there are no higher bids at the court sale, the property is sold for the guaranteed bid.

PICK TEMPORARY HEAD OF COUNTY HEALTH SERVICE

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, son-in-law of County Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke, chairman of the hospital committee of the county board, was given a temporary appointment yesterday by the board as head of the new county health service. This unit will provide health services in unincorporated areas and villages in the county which have no public health facilities of their own. Clayton Smith, president of the board, said that the appointment probably would be for 60 days, after which a civil service examination will be held to select a permanent head of the service. The directorship pays a salary of $6,000 a year.

$628,000 MORE IS APPROPRIATED BY COUNTY BOARD

The county board yesterday voted a supplemental 1940 appropriation of $628,000. The largest item, $210,000, is for additional jury fees needed for the fall term of the courts. This appropriation supplements $336,000 allocated to this purpose in the regular budget, which already has been exhausted. Jurors for a short time went unpaid until the county treasurer was induced to transfer funds from the county's general fund. A total of $290,000 is allotted to the Juvenile court and public welfare operations, and another $100,000 is to be used to defray the county's share of the costs of the November general election.

What has 45° F. to do with the Health of your baby?

Spoiled food is dangerous food—even for adults. And among the quickest foods to "turn" is the baby's food—MILK.

Even slightly spoiled milk can cause serious gastric disturbances in a baby's sensitive stomach . . . sometimes produces more dangerous consequences . . .

BACTERIOLOGICAL TESTS have shown that 45 degrees Fahrenheit is a relatively safe temperature at which to keep milk. Anything over that makes a lot of difference! At 50°F., for example, bacteria multiply three times as fast in a day as they do at 45°F., by actual count. At 60°F., they multiply eight times as fast. So Good Housekeeping Institute has officially set 45°F. as the maximum average temperature which the milk compartment should reach in a refrigerator, under test conditions.

That is why, even after it had successfully met every other test, Good Housekeeping Institute refused to give the Seal of Approval to one model of an automatic refrigerator of well-known make.

On this particular automatic refrigerator we had made seventeen engineering tests with different room temperatures and various settings of the control—besides water and dessert-freezing tests.

But in our testing "hot room," with the temperature at 90°F., the milk-compartment temperature averaged 48.4°F. with the control setting recommended by the manufacturer. The refrigerator was disapproved . . . the Seal of Approval refused.

* * *

Good Housekeeping believes it serves the interests of consumers best by working constructively with manufacturers. Its disapproval of a product is always accompanied by the reasons for disapproval . . . and with an invitation to improve.

Whereas 1 out of 5 products submitted to Good Housekeeping Institute for testing is initially turned down, 60% of these products are re-submitted in improved form . . . Are re-tested . . . Sometimes again turned down . . . Many finally meet our standards and are then approved. (Copies of Good Housekeeping Institute Standards for Refrigerators, by the way, are available to teachers or any interested persons on request.)

—So, when we disapproved this refrigerator, we recommended changes in the control setting which would lower the all-important milk-compartment temperature to meet our requirements.

The manufacturer made the necessary changes in the control setting and the refrigerator was approved.

THE NOMINATION.

For the first time in the history of the United States, and at the most dangerous time in which it could be done, an American party has renominated a man for a third consecutive term in the presidency.

This man, in his second term, undertook to make the Supreme court a ratifying board for his decrees. In his first term he had been accustomed to issue executive orders which he expected congress to enact into laws by acclaim and without study or discussion. He expected that such a congress would ratify his decree destroying the federal judiciary as a separate branch of government. He demanded that the senators and representatives, without dissent or opposition, give him a Supreme court of yes-men who would approve any law he issued.

He expected obedience because he had already reduced the national legislature to acceptance of bills as written. If, in his second term, he could have enforced his will, the government of the United States would have consisted in reality of the chief executive and no other independent branch of government. Congress and the court would have disappeared.

When congress, to his astonishment, defeated him in his purpose, he resolved that his supremacy should be reëstablished by the ejection of the congressional rebels who had opposed him. He undertook his great purge and failed again. His idea of government was revealed in his second term. Now he is the man to whom the Democratic convention has submitted and for whom it has broken the rule which has kept the presidency from being available to the ambitions of any willful man who wanted prolonged tenure.

The convention did this for this willful man at a time when people in many lands are losing their freedom and being governed as disfranchised subjects of autocratic power, without the vote, without representative assemblies, and without independent judges.

The party which has presented the nation with this shameless historic episode is the party which says that the military forces of oppression are preparing to descend on these shores. It is the war party which has supported in Washington a policy of intervention in world conflict to save democracy in other lands.

The party which has broken down the American safeguard against dictatorship has nominated a man who for seven years has been trying to dictate and who for three years has been preparing his country for war in Europe and in Asia. In a false plank in its platform the party which nominated the war-maker declared for peace. The falseness of that declaration was revealed a few hours after it was made by the nomination of a man who seeks war, has done everything in his power to incite it, and whose record in the White House is a record of campaign and platform pledges ignored and violated. He alone could tell the country to what degree, by his commitments to France and Great Britain, he is himself responsible for the outbreak of war in September, and how soon after election America will be drawn into the conflict if he wins.

From what is known of his acts and utterances and of the acts and utterances of his ambassadors to Great Britain, France, and Poland the responsibility seems to be very grave. The Democratic convention has nominated for a third term a man who almost established a dictatorship in his second, and who has already prepared his plan for the conscription of the American people, their resources, and their enterprises, not only in event of war, but when war is imminent.

There were some voices raised against this in the convention, but they were feeble against the roar of the purse-controled elements of the party and the voice of the mob which had been planted in the hall to drown any protest which might be made. The party, no doubt, has men in it who perceive this event with dismay, who, as citizens, regret not only that any man given power by their party should abuse it, who regret that the national purse should have been used to the disgrace of the party and the peril of the nation. They could not, however, find the spirit or the voice to rebuke the action fittingly. Senator Carter Glass, in spite of infirmities, tried to make his protest, but the man who wanted the nomination had too well prepared the way for it.

As this convention adjourns after its great disservice to the republic the honest public feeling is one of dismay and disgust. The responsible members will bear the reproach of their actions to the end of their days.

SMEAR TACTICS.

From the speeches of Mr. Barkley and Mr. Bankhead it is apparent that the New Dealers intend in 1940 to fight the 1932 campaign over again. To hear them tell it, not Mr. Willkie but Mr. Hoover is in the opposite corner. Whenever the delegates grow weary of southern oratory the name of former President Hoover is dragged in as the signal for organized boos and hisses.

The pretty manners developed in the smear campaigns are not going to be altered if the Democratic national committee can help it.

A number of readers have called our attention to these tactics and have expressed their indignation. Nothing much can be done about it. If the Democrats are determined to behave that way, that is the way they will behave.

Whether it will do them any good is another question. The inspiration of their tactics is obvious enough. They know that the country is alarmed by Mr. Roosevelt's evident determination to get into the war and disturbed by the prolonging of the depression which is now by far the most protracted in the nation's history. The people fear a dictatorship and the concentration of power in the central government. The Democrats hope that the carefully nurtured hatred for Mr. Hoover will prevent the voters from thinking of these things.

Perhaps it will work, but we doubt it. If the depression of 1929-'32 was the Hoover depression, the depression of 1933-'40 is the Roosevelt depression. Mr. Roosevelt said he would end unemployment and he failed. He said he would reëstablish farm prosperity on a sound basis and he hasn't done it. He said he would reduce government costs and he didn't. In 1936 he said the nation would show a continuous rise in prosperity because he had planned it that way and nothing of the sort happened.

The voters know that Mr. Willkie is the candidate in 1940 and that this year it is not the Hoover administration but the Roosevelt record which is on trial. It takes a pretty low estimate of the intelligence and the decency of the American public to conclude, as the Democratic managers have, that insulting an ex-President is the way to win the forthcoming election.

NEW LIGHT ON PARSON WEEMS.

Cherries are dead ripe at this season. The ruby fruit makes a brilliant picture against the green leaves. The crop in this vicinity is unusually bountiful this year. Most suburban householders find that they have more cherries than the robins can eat.

We could dilate on the culinary delights of cherry season, but will content ourselves with a mere catalog. This is the season for putting up cherry preserves and, now that we have the pectin extracts that our grandmothers lacked, cherry jelly as well. There is cherry bounce, put away against the rigors of a Christmas blizzard.

There are cherry cobbler, hot, and cherry pudding. There is, above all, cherry pie, and we cry confusion to all those marplots who ruin it with mucilaginous mixtures of tapioca or cornstarch. Cherry pie is good hot or cold—say a slab hot after a roast beef Sunday dinner, followed in late afternoon by a second piece cold, with iced milk. President Zachary Taylor, it is recorded, died of some such combination. No doubt he died happy, if perhaps not comfortable.

It is regrettable that all housewives do not regard this year's bounty of cherries with unmixed delight. Cherries for most uses have to be pitted. The adage that a woman's work is never done never seems truer than when a perspiring but proud husband enters a kitchen already a mass of preserving kettles with another peck of cherries, freshly picked. Husbands in such circumstances frequently find themselves confronted by the same unreasonable rancor that greets the proud dog which appears in the parlor with a fresh killed skunk.

To say that this rancor is unreasonable is putting it mildly. A cherry tree does not yield its fruit willingly. Its bark, to begin with, is a good substitute for burnt cork. Its branches have none of the reliability of apple wood. They snap without warning, subjecting the picker to the constant hazard of landing, with his fractures, somewhere between the lettuce and the snapdragons.

One might think, moreover, that the dastardly robins would feed on the top limbs. They do not. They take their free lunch off the limbs that can be reached from a step ladder. The most heavily laden limbs, the plumpest and reddest cherries are always at the top of the tree. Try and get them.

Any one who has picked cherries places more faith than do the debunking historians in Parson Weems' story of the young Washington and the cherry tree. Washington, all his life, was a practical man, versed in the arts of agriculture. He did not chop down the cherry tree from any youthful whim. It was the only way he could get the cherries.

CARIBBEAN TOPICS.

It is, perhaps, an exaggeration to say that the remarks of the gentleman from Puerto Rico turned the tide at the Democratic convention, but there is no doubt at all that the words he uttered along about 12:30 Thursday morning were memorable ones.

He was particularly effective in the passage in which he recommended a federal act requiring the pasteurizing of all Grade B milk to be sold in the District of Columbia on and after June 30, 1941. The issue, as he intimated, will grow in importance as the days pass. It cannot be avoided or evaded. Politicians may shrink from taking a stand now, but the moment must come, and that soon, as he well said, when the decision must be made. Statesmen will not let the event overtake them; they will seize time by the forelock, take their positions now, and adhere to them with the firmness with which wisdom and good conscience will arm them.

Regarding some of the other points raised in the address, comment may well be postponed. For one thing, the full text is not at the moment available and it would be imprudent, indeed, to attempt an analysis based on recollections which may be inadequate or faulty.

Editorial of the Day

WILLKIE'S STAND ON WAR.

[Illinois State Journal.]

Altho Wendell Willkie has been described as an interventionist, this does not seem to be the case. Willkie is quoted as saying before he was nominated for the presidency by the Republican party:

"I'm the only candidate who really knows about war. I know because I've been in the thick of it. And so I can look at the problem of defense from a practical viewpoint. And having been with American boys in one foreign war I know just why they should never be in another one. And if I'm elected President they never will be unless the people themselves demand American entry."

When America declared war in 1917, Willkie enlisted as a private. In France he rose to the rank of captain. His familiarity with war will have an important influence on his actions. And, in discussing war, he talks as a realist. He does not promise to keep the country out—for that is impossible if the people demand war. What he said is that if he is President the country will not go to war unless the people demand it.

But war talk is, or should be, out of place in this campaign. America is not prepared for a war and will not be for some time. The problem now is to prepare to defend the western hemisphere. It is folly to talk of going to war before we are prepared.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg U. S. Pat. Office

THE HISTORY OF CHARTREUSE.

Sidestepping the political and war news, we pounce upon a small item in the cablegrams which says that under the new régime in France the Carthusian monks are returning to their old monastery [La Grande Chartreuse, near Grenoble], from which they were dispersed in 1904. This means that chartreuse, for several centuries the noblest liqueur ever served with after-dinner coffee, will eventually regain its ancient prestige.

When the monks were expelled by the French republic, their distillery was expropriated, but the ancient formula of their cordial eluded the burocrats. A nonmonastic chartreuse came on the market, and was good enough, but it lacked the je ne sais quoi that had seduced the palate of connoisseurs. The Carthusians set up another distillery at Tarragona, in Spain, but apparently the herbs they used for flavoring were not exactly right. And so chartreuse lost its fame and its followers. The present generation of American liqueur sippers hardly knows the name of this delectable elixir, which since the expulsion has been Liqueur des Pères Chartreux.

The monks sued to protect their trade-mark and to prevent imitations of their formula; but did not have much luck in litigation. Supplies of the old stuff increased greatly in value, and gourmets learned to distinguish the real McCoy by a printer's mark on the label—the name, Alier.

Chartreuse comes in two colors, green and yellow; and the former is the one you should choose to prove yourself a man of the world. It is the aristocrat of cordials, and has inspired an alcoholic maxim: "Yellow chartreuse would be green if it could."

The recipe was given to the Carthusians in 1607 by a French nobleman named d'Estrées, and was perfected by Brother Gerôme Maubec, "a very clever apothecary," in 1757. It is said to defy analysis, but a variety of artemisia, the herb used in the manufacture of absinthe, is believed to be partly responsible for the flavor.

A FINE POINT IN DICTION.

Let's sing a song of Willkie and McNary,
(I want to be the first one in the field,
But the pronunciation seems to vary,
I'd like to have the proper one revealed).

Let's sing a song of Willkie and McNary,
Two men upon an elephant sedate:
And let the campaign be quite free and merry,
(But, first, let's get the man's cognomen straight).

Let's sing a song of Willkie and McNary,
A ticket all can tie to, that is plain,
A splendid combination that should carry
Each state from California to Maine.

Let's sing, ye sons of verdant Tipperary,
And sons of Barrie's bonny Scotland, too,
McNerry or McNarry or McNary—
O, which of these is right, I wish I knew!

A Feather from the Molted Left Wing.

Standing out from all the phony baloney of Chicago's cheap imitation of Greenwich Village and Montparnasse was the Radical bookshop, cuddled up against the North Side Turner hall. This cultural hot spot of the left wing movement was sparked by the Udell girls and their blind mother, Lillian, a lecturer on single tax and character extraordinary.

Phyllis and Geraldine Udell were hawking pacifist literature on the streets during world war I., when other girls of their age were playing hopscotch. Between them and their mother they hatched a plan for putting on dramas of social significance. A stage was set up in the rear of the bookshop and, as the audiences grew, the shop was pushed out of the way until it occupied little more than window space.

Here the big names of the labor movement passed thru: Bill Heywood, Jim Larkin, and Debs. Ralph Chaplin, who was sent to Leavenworth for 20 years for his pacifism in the I. W. W., played the rôle of Sacco in "Gods of the Lightning," with Jack Ryan, important in the bloody Pittsburgh steel strikes, doing Vanzetti.

J. Hamilton Lewis, then splendid in the pinkest era of his whiskers, was a frequent spectator in an audience that was small but of an impressive IQ. Magazine articles were written about the theater. The founder of the Repertory group was spawned there. Melvyn Douglas served a brief apprenticeship.

Then came '29. Archie the Cockroach II.

TO A YOUNG CLERGYMAN.

M' dear young freen, noo that the cloth ye've ta'en
Presumptuous dinna think me if I deign
Tae exercise the privilege o' age
An' play tae ye the part o' helpfou sage.
There was a reverend man—ye ken his name—
Whose sacred eloquence lang brocht him fame.
His silver tongue I felt made clear tae me
Things far off taught beside the Syrian sea.
When war's horrendous hatreds filled the land,
Do ye remember where he took his stand?
Alas! O' venom he let loose a flood,
Poonded his pulpit top an' bawled for blood.
Noo, in the days tae come, m' freen, I fear
Ye'll hae an unco weary course tae steer.
Scorn nae the precepts that hae ruled o' auld
That high estate tae which ye hae been called.
Mon, wull ye haud the faith whatever boots?
Perhaps ye'll stand the gaff—I hae m' doots.

SUMMER SKIN DISCOMFORTS.

WHENEVER sweating is profuse we may anticipate a generous increase in our skin symptoms. Perspiration affects the cuticle by softening the outer layers. Later—as one cools off—drying leads to the deposit of a thin coating of salt which, in itself, may prove irritating. On hot days we mop our brows and—regardless of how often we may bathe—a substantial amount of grime is ground into the pores. In consequence inflammation—even bacterial infection—may ensue.

A common hot weather disturber is prickly heat. Infants, invalids, and those who are obese are quite susceptible. What is the cause? It is due to overexertion of the sweat glands. The typical breaking out is observed on those portions that are covered and appears as pinpoint reddish pimples sometimes accompanied by blisters. Treatment demands light, airy, clean clothing and a cool environment. Soap is rarely advisable. The ideal remedy is a warm cornstarch bath. Soaking for 10 or 15 minutes in a mixture of two handfuls of this material to a tub of water will bring relief. The skin may then be dried gently and dusted with talc.

Chafing is another form of discomfort—even bad temper. This occurs where folds of the body—moistened with sweat—rub against one another. The groin, the breasts, and about the neck are favorite sites. Itching, smarting and even rawness are complained of. Here again the cornstarch bath is emphasized. As a preventive—on warm days do not spare talcum powder especially in the creases of the epidermis. Babies must be kept dry and clean.

Every season a number of letters come to this department inquiring about excessive activity of the skin glands. In some instances a disagreeable odor is present. The regions involved include the hands, the feet, beneath the arms, and the groin. Antiseptic soaps will do little good. In fact, there may be just enough irritating chemical in such preparations to increase the output of the depots. A superfatted variety is recommended, rinsing off every trace completely. Then follows the application of a dusting powder or a lotion that contains a small percentage of aluminum chloride.

If a daily bath is not a matter of custom, the feet, at least—should be washed before retiring. This is not only of value in escaping ringworm infections, but in preventing maceration—particularly between the toes where bacteria or plant fungi delight to lodge.

One of the more serious summer disorders is known as impetigo. The hands may be soiled as we wipe perspiration from the face—thus giving the causative organism a head start. The disease is characterized by eruptions on the face—usually about the mouth and ears—and the hands. In severe cases they may extend to other localities. The lesions consist of small pealike blisters filled with a straw colored fluid. As these break, yellowish crusts form which—when taken off—may leave a bleeding surface.

The sores may heal within a few days, under the persistent use of ammoniated mercury ointment mixed with zinc oxide. Nevertheless the malady is difficult to eradicate as it is extremely contagious and hence is easily transmitted. The important thing is to puncture the vesicles and remove the crusts daily with olive oil, soap, and water. After cleansing the physician may wish to cauterize the raw areas with a dilute solution of silver nitrate.

If the disease is spreading there is no better procedure than to apply sterile compresses saturated with a solution of bichloride of mercury [1 to 5,000]. This has the effect of destroying the microbes—possibly the staphylococcus. After thoro drying mercury ointment may then be employed. If the ailment invades the bearded regions of the face or scalp, it may prove exceedingly stubborn.

With an afflicted person in the home, all who are well—children and adults alike—must take every precaution to avoid contact with the actual blemishes and individual towels, eating utensils, etc., must be provided.

SUSPENDED ANIMATION.

N. W. writes: What is catalepsy?

REPLY.

One who is in a cataleptic state is insensible and will not respond to stimulation. An arm or leg, for example, will remain for a time in the position in which it is placed. The skin is pale and the pulse and respiration are slow. In many instances it is related to hysteria altho some trouble in the brain may be responsible.

HOLDING CHILD.

Mrs. Q. writes: My 18 month old baby does not like to ride in his buggy. He wants me to carry him all the time. How can I break him of this habit?

REPLY.

He seeks the comfort and warmth of your touch. He is old enough now to do what you wish—not what he desires. Sooner or later you will have to refuse to tote him around.

CANCER FROM BLOW.

R. A. writes: I was hit by a golf ball in the left breast. Is there danger of cancer?

REPLY.

In my opinion, no. The area should be watched, however, for signs of a hard lump.

VARICOSE VEINS.

S. K. writes: Are varicose veins caused by poor circulation? Will exercise be harmful?

REPLY.

As the blood supply slows down—becomes stagnant—clotting is likely to occur. This leads to dilatation—varicose veins. If the return flow to the heart can be taken over by the deep structures, exercise can be indulged in freely. Otherwise, increased swelling and some pain may result. An elastic stocking may be helpful.

TODAY IN HISTORY

July 19, 1870

France declared war on Prussia. War had been fomented by a "war party" in France, on the one hand, and by Bismarck, the Prussian chancellor, on the other. The French had first demanded that a Hohenzollern prince not accept the throne of Spain. When this was agreed upon the French sought a guarantee of Prussia's future attitude toward France. King William's polite refusal was revised by Bismarck so that it constituted an insult.

THE REAL AMERICAN LIFE.

Chicago, July 17.—Some 500 miles from here I found a beautiful section of the U. S. A. Its green countryside, its attractive towns and cities were peopled with pleasant, easy going, industrious folks. They seemed happy to be just plain Americans.

There were no evidences of dissatisfaction with our way of life. There were no hyphenate American societies to be perpetuated by political opportunists, no bunds, none so timid or un-American as to soft-pedal criticism of violent acts of aggression.

A farmer making a purchase was told that there was an additional tax upon his favorite tobacco because of defense measures. He turned to me and said: "That's one tax I'm glad to pay."

In all places they seemed unanimously favorable to Britain, but there was no war hysteria and no talk or printed comment about sending troops to Europe. Just a sturdy determination that with their willing help America was going to stay status quo.

Here in Chicagoland we are not so unanimous in opinion. Complaints have appeared in your popular columns about the persecution of people of German or Italian blood. If they are citizens they should know by now that any American who acts as one is respected by his compatriots. Only those who belittle our free institutions or bespeak totalitarian or foreign domination to replace them, fall into disrepute. These people should remember that in our revolution, when blood ties with Britain were far stronger than any European ties that exist today, Americans fought and died to preserve the American way of life.

How much do these complainers love the land of their birth or choice, or can't they see the difference? W. T. F.

MR. HOOVER'S MISTAKES.

Chicago, July 17.—You probably have never seen a copy of the Wallace [Idaho] Miner. We hadn't until a friend brought it to our attention and we discovered a gem of an editorial about Mr. Hoover. Here it is:

"An inspired piece from one of the New Deal propagandists says that 'Hoover was a complete failure.' So he was. He failed in a lot of things. He failed to draw out his salary of $75,000 a year while he was President, turning it all back into the treasury. He failed to have his sons organize insurance company firms to write insurance on government enterprises. He built a Rapidan resort for fishing and recreation at his own expense and gave it to the government. None of his sons went racing thru the divorce courts to the disillusionment of the public. He never bundled up a lot of government documents to sell as a book to the faithful at a huge profit to himself and he never sold himself into political slavery to a labor organization for a $500,000 campaign fund. He gathered a marvelous collection of war stuff and built a museum for it, but failed to ask congress to pay the bill—he paid it himself.

"He did not preach class hatred, nor try to pack the Supreme court. He did not plow up every third row of cotton and he did not promise the American people one thing while at the same moment doing everything to accomplish the directly opposite result.

"He did not ask congress to assess the taxpayers a billion dollars every time some one shot off a firecracker in Europe, and he did not go on fishing trips on government warships, accompanied by a fleet of destroyers. Neither did he kill off all the farmers' little pigs or encourage the importation of Argentine beef. In fact, there were a lot of foolish things that Hoover didn't do that some other people have done. There are a lot of constructive things he could have done if he had not had the opposition of a Democratic congress, but anyway, he did not leave the American people $45,000,000,000 in debt.

MISSED BOAT ONCE, NOT AGAIN!

Chicago, July 16.—Here's part of a paragraph from an article by Paul Hollister in the July number of Advertising and Selling:

"If the unemployed of 1932 and 1933 had gone to work on a genuine national defense program based on known European armaments for the same pay or dole they've had since then, using the same money, they would have eaten quite as well and the nation would probably not be at this moment in one elegant pickle. The machines and material were ready at hand, the man power was begging, not for a dole, but for work. The 1933 milk is spilt, but the cow isn't dead. The machines and materials are still ready to hand, and to the army of the unemployed is added today the far greater army of able-bodied and employed citizens. If that isn't a real challenge to the American system to make itself work for the best interest of 130,000,000 people, we should decline the challenge, take what we deserve, and pay a dictator for what happens to us."

There are a lot of people among your three million readers who should read this. GEO. WILLMAN.

FINDS THE PEAK OF STUPIDITY.

Waukegan, Ill., July 14.—Your editorial, "The War Candidate and His Party," just about reaches the peak of stupid, nonsensical dribble. Explain, if you can, why the Republican party struck out of its platform at the Philadelphia convention the plank which stated that no American troops would be sent to Europe; explain Nominee Willkie's statements printed in newspapers and flashed on newsreel screens favoring all aid "short of war" to the allies, and then won't you be so kind as to show how there is any difference between Republican and Democratic foreign policy [other than the President's pledge to keep American troops out of Europe—Willkie has yet to pledge this]. "War party," my foot! Really, Tribune readers have a little more intelligence than your editors give them credit for. A LOYAL AMERICAN.

DANGEROUS CROSSINGS.

Chicago, July 15.—I have been following with interest your articles dealing with dangerous crossings in Chicago. As I see it, there is a twofold purpose in such a series. First, it calls attention to a dangerous location and thereby warns the pedestrian and motorist alike so that extra caution may prevail. Second, it calls attention of the powers that be to such bad locations. Before a safety engineer can provide remedial action it is requisite to know what is to be corrected. This is good work. Keep it up.

Rogers Park Safety Committee.

LINCOLN PARK ROADWAYS.

Chicago, July 17.—In answer to the letter from Lady Driver, I wish to call the lady's attention to the fact that Lincoln park, being under construction, presents a great number of problems not apparent to the driver or one not acquainted with the entire picture.

However, I can assure the lady, or any other citizen who may wish to take the time to investigate these conditions, that the traffic engineer's office is open to every one and is always willing to explain any of the traffic regulations or systems, and invites criticism and suggestions pertaining to same. I hope that every one who has any questions regarding any of the park problems will avail themselves of this service.

OTTO K. JELINEK,
Traffic Engineer, Chicago Park District.

AVOID "DIP THE DIPS."

Oak Park, July 16.—I enjoyed reading your editorial on "Advice to Visiting Democratic Delegates."

If you had wanted to add one thing more you might have advised our visitors not to ride over the "I eap-the-Dips" at Randolph and Dearborn, where the street has sunk a couple of feet, due to the subway operations.

Yours for better Chicago politics.

BOMBPROOF SHELTERS NEXT.

Chicago, July 16.—If we're in such "grave danger" that the Guard is called up—that the navy has up full steam—that "conscription law" is to be railroaded thru in a hurry, why are no bombproof shelters being built in our large cities? If THE TRIBUNE is for the common people, why don't you fight this conscription law in every issue—it's the last order before start firing. J. C. AQUAST.

ESTATE ADMINISTRATION.

Chicago, July 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A will names three children [three adults] heirs to real estate. All heirs have left a will leaving their part to their minor children in trust. If one adult heir should pass away before real estate is sold [1] could the other two sell the property and give one-third proceeds to minor children of other heirs?

2. Must remaining heirs wait until children are of age?

If executor should pass away before end of probate, [3] would court appoint a second executor?

4. Who would be the second executor in this case?

5. Is a will legal if signed on Sunday? L. P.

1. Not without further court proceedings.
2. Yes, unless they bring further court proceedings.
3. The successor would be called an administrator with the will annexed.
4. If the heirs cannot agree, the court would be likely to appoint the oldest.
5. Yes, as far as this point is concerned.

MARKETS OFFER TEMPTING ARRAY OF FOOD VALUES

Fruits and Vegetables Fill Bargain Counters.

BY MARY MEADE.

Take along an extra large market basket when you go food shopping this week-end—or, better yet, take two. For Mrs. Nature has filled the bargain counter to overflowing with an array of fruits and vegetables that would loosen the most tightly pulled purse-strings.

What's more, practically every fruit and vegetable on the market carries a very reasonable price tag. Prices even tend lower than a year ago on the majority of items. The month of July is a series of field days for the woman who cans.

Green Corn Coming In.

Most of the vegetables now available are home grown. Even green corn, cucumbers, and tomatoes are now coming from Illinois gardens. Corn-on-the-cob will be a possibility on anybody's dinner table at almost any moment now. The price of corn is lower this week and dropping steadily. Tomatoes are very reasonable and cucumbers are rather low priced.

Cabbage is downright cheap—one chain is selling it at a penny a pound. Celery cabbage [delicious for salads] also is reasonably priced.

A luxury item a few weeks ago—carrots—again are making their regular appearance on the bargain counter. This vegetable which is usually a year 'round low price item, was very scarse for a short time, but home grown supplies now are coming in to help fill the demand.

Celery, onions, and cauliflower as well as carrots, corn, and tomatoes are cheaper this week-end. The cauliflower is home grown and like most home grown items, of a very nice quality.

Squash Make Their Bid.

Home grown squash [yellow crooknecks and the flat white variety], radishes and green onions are all reasonably priced. For those of you who may have been avoiding squash because you're not sure of its preparation, directions are hereby given.

Wash the squash and slice or cut in sections [it isn't necessary to peel it], place in a very small amount of boiling, salted water and cook, with a cover on until tender. It will take about 10 or 15 minutes. Avoid overcooking. If cut into thin slices, about ½ inch thick, they may be dipped in seasoned flour and sautéed in butter until browned. They're very good prepared this way.

Greens are growing in lush profusion this year. All kinds, mustard, turnips, kohlrabi, collard, leaf and head lettuce, romaine, spinach and chicory, are all very low priced. And tender bits of greenery, they are, too.

Several Kinds of Berries.

You can have almost any kind of berry or melon these days and the majority of them are reasonably priced. The best quality raspberries, either black or red, are rather high priced. Poorer qualities are cheaper. Blueberries are cheaper. Those big blue cultivated blueberries from New Jersey and Michigan are here. They're rather expensive, however. Blackberries are reasonable as are dewberries. The dewberries bring higher prices than the blackberries. Some strawberries, not high priced, but of doubtful quality, are still around.

Watermelon is on the bargain counter this week-end and in such quantity that the stacks are in danger of rolling off. Prices are way down this week. Melons of all kinds are pretty fine eating this year. Cantaloupe is very reasonable also, and honeyball and honeydew melons, while more expensive, are not unreasonably high priced.

Currant Season Short.

Reasonably priced Michigan currants are here. Their season is a very short one [they'll last only a couple of weeks longer], so now is the time to make them into jelly or put them up for winter pies. Currants, by the way, contain a large amount of pectin and may be combined with fruits that contain less pectin—such as strawberries, blackberries, black raspberries, blueberries, peaches, pineapple and rhubarb—to make jellies. For recipes using these combinations and the currants alone in jellies send 23 cents in stamps for "Mary Meade's Best Jams and Jellies."

Apricots and peaches are both a little cheaper this week. Very good Georgia freestones comprise the greater part of the peach market at present. Bartlett pears are getting down to a reasonable price level and Valencia oranges and California seedless grapes are cheaper.

Apples Are Available.

A few red eating apples are now available and there are yellow transparent and duchess cooking apples on the market. Plums from California are still available. Prices on these items haven't changed considerably this week.

There are some good buys among the more staple grocery items this week. Ready baked and ready prepared items head the list with canned goods and cleaning items spotted here and there.

Meat prices tend to be a little lower this week. Poultry and leg of lamb seem to be outstanding buys. There are good buys in rolled shoulder cuts of veal, lamb and pork. Cuts of beef from the hind quarter which include most of the steaks are showing a trend toward higher prices. Forequarter cuts which include rib roasts as well as chuck roasts are a better buy in most instances.

Offer Features in Meat.

All kinds and varieties of cold cuts are being featured and you'll find good buys in smoked pork. Pork loins are a little higher than they were a few weeks ago, but they're still far from high priced and are being featured in some stores. On the whole meat is bringing a little better price than it was a year ago.

ITALIAN STYLE POT ROAST'S GOOD AND A TIME SAVER

It's the meal in one dish that gets the big hand from mother in summertime. This pot roast with spaghetti is good example since all the cooking is done on top of the stove.

POT ROAST ITALIAN STYLE.

- ⅛ cup suet
- 2 slices bacon
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- 2 pounds beef [round]
- ⅝ cup water
- 1 cup cooked tomatoes
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Bay leaf
- 4 cloves, whole
- ½ pound spaghetti
- Grated cheese [Parmesan or American]

Chop suet and bacon and fry. Add onion, garlic, green pepper, finely chopped, and when they begin to brown add meat. Brown on both sides and add water, tomatoes, and seasonings. Simmer gently for three hours. Cook spaghetti, drain and add to meat mixture. Let cook together for 10 minutes. Serve on platter around meat. Sprinkle cheese over sauce from pan and pour over spaghetti.

POP PUTS PEP IN BREAKFAST TOMATO JUICE

Have you tried adding lemon soda pop to your breakfast glass of tomato juice? Lemon is a favorite pepper-upper for tomato juice and the fizz of a carbonated beverage gives this beverage extra life. If you prefer to serve tomato juice as a dinner appetizer, you can still use the carbonated beverage idea as in this recipe for tomato juice cocktail.

TOMATO FIZZ COCKTAIL.
[6 small glasses]

- 2 cups strained tomato juice
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 4 teaspoons chopped chives or 3 thin slices of onion
- ⅛ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 6½ ounce bottle lemon carbonated beverage

Let chives and parsley stand in tomato juice for 2 or 3 hours. Strain, add seasonings, and chill thoroly. Add carbonated beverage just before serving.

The Fate of the Darmenys

By Elizabeth York Miller

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Madge Darmeny, a childless widow, knowing she has but a short time to live, wants to select the most deserving heir for her large estate. Amelia Pennyfather, a distant cousin, lives with her, but on pretense she has to retrench financially, Madge sends for the other members of her family and suggests they live with her also. Leda, her own niece, is married to Frank, her husband's nephew, but in love with Geoffry, another nephew of Madge's husband. Frank has an 8 year old daughter, Betsy, by a former marriage. Shirley Westall, Madge's secretary, is given charge of Betsy. Madge has always been partial to Geoffry because of his continuous playing up to her, but she is beginning to find his debts and escapades rather trying. She likes Shirley and suggests to Geoffry that Shirley would make a good wife. Tiring of Leda, Geoffry pays court to Shirley and is infuriated when she repulses his advances. Frank, miserable because he suspects Leda and Geoffry, sees the sweetness of his first wife in Shirley and falls in love with her. Shirley sympathizes with Frank when she sees how Leda is treating him and finds her sympathy turning to love. After a number of tantrums by Leda, Madge begins to see things in their true light and decides to change her will. Amelia overhears Madge's conversation with Alfred Barnes, her solicitor, and learns of Madge's illness and her plans for a new will. She tells Geoffry, who in turn steals Madge's keys to her safe and reads the old will in which he is to be left the estate, and the new version in which Frank is to be the main heir. The new will is not to be signed until the following Friday. Geoffry, furious at the turn of things, goes on a rampage. He encounters Frank in the woods and threatens to get Shirley as he got Leda. Frank strikes him, knocking his front teeth out. When Frank confronts Leda with Geoffry's accusation, Leda, in a fit of temper, admits to both Frank and Madge her love for Geoffry. Madge decides to wait up for Geoffry, who has gone to the city to see his dentist. She wants to talk things over with him. He arrives late, is insulting to Madge, and when she asks him to get her medicine for her he gives her an overdose which kills her. Amelia is eavesdropping, but is too afraid of Geoffry to tell, as he threatens to commit her as insane. When the will is read they learn that Madge signed the new will the day she died, leaving the estate to Frank. Geoffry, furious at the way things have turned out and wanting revenge on Frank, elopes with Leda. Madge's murder preys on Amelia's mind and she tells Barnes about the overdose Geoffry gave Madge.

INSTALMENT XLVII.

GHOST OF BEECHBOURNE.

Alfred Barnes' hair fairly stood on end, and the nape of his neck prickled so hard it fairly stung. He put up his hand mechanically to ease it.

"I wonder if you know what you are saying?" he demanded.

Then he dashed to the tapestry and pulled it aside.

"There's no cupboard here . . ."

He broke off, seeing the holes Amelia had mentioned.

"The door's in the dining room," Amelia said. "Come—I'll show you."

She was almost light-hearted, now.

"But they can't hang Geoffry for it, if Frank kills him—can they?"

There was a note of triumph in her voice, as tho she glorified in the idea if Frank dealt out rough justice to Geoffry somehow the law would be appeased.

Amelia might not be crazy, but she had a loose screw somewhere.

Alfred Barnes followed her into the dining room and she showed him the cupboard.

He questioned her fiercely, but met with no equivocations. Amelia was out to make a clean breast of it and did not even try to spare herself. The purge was giving her immense satisfaction.

She went further and told Alfred Barnes about her eavesdropping that day at the hut, and how Geoffry had "made love" to her afterward in order to insure her silence. And how she knew for a positive fact that Leda had shot at her so she would feel herself threatened and be afraid to say anything.

Alfred Barnes had to despise Amelia Pennyfather. She wasn't telling him all these horrors out of any newborn courage. She was spilling them from sheer cowardice, in order to get rid of an intolerable burden.

She did not visualize as he did, the horror that must now be piled on to what she had confessed.

To begin with, there would be the order to take up poor Madge from her last resting place and have an autopsy performed.

If the inquest proved that Amelia's story was at least true in part; if it proved that poor Madge had been given or taken an overdose of the powerful medicine, then the real legal fight would begin.

Amelia did not know that she would have to tell her story over and over again in at least two witness boxes, and that she would be questioned and cross-questioned, led up blind alleys and tripped every inch of the way.

Her sanity would be challenged by the side who were defending Geoffry. Beyond all doubt Frank's bona fides would be severely questioned. He, Alfred Barnes, would come into it, too, and all that dirty linen which Frank had hoped might be dealt with in decent secrecy would get a public laundering.

Alfred shuddered at the very thought of it. How poor Madge would have hated a thing like that to happen. He could almost feel her presence in this very room, urging him to let be.

But while he shuddered and his mind fairly reeled with all that lay before him and the house of Darmeny, Alfred Barnes did not for one instant think of shirking the grisly task.

The more he questioned Amelia the more certain it was that she had told him the truth.

"Now that it's off my mind, I think I will be able to sleep tonight," she said blandly. "I might just take an aspirin with my hot milk. Would you mind if I went to bed now?"

Alfred Barnes not only did not mind; he positively relished the suggestion.

For a brief moment after she had left him he gave a thought to her personality, which hitherto he had been inclined to think was complex.

It wasn't. Amelia's was a singularly simple nature, devoted entirely to the contemplation of self. Now that she knew the security of her financial future was established, she unloaded the last of her worries.

No longer was it her worry; it was Alfred Barnes'.

The butler came in and inquired in a quavering voice if Mr. Barnes required anything further, and if he, Gibson, should wait up for Mr. Frank.

The servants knew, of course, where Frank had gone, and why.

As Alfred Barnes often had cause to observe during the course of his legal career, there isn't much about the family that servants don't know. They get it out of the air, somehow.

"No, don't wait up," Alfred replied.

The old man looked tired, otherwise he would have been glad of his company, or to feel that somebody was up and about.

"Wouldn't you like a little something to eat, sir? You and Mr. Frank only had sandwiches at dinnertime. I thought I would leave something for Mr. Frank, just in case . . .?"

Alfred Barnes wished he could reassure the poor fellow.

"I'll have a few more sandwiches, if you've got them handy. And a whiskey-and-soda."

"Thank you, sir, I'll bring them at once," Gibson said briskly.

Tired as he was, he wanted to be doing something.

It was premature to question him about what he might have noticed that fitted in with Amelia Pennyfather's confession, but Alfred Barnes longed to do so. He could hardly keep himself from it, especially as the old man lingered when he brought in the tray.

"Her room," he said. "It's natural to see you sitting here, sir, but I can't seem to realize yet that I'll never see her here again. I expect to see her whenever I open that door."

His face was white and his eyes looked sunken.

"Has anything happened to upset you particularly?" Alfred asked, throwing out a feeler.

"Well, sir, I can't help being worried about Mr. Frank. Even as boys, him and Mr. Geocry never did get on very well together. And then there was something that I'd call particular that happened just before I came to ask you if I should wait up."

He hesitated and there was a withdrawn, cautious expression on his face.

Alfred Barnes looked at him inquiringly.

"I hardly like to mention it, sir. No doubt you'll think it's because I'm old and imagine things. But I was a good deal younger when Gen. Darmeny died, and I know I didn't imagine it then."

Alfred gave a slight start, and felt his stomach turn over.

"You mean you've seen the Beechbourne ghost again?

"Yes, sir. About a quarter of an hour ago it would have been. I saw it just now, as plain as plain—like a soft white cloud on the big staircase. It's a woman, really, and it's always on the staircase. It means another death, sir. That's why I can't help being anxious about what Mr. Frank's up to. He didn't ought to have gone off like that.

Alfred Barnes felt chilled to the bone and reached hastily for the drink Gibson had poured him.

"I think," he said, "I'd have a little nip of this yourself. It would probably do you good."

"Thank you, sir. I have already taken that liberty," Gibson replied. "I felt I needed it."

"Then have another," said Alfred, who had become reckless beyond all reason. "Have a good stiff one this time, and bring your pipe along here, if you smoke one. No doubt you're feeling edgy, just as I am. I wish I knew where I could get into communication with Mr. Frank. It's the very devil, sitting here, not knowing."

"You might just try Mr. Geoffry's flat, sir," Gibson suggested.

Good heavens, why hadn't he thought of that before!

"I'll get the number. Sometimes, if it's late at night, you have to let it ring a long time before the postmistress hears. I wouldn't be surprised if she puts cotton wool in her ears."

Potato Salad for Hot Day

There's no reason for potato salad, but along with cold cuts it does make a mighty tempting supper—on hot days. This one is garnished with piquant dill pickles and wedges of tomatoes and the salad itself is generously sprinkled with celery seed. To make enough salad for six, combine 4 cups diced cooked potatoes, 3 sliced hard cooked eggs, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, and 2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle with a good mustardy boiled dresing which has been mixed with a little sweet or sour cream. Season to taste and chill.

SPICES IN YOUR COFFEE? GIVE THEM A CHANCE

Add Zest to Cocoa, Chocolate, Too.

Spices in your breakfast coffee? Don't utter an emphatic "no" until you've canvassed the number of beverages, including very special coffee drinks, that do contain a bit of spice.

Perhaps the first spiced beverage was the ginger-flavored ale and porter served in early English inns. The ginger was kept handy on the bartender's shelf, ready to be sprinkled into the drink and stirred with a red hot poker. The brew was downed while still sizzling hot.

Ginger is still widely used in beverages. Gingerale is used as a beverage by itself, or is added to other beverages. Many a weak-kneed fruit punch takes on new life with the addition of a little gingerale.

A bit of ginger gives delicious flavor to spiced or mulled wines. Mulled wines are flavored with whole allspice, cloves and stick cinnamon. The famous Swedish spiced punch known as "glogg," also contains unhusked cardamom seeds.

Try heating grape juice or cider with whole cloves, allspice and stick cinnamon, for a delicious hot beverage.

Many coffee and chocolate drinks depend on spices for their unusual flavor. Cafe diable is sweetened strong coffee containing a little curacao and brandy, and flavored with just a pint of ground cloves and ground cinnamon. Hot coffee rum is rum flavored coffee heated with grated orange rind and broken cinnamon stick.

Just a speck of ground cinnamon does wonders for your breakfast cocoa, and for a real treat, try serving hot coffee or cocoa with a whipped cream garnish and a cinnamon stick for muddler.

AN APPETIZER SALAD THAT IS LAST WORD FOR A SPECIAL MEAL

Here is an appetizer salad mold that's the last word in first courses for company meals. Serve the mold on a large round plate or on individual salad plates garnished with egg white cups, lettuce, and stuffed olives.

APPETIZER MOLD.

[Serves Six.]

1 package aspic flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
⅓ cup crabmeat
¼ cup finely chopped celery
3 hard cooked eggs
6 large shrimps
6 slices stuffed olives
6 anchovy fillets
6 pickled onions
3 tablespoons caviar

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and lemon juice. Pour ⅓ cup of the gelatin mixture into 9 inch pie tin and chill until firm. Mix crabmeat and chopped celery and arrange in border around edge, on top of stiffened gelatin. Cut eggs in half crosswise, take out yolks and shop them fine. Arrange chopped egg yolk in six rows radiating from center. In each triangle place one slice of stuffed olive under one shrimp, and one anchovy fillet wrapped around pickled onion. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until thick, but not set. Pour on top of first layer and chill until firm. Unmold on large plate and garnish with egg white cups filled with caviar, lettuce and stuffed olives.

The Applesauce Season Back with a New Recipe

The applesauce season is here again and here's a good way to use leftovers. Combine equal parts of sieved cooked apples, boiled soft custard and whipped cream. Sweeten, if necessary, with confectioners' sugar. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm.

A COUNTRY DISH (FRIED CHICKEN) GETS CITY WAYS

From June to November Is Its Best Season.

The fried-chicken-for-Sunday-dinner custom got its start back on the farm, but with improved methods of production and distribution it has taken on city slicker ways.

Good quality, tender-fleshed poultry is available everywhere the year around nowadays. But prices do vary with the seasons, and the best season for fryers is from June to November.

Brown, crispy-crusted, and tender meated fried chicken is hard to beat, but frying chickens are delicious in other guises too. Adding sour cream, chicken broth, or a tomato and vegetable mixture to the browned chicken and steaming it are pleasing variations to the fried chicken theme.

Methods Generally Same.

The general methods of chicken frying are the same regardless of any added attractions in the way of sauces or spicing. Young chickens weighing from 2½ to 3½ pounds are first dressed and cut in serving pieces. The meat is washed and thoroly dried.

The chicken pieces are rolled in flour which has been well-seasoned with salt and pepper, and then browned in butter, or bacon or pork fat. Avoid crowding the pieces and turn them to brown on all sides. Use a heavy deep skillet and no lid.

After the chicken is temptingly brown, lower the heat and cook gently until tender, 30 minutes to 1 hour, depending on size of chicken. No lid is necessary, but if you prefer, the chicken may be covered. This "steams" the chicken and probably is the best method for birds weighing more than 3 pounds. Roasters may be fried and then steamed in this manner. Some people even like to add a little water or chicken broth [¼ to ½ cup] to the steaming chicken.

Oven Also May Be Used.

The browned chicken may also be transferred to a slow oven for this final cooking period. If you have many other foods to prepare, this is a good idea, since it requires a little less watching and turning.

French fried chicken is prepared much the same as other fried chicken. The chicken pieces are rolled in seasoned flour or dipped in cover batter and fried in deep hot fat at 350 to 365 degrees until browned, then transferred to a skillet or casserole to complete the cooking on top of the stove or in the oven. Sometimes chicken which is to be French fried is steamed or simmered until almost tender before going into the frying kettle, to eliminate cooking the browned meat. When very young chicken is cut in small pieces, French frying alone is all that is needed to get a tender product.

Thick rich cream is poured over the browned chicken to make smothered chicken. This, as well as chicken paprika, which is a spicier variation of smothered chicken, is a good recipe to use for chickens which are slightly overweight for the "fryers" class.

Smothered Chicken.

Cut a 3½ to 4 pound young chicken into serving pieces. Roll in well-seasoned flour and brown in hot fat. Cover with cream [1 or 2 cups], bring to boil. Turn into casserole and bake covered in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 45 to 60 minutes, or until tender.

CHICKEN PAPRIKA.

1 young chicken [2½ to 3 pounds]
Flour, salt and pepper
¼ cup fat
2 teaspoons paprika
1 small onion, chopped
1 cup chicken stock or water
1 bay leaf
2 whole cloves
½ tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup sour cream

Cut chicken in serving pieces and roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown in hot fat. Add paprika and onion, and cook for 2 or 3 minutes. Add stock and spices and cook slowly for about 1 hour. Add Worcestershire sauce and sour cream, cooking 30 minutes longer. If necessary add flour mixed with cold water to make a thicker gravy.

THIS FROSTY PUDDING WILL TEMPT WARM WEATHER APPETITES

The best desserts these days come straight from the icebox to the table, and what could be more refreshing than a frosty, chocolate flavored pudding? This one's especially designed to tempt warm weather appetites.

FROSTED CHOCOLATE DESSERT.

[Serves 6.]

⅓ cup sugar
¼ cup cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup boiling water
¼ cup cold water
1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
3 egg yolks, beaten until light
3 egg whites, beaten until stiff
¼ cup broken nutmeats

Cook sugar, cocoa, salt, and boiling water slowly, stirring until creamy. Keep hot over a pan of boiling water. Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then add it to the chocolate mixture. Blend until slightly thick. Fold in egg whites and pour into a mold, which has been rinsed in cold water and lined with broken nutmeats. Chill until firm. Unmold and top with sweetened whipped cream.

HAVE YOU TRIED CHOCOLATE DERBIES?

Here's a wonderful new cookie that's easy to make and that gives you as much of a taste thrill as those famous Toll House Cookies that everybody's raving about. They're like delicious little shortbread sandwiches. And guess what's inside? A luscious morsel of Nestle's Semi-Sweet Chocolate! Follow these directions, you can't fail:

1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup butter
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup brown sugar
1 egg yolk
½ Economy Size Bar (7 oz.) Nestle's Semi-Sweet Chocolate

Cut chocolate into pieces of 4 squares each. Sift flour, salt and soda three times. Cream shortening, add sugars gradually. Mix thoroughly. Add egg yolk and beat well. Place dough on lightly floured board—Roll thin—Cut into small circles about 1½" in diameter with cookie cutter. Put circle on an unbuttered cookie sheet—place a piece of chocolate on top of it and over this lay another one of the circles forming a sandwich. The oven heat will seal the cookie. Bake at 425° F.—10 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan while still hot.

You'll find that the piece of Nestle's Semi-Sweet Chocolate is still whole. It's amazing! But you must insist on Nestle's Semi-Sweet. It doesn't melt in baking. Look for the 7-oz. Economy Size bar in the yellow wrapper with the famous Toll House Cookie recipe on the back. Send for a free Recipe Booklet by writing to: Semi-Sweet Chocolate, Dept. 58, Hudson St., N. Y. C.

Women World Wide

by Ruth DeYoung Kohler

WHILE New Deal women helped renominate Franklin Roosevelt for a third term this week in Chicago, the women's division of the Republican party quietly moved into town from Washington to set the machinery in motion for a Willkie victory in November.

Marion Martin of Maine, at the helm of the G. O. P. women, is all set to go. These days of Democratic bombast have not ruffled her in the least. A woman of calm and resolute purpose, she is all the more convinced that she can meet her New Deal adversaries count by count. At least it is a safe guess that the Republican party is going to have the benefit of the most effective women's organization in its history.

In some quarters it is pointed out that the Democrats have driven the Republicans to this—this business of organizing the feminine vote.

NEVER before have women scored so heavily as in this Democratic convention. From the opening gavel last Monday noon to Mrs. Roosevelt's "acceptance" last night, they have held the limelight.

Even the casual observer has been impressed with the rôle women were accorded. Some say it was simply "a sop" to femininity. Of course it was the politicians' appeal to the feminine vote. Be this as it may, Democratic women have managed to ease themselves into places of prominence with the blessing of the bosses.

For instance there was the resolution adopted in this convention giving women an equal voice with men in platform framing—an action unprecedented in political annals. It may make the resolutions committee an unwieldy body of 106 members, but it insures an informed hearing on problems with which men have little acquaintance.

Women have had the largest representation on the floor of this convention—in the delegate body—in the history of national political conventions. You've already heard considerable about this—571 delegates and alternates.

Then Mrs. Thomas F. McAllister—the Jim Farley of the Democratic women's division—was given a place on the convention program. She delivered one of the two principal addresses at the third session.

Even more the Lady New Dealers earlier this week managed to have Mr. Farley, Mayor Kelly and other first string Democrats pay tribute to political femininity at their breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners.

ALTOGETHER it's been a pretty smooth job of the politicians making the women feel happy and important—and lady leaders making the wives and mothers and sisters back home feel that the Democratic party has them at heart.

There's a great deal more organization back of Democratic women's activity, however, than surface facts would indicate. Ever since 1932 and the election of Franklin Roosevelt to his first term as President New Deal women have been building the most thoro and efficient political machine that the feminine ranks ever have known—to be sure with the assistance of the billions of dollars that have been poured into relief and into federal patronage.

The brains back of this organization was a woman missed in this present Democratic convention—Mary W. Dewson—a woman who is shrewd and able with a mind that is a match for any man. At 66 she has been listening to this convention in the peace and calm of her farm in Maine.

But for eight years—from 1928 thru 1936—Molly Dewson built the present women's division of the Democratic party. She stayed by it until she was convinced it was in smooth enough working order to turn over to Mrs. McAllister. Today she is sure that the New Deal women's machine is essential to the success of Mr. Roosevelt's third term reëlection.

During those eight years Molly Dewson studied and stumped and organized, but she says, "I won a tennis championship in Castine, Me., when I was 53. Not all of my wind has gone into political oratory."

MOST significant and perhaps effective is the Democratic women's reporter plan. In Washington the women's division prepares periodically short outlines of the functions and accomplishments of each New Deal agency. These outlines are distributed to the names on each of three lists. On the first are 1,500 active women thruout the country who use this material to lead discussion groups in their communities. The second list includes 30,000 women who work only on their next door neighbors by relating the Roosevelt program to home problems. The third list contains the names of 109,000 women most of whom are precinct workers.

Then supplementing this reporter program is a women speakers' bureau of 600 now going into high gear, a radio brigade of 1,000 whose job it is to set up meetings to listen to fireside chats and other New Deal radio speeches, and a magazine, the Democratic Women's Digest, which circulates to 27,000. Still in addition, the Democratic women's division has put out 80,000 donkey banks to bring in the campaign pennies and dollars.

The donkey banks are a nice gesture, but they pale into insignificance beside the New Deal spending program which can be directly translated into votes.

NEVERTHELESS all of this is a pretty picture of organization and especially with the added influence of such lady office holders as Madame Secretary Perkins, the ambassadress to Norway, Daisy Harriman, or Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, who reports an unprecedented boom in the coin market due to the soaring business in slot machines. Could Jimmy Roosevelt be responsible?

BUT with all of this recognition and organization in the Democratic women's division, are the New Dealers this year going to be able to capture that independent vote—the 20 per cent that Molly Dewson says controls elections—the one great balance wheel of our political system?

There is the fact that Wendell Willkie, the Republican nominee, can almost be characterized as an independent candidate. His greatest appeal, aside from the strictly party line vote, may well be to those moderates in both parties who are neither conservative nor radical.

There is the fact that in years gone by the independent voter has been liberal in his thought. But now that we have had a liberal administration for the last seven years, these members of the old shifting minority have found their haven of rest and no longer can be classed as independents. This means that the independent vote this time will come from those in both parties who shift their allegiance.

So on the close of the two major party conventions—at the start of the Roosevelt-Willkie campaign, the spotlight is focused on the independent voter, a democrat without a capital "D"—the voter who still cherishes his freedom of thought and freedom of action, the voter who still values that great American principle of being able to think for himself.

Acclaim Again Is Showered on Rodzinski

Concert at Ravinia Park, Thursday evening, July 18, 1940, by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Artur Rodzinski conducting.

The program:
Overture to "Russian and Ludmilla" .... Glinka
Suite, "Scheherazade" .... Rimsky Korsakoff
Entr'acte from "Khovantchina" .... Mussorgsky
Symphony No. 3, C Minor ["The Divine Poem"] .... Scriabin

BY CECIL SMITH.

Twelve strings have been added to the Chicago Symphony orchestra for this week's evening concerts at Ravinia, at the urgent request of Artur Rodzinski, the present guest conductor. Last evening's experience alone was enough to indicate that the larger orchestra—now virtually restored to its winter numbers—should be retained permanently at Ravinia, whatever the additional cost may be.

The confidence that his ensemble would be balanced and sonorous even in the biggest moments enabled Mr. Rodzinski to conduct Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Scheherazade" suite with an effectiveness nothing short of spectacular. He overlooked no opportunity to prove to his audience that this familiar war horse, properly handled, can still be transformed into a real battle charger.

The climax in the final movement, when the ship goes to pieces on a rock, attained superb splendor, both because of the full roundness of the orchestra's tone and because of the conductor's complete control of tempo and dynamics as he saw the score approaching its peak. The earlier movements were set forth with equal expertness, and all the wonderful imagination and resource of their tonal texture were presented with an unusual balance between instrumental clarity and sheer theatricality. If the orchestra ever gave an equally dazzling performance of "Scheherazade," I was not present when it happened.

Mr. Rodzinski's richer ensemble also stood him in good stead as he endeavored to project the stentorian theosophical yearnings of Scriabin's third symphony, so hopefully titled "The Divine Poem." In this inflated, outmoded aggregate of egocentric subjectivity intelligibility of design is pushed aside by uninhibited mood. I have never been able to decide what might constitute a "good" performance of it, since its pretentiousness makes it a wholly "bad" work.

Suffice it to say, then, that Mr. Rodzinski's performance was all that could reasonably be desired, for everything sounded very well. The trumpet climaxes were big and strident, the strings were lush and ardent when occasion seemed to require, and the introverted slow movement, allegedly depicting "sensual pleasures," developed in a single unbroken emotional span. And that is that.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Esther Morrow Grube, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott Grube of 7714 South Essex avenue, and Dr. G. Windows filled with fur coats these midsummer days give shoppers various reactions. If you're a forward looking soul, you'll shop now, select the pelts and have a coat started and finished before the real weather begins. And if you're a laggard about decisions and want to enjoy every minute of summer without a thought of the cold, these fur coat showings will no doubt give you the jitters. No matter how you feel you'll stop and look. The newest ideas are ready, luxurious creations made with fine blended colorings, of silky pelts and beautiful detail.

With the August showings and special prices just around the end of the month, these new arrivals rate plenty of excitement. Long, sleek lines are stressed, a certain new crisp snap to shoulder outlines, gracious softness in the small collars and skilful working of the pelts to achieve fashionable slenderness without sacrificing any beauty of the furs. The results are compelling lures to spend money.

Black is still the parade leader, with Persian lamb the most popular as well as practical buy. Swaggers that are the real old-fashioned style, swinging clear of the knees, are exceptionally smart with new swing pockets that are larger than ever before. Brown and gray are in second place for buying records. Squirrel is scheduled to stage a big return to fashion, ranging from pale silver to stunning gun metal.

And the loveliest new brown shade called "matara" will take all votes from the enthusiasts on sealskin. This year, as never before, all coats have that young, fresh look, streamlines that flatter, details that make for smart distinction, and prices that are extremely interesting.

Mackinac Race Biggest Event of Week-End

BY JUDITH CASS.

MORE than 50 yachts, the largest group ever to enter the annual Chicago to Mackinac race, will leave Belmont harbor between 1 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In August, 1898, when the first race was held, two schooners and three sloops took off for the island.

Since the race was placed regularly on the Chicago Yacht club schedule in 1904 every condition of weather has been met, ranging from 80 mile gales to dead calms. All classes and types of yachts are eligible to compete for the Mackinac cup, making it an especially highly prized one. Depending on wind conditions the contestants may sail 330 miles or 500 miles, said the late Donald Prather in his book, "There Always Will Be a Mackinac Race."

"Few sleep the first night in the Mackinac race," wrote Mr. Prather, who was an outstanding historian of the event. "All eyes scan the horizon for a sight of the nearest rival. If the lake is calm and the sky clear, pipes or cigarets must be lighted below decks, lest the momentary glow of the match against the sail be seen miles away and the boat's identity revealed. Sunup on Sunday tells the story of which yacht and crew have the first advantage.

Of a fleet of a dozen or so only one, or maybe three—or perhaps none—are visible. . . . Cloud readings, barometer readings, rheumatism, prayer, and lucky coins all entitle the racing skippers to individual guesses on what the next few days' weather will be."

Luck and Good Winds Are Needed by Skippers.

Fifty-seven hours and 44 minutes was the winning time chalked up by the Gloriant in the Universal division last year. The Bangalore of the cruising division took a few minutes longer. The race has been sailed in an elapsed time record of 31 hours 14½ minutes, during an 80 mile hurricane, however, and once a competing yacht was en route for six days three hours and six minutes.

With luck and good winds, the skippers sailing tomorrow hope to reach Mackinac Island Tuesday. A new yacht in the race will be Henry B. Babson's and Joseph A. Moller's Trahuna, completed this summer.

Sailing with Duncan Hodges in his Kamaaina will be Roger Bronson, Frank Reed, Carl Kraft, and Dan Hill. Edward B. Lumbard's Bangalore; Blair Walliser's Revenge, Ephraim Banning's Lord Jim, Sumner Scott's Breeze, Victor C. Milliken's Warrier, Dr. Hollis E. Potter's Hornet, John T. Snite's Copperhead, Nat Rubinkam's Rubaiyat, Robert P. Benedict's Southern Cross, and Frederick Stratton's Tar Baby are other yachts entered.

George T. Sollitt bought the yacht, Nisswa, which formerly was owned and sailed by Mr. Babson and Mr. Moller. Another new yacht in these waters is The Last Buccaneer, Louis A. Ferguson's new 52 foot Alden motor cruiser, so named because after a sloop, yawl, and motor boat, the boat represents her owner's ideas, whims, and needs in a yacht. Mrs. Ferguson and a son, Louis Jr., and daughter, Virginia, serve as crew for Mr. Ferguson.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 18.—Non sequitur from Metro's official biography of Eddie Buzzell, who is working up a Marx brothers film: "So he gave up the idea of becoming an engineer and set about becoming a comedian. As a result he is today one of the best known film directors in Hollywood."

Loretta Young and Tom Lewis will probably honeymoon in Mexico City. She hopes to remain in New York with her husband most of the time and make Hollywood a place to visit. . . . Richard Macauley and Jerry Wald are working on an American theme—as who isn't?—for Warners. It's "Miss Wheelwright Discovers America." About a spinster, it was originally intended for May Robson, but is now being changed for Irene Dunne or maybe Bette Davis. The "Calamity Jane" character is out for Miss Davis. . . . Miss D., by the way, is on her way to New Hampshire for her summer vacation, and you'd be surprised at the amount of legal red tape connected with letting a star take a holiday. A release for her employers, for instance, making sure she's off the pay roll, just in case Miss Davis would like to talk to a reporter during her holiday. Why? Because it's one of the union rules that an actor doesn't have to give interviews or do press stunts if he isn't on full pay.

When invitations were sent out for the Hollywood preview of "The Sea Hawk" somebody made a mistake and sent a bid to one of the monkeys in the cast. Errol Flynn thought this was funny and a good idea—so it was planned to dress up the monkey and a girl friend and bring 'em to the show. Somebody, however, nixed the notion. . . . Vincent Korda, Alexander's brother, has checked in from London for his first Hollywood job, which will be art directing "Cyrano," starring Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh. . . . John Cromwell will start on "Flotsam" at the Universal plant Aug. 15. . . . The League of American Mothers has named Joan Blondell the most glamorous mother in Hollywood, and at a cocktail party in honor of Elsie, the cow, Elsie wore a tulle hat made for her by John Fredrics, and snazzy white kid shoes. The lady in charge of getting the shoes made was disgusted at what they cost. "I said they were for a cow and the price shot way up. If I'd said they were for a cloven-hoofed actor, of whom there are many, the price would have been a tenth as much."

Whenever a picture directed by Mike Curtiz is about to come out the boys scurry around, collecting and inventing things Curtiz said during the shooting. Next Mike-film is "The Sea Hawk," so here we go:

He called the story an earthy drama of the sea. Accepting a dinner bid he said, "We'll make it a tentative date for Friday definitely."

Speaking of an agent: "When you first meet him you don't like him. But after you know him a while you hate him."

Directing Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall, he wanted a moment of silence at their first meeting. "I want an inch of a second of a pause," he put it. Flynn he calls "Box-office." He found a smooth stone on location, said, "I oughta send this to Ripley. It has all the earmarks of an eye."

Describing a song he wanted for Miss Marshall, he hit on something that would make him a fortune in Tin Pan alley. "I want," he instructed, "a song that she's sad because she's in love. But she's smiling because she doesn't want him to know she's sad. She's sad but she's happy."

HOT-WATER FADING ENDED WITH COOL-WATER SOAP, IVORY SNOW

Suds in 3 Seconds—in Cool Water!

Nine times out of ten it's color—bright, becoming color in your clothes—that makes them flattering to you. And when the color goes, their beauty often flies out the window!

So when you launder dresses, blouses and bright new sweaters . . . watch that color! Get the new Ivory Snow to help all washable colors stay brilliant through months of washing.

Ivory Snow is a brand new soap . . . not flakes, not powder. It's amazingly safe because it works in cool water. Sudses in just 3 seconds! And, you know, that's a temperature experts say helps keep colors bright. They warn that hot water often fades pinks—blues—greens! Hot water may blur colorful prints. So don't risk old-fashioned soaps that dissolve so slowly they tempt you to get the water too hot. Protect the flattering colors in your pretty washables. Get SAFE Ivory Snow today.

Resist Urge to Bar Child's Self-Reliance

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

You're very tired and it's almost supper time, so you sit down gratefully in the comfortable chair in your shiny kitchen, and I hope you have a comfortable chair in it and a small stool or padded box for your little boy or girl to use, too, since you both spend so much time there, and decide to let your Betsy wait on you.

"Will you help mother, honey?" you ask. "First, I'm going to string the beans. Open the icebox door. Down there next to the tomatoes, no, on the bottom shelf, are the beans, in that bag. Now go to the cupboard and bring me the big yellow bowl. And open the other door and pull out the big saucepan with the two handles. Carry it over to the kitchen table. Now open the table drawer and take out the little vegetable knife that daddy brought home last night. Don't walk with it. Put it in the saucepan. Now bring it here to me. And, O, my apron. It's upstairs with the clean clothes, on the bench in the hall. You'll find it under the pile of clean dish towels. Thanks, dear. That's a great help."

Whether it's this sort of thing or some other you are telling your young child to do, have you noticed that it is quite necessary to give them detailed directions? Each step has to be gone into.

But there's something else I'd like to have you notice about yourself. Don't you find you're inclined to go on giving lots of directions to your children long after they are past the need of it? If you're not guilty, you're an exception, because most of us carry over this habit long after it should be discarded.

There are two bad features about this habit. One is that it tends to discourage a growing independence of thought and action. The other is that it often irks our older boys and girls, and rightfully. "Aw, Mom, I'm not a baby. I can figure that out," a boy said the other day. His mother was mentally still leading him by the hand.

We must be on our guard against this tendency. If we are, then at dinner time several years after today's story began, we'll say to our Betsy merely: "Betsy, come here, dear. I don't want to get up. Bring me the string beans from the icebox and whatever else I need to fix them for supper. O, and my apron, please, honey. You'll find it with the laundry upstairs."

Just as, to your son when he's little and has finished his bath, you may have to talk about the bath mat and his soiled socks and towels, in detail. While when he's older you'll say: "The bathroom looked pretty wild when you got thru last night, John. You must do better than that!"

Step aside and listen to yourself. If you're human like the rest of us, you may find yourself almost thinking for the children when their baby days are past.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

The stay-at-homes as well as the travelers can make good use of what was originally created as a week-end nail kit. It's one of those small, handy little cases that should be in every working girl's desk drawer and in every woman's dressing table for handy nail repair.

This isn't a manicure kit. It houses polish in the shade of your choice [and the house that makes the little case certainly has some beauties!], a nonacid remover and a marvelous base that not only insures a more lustrous coat but a more luminous one. We're particularly partial to the base.

The polish is one of the best money can buy. Its makers have great integrity about their products and even down to the detail of brushes they try hard to give you the best. The shades are always fashion right and we doubt if there is a skin tone in the world that at least one and probably more of their shades can't dramatize and dress up.

The case in which the three repair products come is called, amusingly enough, a "mad money" case. The bright idea behind this is its possibilities as a small pocketbook when the nail beautifiers have served their purpose. The case is in gay colors—ours is a luscious pink faille with pink and white print lining—that can be matched or contrasted to your costumes. There's a zipper compartment for your mad money, plus inside pockets for compact, lipstick, comb and other gadgets.

This trio of nail aids is a nice little gift—but it's an even better possession for your own sweet self!

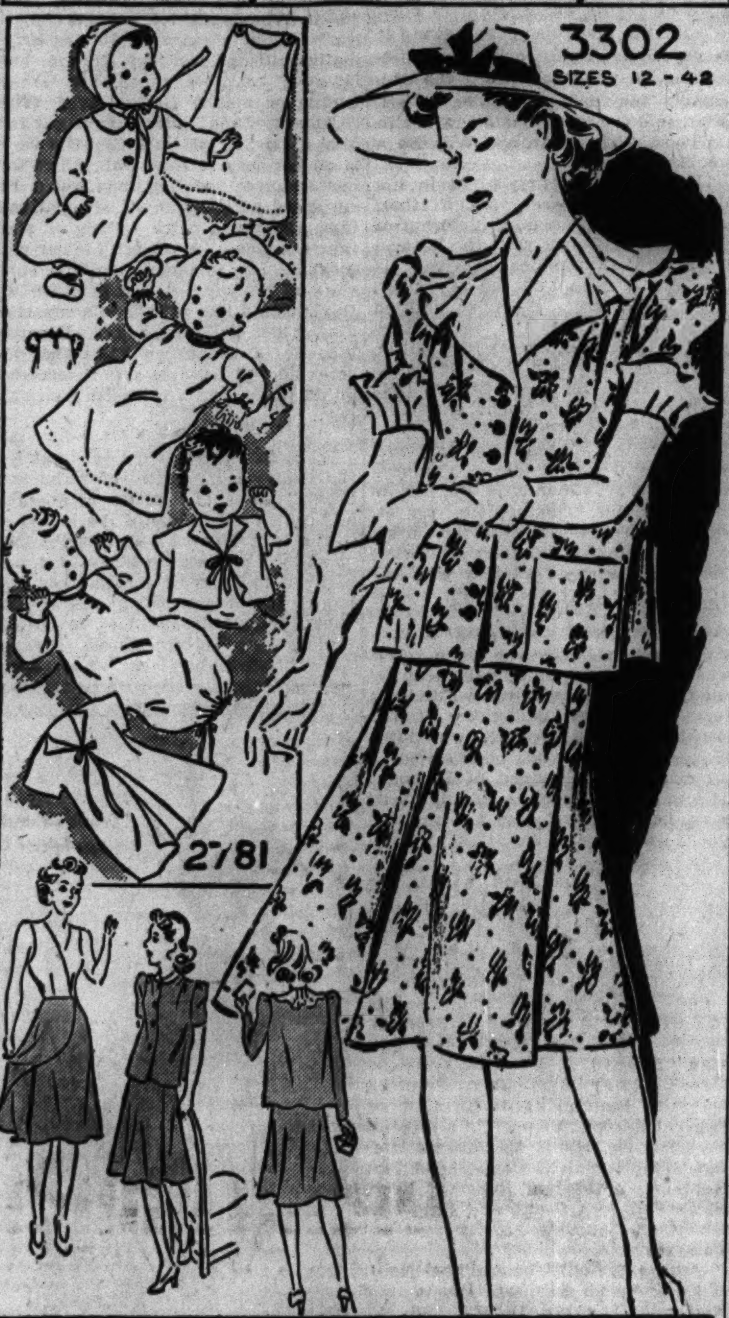
Maternity Dress and Layette



SMART MATERNITY DRESS AND LAYETTE.

Are you happily humming lullabies these days? If you're "anticipating," here's just the duet of patterns you'll welcome. One creates a two-piece costume that will flatter you. The skirt has its own top and an adjustable waistline. The blouse buttons down the front and is in the long length you'll find indispensable. The collar and cuffs are of contrasting lingerie material and the pockets are large and fashionable. All the washable materials, printed and plain, are in order.

The layette is a basic one, and you'll want to fill your carefully planned leisure with sewing such pretty "little things." There's a coat and a cap, a slip, a dress, a kimono, and a nightgown for the newcomer.

Style No. 3302 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of contrasting.

Style No. 2781 is designed for one size, requiring 1¾ yards of 35 inch material for coat and cap, ¾ yard for slip, 1⅝ yards for dress, 1⅝ yards for kimono, and 1½ yards for nightgown.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

July 19, 1940.

Universal Day—Keep to the daily routine. Not a time for procrastination.

Harmonizing Numbers—Because 5 is a mental number and so is 7, there is some harmony on the intellectual plane between these numbers. However, 5 is an intense number, full of friction, while 7 is an occult or religious number, carrying a vibration of deep spiritual wisdom and the quietude of contemplation. If one is in a 7-year and has many 5s in the name, birthpath or numbers associated, the tension and distracting quality of the 5s is likely to disturb one more than normally would be the case.

Year Ahead—Not much hope of getting away from work this year. Master it by doing it rather than let it bog you down.

Out of Town Guest Golf Tourney at Onwentsia.

Today marks the start of one of Lake Forest's gayest week-ends of the summer. The annual out of town guests golf tournament at the Onwentsia club will start today, to continue thru Sunday, with dozens of parties for the visitors and their wives. The tournament is strictly a stag affair, and so are some of the parties in connection with it, including a dinner at the Onwentsia tonight. Visitors' wives will have a round of parties of their own, including dozens of small dinner parties this evening, and luncheon parties at the Post and Paddock club at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The sudden change in the convention schedule brought in its wake many alterations in entertainment plans. The Prentice Porters, who have had James Van Alen as their house guest since last Tuesday, have been forced to cancel even tentative plans for parties because Mr. Van Alen does not know how much longer he will be in town.

Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis is planning a dinner for tonight at the Tavern for Ambassador Josephus Daniels of Mexico if he does not leave Chicago today.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes O'Brien [Rosalie Smyth] are being congratulated on the birth of a son, Michael Smyth, on July 12 at the Passavant hospital. The baby has a 16 months' old sister, Bridget, waiting to welcome him in their Barrington nursery.

Mrs. John D. Clemens Expected Here for Visit

Henry T. Stanton, who is the only member of his family now at home in Wayne, expects his daughter, Mrs. John D. Clemens, and her two children to come for a visit some time after Aug. 6. Mrs. Stanton and Collier are holidaying in Cashiers, N. C., where Mr. Stanton will go later. Some time during the summer Mrs. Stanton will fly to Dallas, Tex., to see her newest granddaughter, the junior Henry Stanton's infant, born in June.

On the sick list is Miss Anita Straub, the Walter F. Straubs' daughter. She is at the Passavant, where she will remain for a week or ten days.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Those players who feel that they can solve all bidding problems by opening with one club, regardless of the strength or length of their club suit, probably would change their minds if they changed their opposition. In other words, it is highly probable that the success which may attend their short suit opening derives more largely from weak opponents than from any inherent merit of the bid itself. A shrewd adversary can make the path of one of these "club bidders" very rocky, as East, in today's hand, discovered to his sorrow.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 club	3 clubs	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

Devotees of the one club opening will be quick to blame West for the poor result to his team on this board. They will argue that he should have overcalled South's bid with three diamonds and that poor, innocent East then would have reached the correct contract of three no trump. They will blithely overlook the fact that West could not possibly depend on such a high honor count in East's hand nor on such a splendid fit for diamonds. They will be unimpressed by the argument that, from West's point of view, East's holding might have been something like

♠ A K x ♥ K Q J x ♦ x x ♣ x x x x

Had this been the situation, and certainly a hand like this would be much more suited to an opening club bid than the one East actually held, a three diamond bid by West would be highly embarrassing to the partnership. East would have to rebid, and whether he chose three hearts or three no trump he would soon find himself in very hot water.

Or perhaps some bold souls will opine that West should have launched into a three spade bid. With East holding the K 9 8 6, such a bid on West's part would have been splendid guessing.

No, I am afraid that we shall have to place the blame where it truly belongs, squarely on East's shoulders. His hand was an absolutely perfect example of a correct one no trump opening. He had four honor tricks, spread among all four suits, 4-3-3-3 distribution, and even had the "guarded honor positions" in all suits except clubs that make it desirable for the opening and subsequent leads to "come up to" the strong hand. The absurd one club bid, which opened the way to South's shrewd interference bid, put both East and West into a position from which they could not extricate themselves without making a sheer stab at some suit. It also resulted in an absolute zero for East-West. South went down only one trick [100 points], whereas East-West had a laydown four no trump in their hands.

Sally's Guests Give Approval to Tom Brown

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.].

If you've promised some youngster a treat, take him to see "Tom Brown's School Days" when it comes to town, as it will soon.

Under the auspices of Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., 100 boys and girls had the privilege of seeing this new film at a special screening yesterday, and they certainly enjoyed every minute of it.

They watched quietly during the opening of the story of the famous school, taking in every detail of the picturesque English setting, the tall silk hats the boys wore, and the frightened face of little Jimmy Lydon, who plays the part of Tom. Then the school bullies got to work, tormenting the small new pupil until he bravely leads a revolt with the help of his friend East. At this point the youngsters who were my guests cheered and applauded wildly. They certainly demonstrated their delight at seeing the cowardly older boys put to flight.

Poor Tom has some pretty bad moments and not a few canings during his years at Rugby, but both he and his stubborn friend learn much before the film ends.

AMUSEMENTS.

Edith Mason Thrills Crowd at Grant Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The number of her appearances with the various Chicago opera companies is approximately equal to the sands of the sea. The number of her friends and admirers in this district may be roughly computed by adding up the populations of Cook, Lake, and Du Page counties. No wonder, then, that Edith Mason, even in competition with the convention, drew thousands of persons to Grant park last night.

The great soprano appeared as soloist with the Chicago Opera orchestra under Dino Bigalli's direction. Her singing was an important part of the enchantment of an evening which boasted also an almost full moon and a wind laden with a good lake smell.

Miss Mason's actual singing may have its ups and its downs, but she is invariably a superb artist. In songs as varied in character and quality as Strauss' "All Souls Day," Kreisler's "The Old Refrain," and Bizet's "Ouvrez Ton Couer," she managed by means of her flaming imagination and her wonderful command of meaningful nuance to give the music that alive, personal quality without which even the silvery Mason voice would be an incomplete, unsatisfactory thing.

A high point of the evening was Miss Mason's singing of an air from "La Wally," a Catalani opera which is all but unknown in this country. There was an example in this song of the ineffable Mason ritardando. Time seemed to stand still while the audience hung on the singer's enormously expressive, tantalizingly spun out phrase.

Probably the best played of Mr. Bigalli's purely orchestral offerings was Herbert's "Irish Rhapsody." Frank Sykora had an effective and well performed cello solo in the course of it. After all, one could expect nothing less than excellence from men bearing fine old Irish names like Bigalli and Sykora.

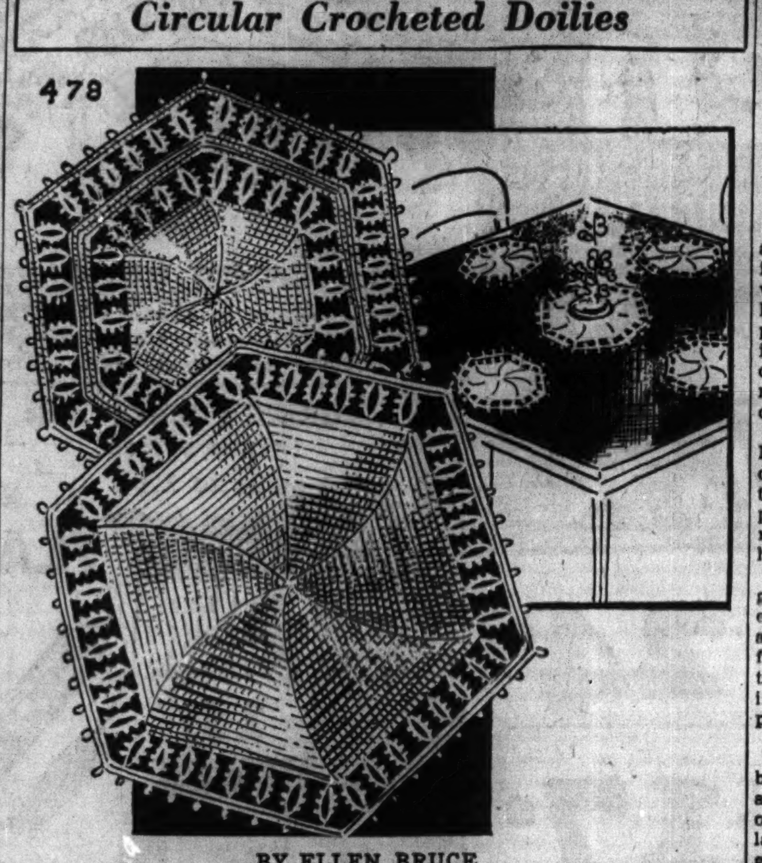
The Woman's Faculty club of Northwestern university medical school is making plans for a card party to be given on Oct. 7 at the Lake Shore club. Mrs. Lewis J. Pollock is chairman of the benefit.

Circular Crocheted Doilies



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

These two crocheted, circular doilies are the last word in either hot plate mats or as place mats for a luncheon set. The one is worked in single crochet with a lovely edging in a picot design. The other is of a lacier variety with rounds of picot interspersed with rounds of single crochet. Both are easy to make and require little material. One skein makes two hot plate mats or four place mats.

For instructions in crocheting the combination hot plate and place mats, No. X-478, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

The Housewife

Most kitchens, even the streamlined, compact, brand new ones, never seem to have enough places to hang wet things to dry. During every working day the busy housewife needs a place to hang wet towels, dish cloths, etc. Therefore we were pleased when we discovered a grand little gadget that takes up little space on the wall yet provides eight bars on which to hang things. These neat little bars are of wood and fold flat against the wall when not in use. They are each about 16 inches long. The frame holding them comes in green, in red, in blue, and in white.

Garage as Part of House Gains in Popularity

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

Whether we entirely approve, the attached garage seems to have come into our midst to stay. In new homes without number, and in proposed house plans, we see this garage as a part of the home-treatment. In many instances it is placed at the front of the house, and more likely than not its front door serves as a secondary entrance hall.

We have gone back, in spirit at least, literally hundreds of years, to days when knights and ladies rode their horses under the roofs of great palace entrances, that they might dismount under cover to greet their hosts.

The trend to camouflage this garage grows steadily. Well designed, properly spaced garage windows, for example, are one way of ridding a garage front of its bareness, wiping away the blankness from its mien, and giving to it a cordial and welcoming expression.

The attached garage is not new, but ways of treating it so that it will add, not detract, from the good looks of an exterior, are trends born of the last few years. And because of the great convenience it offers to a home owner, it deserves all the consideration it can get.

If a family is building a new home this summer, with an attached garage, the chances are that it will be insulated for weather resistance and weatherstripped. It will have a floor that is easy to clean. Cement, perhaps, as colorful as it is durable. There will be a faucet with running water, good light, and a large closet, for those dozen and one things, from hose and rubbers and tools to oil cans and chamois and wax.

Likely that it will have a new type door that opens easily, whatever the weather, and doesn't slam shut, no matter from what direction the wind may be blowing. It will be heated and ventilated and possess all these small comforts which are becoming standard equipment.

If a family has a garage which is not new, quite as many small improvements are possible. One can work a complete change of face by covering the interior walls and ceiling with one of the new, sturdy type panel boards.

Thousands of comfortable, good looking little garages are hiding behind obsolete doors and walls, windows that rattle and cracks that yawn and let in the elements. Good money has gone into them: much, much more money than it would take to "fix them up" a bit, and get them ready for the year ahead.

Front Views and Profiles By June Provines

Simile.

A wife listened, with a quizzical expression, to two prominent Democrats discussing Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina as a possible running mate for President Roosevelt.

"But it's like sending orchids to your wife," expostulated one. "We've got the south."

Wishful Thinking.

A train whistle got stuck and blew 20 minutes in the railroad yards at Decatur, Ill., the other day. A dozen persons telephoned to ask if Hitler was dead.

Fourth Estate.

The visitors most eagerly pointed out and stared at with the most interest at hotels and convention parties are members of the press. Anne O'Hare McCormick lunching with friends at the Blackstone; Westbrook Pegler joining Gene Tunney's table; the Herbert Agars and Walter Lippman lunching together; white-haired William Allen White talking with confreres; dapper Roy Howard sitting down at a table with David Lawrence; Arthur Krock and Frank Kent lunching together. Ambassadors and senators arouse a flicker of interest when they are pointed out; prominent press folk an urgent "Where?"

Singing to Soap to Opera President.

The musical career of Walter R. Kirk, new president of the Chicago Opera company and a lifelong opera lover, really began when he was a choir boy at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Evanston and ended when he took up singing as a career in earnest in Europe. He wrote home to his father from Europe, where he had gone for two years of postgraduate college work, that if he could stay for two years longer in Berlin he would be given a debut at the Royal Opera house there. Whereupon his father cabled him to come at once and go into the soap business.

"So the world lost a great baritone," sums up Mr. Kirk.

Red Cows for Cravath.

Mention of Walter Kirk, president of the Chicago Opera company, brings to mind a story about the late Paul Cravath, possibly the biggest lay figure in music in New York. Chairman of the board and president of the Met, trustee of Juilliard, sponsor of many protéges and really founder of Olga Samaroff Stokowski's Layman's Music course, he took music appreciation lessons daily, despite his many responsibilities as head of a great law firm. Mr. Cravath came from Ohio and liked to see cows. At his Long Island estate he had a trick device in the form of an abrupt six foot drop in the lawn. That enabled him to have red cows grazing near by where he could see them without their being able to come too close to the house on account of the drop.

• • •

When Mr. Cravath was building his 18th century English house he took five years. One of his stipulations was a brook.

"Do you want one that gives forth a swish, a gurgle, or a murmur?" asked the landscape architect.

"All three," was his prompt reply.

Compliment Direct.

Hoosier-born John McCutcheon, speaking to Mrs. Ambrose Cramer during a conversation about Wendell Willkie: "Yes, he made his fame in New York, but I like to remember that he came from Indiana."

"Yes, another Gentleman from Indiana," said Mrs. Cramer, remembering her Hoosier authors.

Conductor's Generosity.

Another laurel leaf for the chaplet of brilliant young Chicago conductor Isler Solomon—his generosity to a fellow artist last week.

Solomon went to Philadelphia to conduct Thursday evening in Robin Hood dell, with Alec Templeton playing Beethoven's Emperor concerto as guest artist. Shortly before time for the concent to begin the skies grew threatening and Conductor Solomon made the astounding suggestion that the program be changed so that the concerto be played first, with improvisations and compositions by Templeton to follow, in the hope the audience might hear Templeton before the rain came. The arrangement was followed.

The storm broke during the first movement of the Brahms Fourth symphony, originally scheduled for the first number, which was played after a short intermission. Solomon, who had traveled 800 miles to conduct, chose to put himself in the background so the audience might hear in person the Alec Templeton they knew thru radio broadcasts. Happy ending: Before he left the grounds Solomon was reëngaged for an evening this week.

Robert W. Service, 'Poet of Klondike,' to Return to Canada

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Robert W. Service plans to return shortly to Canada after 28 years in France—to find peace, recoup his war-lost fortunes and perhaps to write again where in his knockabout youth he penned such gusty sourdough ballads as "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

Sixty-six years old now, "The Kipling of the Klondike" in an interview today told of plans to give his French wife and their daughter, Iris, 23, a first glimpse of the hardy land that moved him to fame as the plain-spoken poet of the Klondike.

The Services were living in Brittany, at his summer home in the French seacoast town of Lancieux, when they heard the bombing of the nearby city of Rennes.

He said more than 4,000 persons were killed at Rennes in three hours.

They drove hastily to St. Malo en route to England.

"The skies were black with airplanes," he said, "and the panic among the civilians was terrible. We lost practically everything—our home in Brittany, our villa at Monte Carlo, and our car, which we had to leave on the dock."

SENATORS BEAT SOX FOR 5 IN ROW; CUBS LOSE

CALUMET REGION RIVALS UNITE FOR ALL-STAR POLL

CAMPAIGN FOR 6 FORMER HIGH SCHOOL GREATS

Boom Two Wildcats for Game Aug. 29.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Poll on next page.)

Gary, Ind., July 18.—The Calumet region, that industrial empire which borders the rim of Lake Michigan from Whiting to Gary, always has had representation on the All-Star football team. In the seventh game Aug. 29 when Green Bay's Packers go to Soldiers' field, unless signs fail, the Calumet voters will send six husky youngsters into action under the stadium flood lights.

The roster of great football players from Whiting, Hammond, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor, and Gary probably can not be exceeded by any other section in the nation. Rivalry is intense, but in July each year all fans unite to pile up a vote that is the envy of Lake county politicians.

They're All Good.

The 1940 ticket is as follows: Paul Krueger, Tulane quarter back, and Sam Panepinto, Western Kentucky State tackle, of Emerson High school, Gary; Nick Cutlich, tackle, and Hal [Sonny] Method, guard, from East Chicago's Washington High school, and Northwestern university; Mike Kinek, Michigan State end, and Mike Kopcha, Chattanooga university center, from Whiting.

"These boys measure to the football standards of the region," Sports Editor Norm Werry, of the Gary Post-Tribune said as he leafed thru files noting the names of former stars who have played in the All-Star game. "There are others who are eligible—10 Gary boys alone played on the freshmen and varsity teams of Western Kentucky State last year—but some will be handicaped in a national poll. Next year will bring us real trouble.

How About These?

"How would you like to see Tom Harmon, of Michigan, Eddie Herbert, of Indiana, and Tommy O'Boyle, of Tulane, in the 1941 starting All-Star lineup?" Werry continued. "All played here on the 1936 Horace Mann High school eleven which won the state championship. We'll have more than eleven college seniors in Gary alone next year and we'll have to hold a caucus to determine the team we'll run."

The Gary Post-Tribune is a pioneer in sports promotions. The Gary Y. M. C. A. amateur boxing tournment has been followed by 13 Post-Tribune Golden Gloves teams in Chicago's Tournament of Champions. Gary helped in the election of East Chicago's Frank Thomas as head coach of the 1935 College All-Stars. Thomas played on the Indiana state championship football team at Washington High in 1913, starred at Notre Dame and now is head coach at the University of Alabama.

They Have an Organization.

Jack Gilroy, veteran director of athletics for the Gary schools; Art Rolfe, Emerson football coach, and Eddie Moore, Emerson basketball coach, head the Krueger and Panepinto campaign committee in Gary. Bob Krueger, an older brother of Paul, has organized the Emerson Alumni association in the battle of ballots along Broadway.

Not since Floyd Murray, Hammond attorney and one time high school coach of Frank Thomas in East Chicago, was national chairman of the "We Want Thomas" campaign in 1935, has the northern half of North township been so well organized. Intra-city rivalry between Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, with its fierce competition between Washington and Roosevelt High schools, respectively, has been forgotten. Moreover, Washington has made common cause with Whiting, perennial enemy, and has printed a fusion ballot.

Galvin Is Leader.

Ray Galvin, former University of Illinois half back, is organizing the oil city's share in the campaign. Mike Kopcha, Chattanooga center, is a brother of Dr. Joe Kopcha, who also attended Chattanooga before becoming one of the greatest guards in the history of professional football.

The advisory committee is almost large enough to win the election. Frank Cash, head of the East Chicago schools' physical program, who came to Washington High as football coach in 1925; and John McShane, popular coach for a score of years and now a school principal, have seen to it that their former pupils vote a straight ticket.

Solly Krieger Knocks Out Jarl Johnson in Fourth

New York, July 18 (AP).—Solly Krieger of Brooklyn knocked out Jarl Johnson of Norway in 2:50 of the fourth round of a scheduled eight round fight tonight. Krieger dropped Johnson for a nine count with a left hook and then finished him with a right cross.

And They're All Voting for Notre Dame

Employes of the Studebaker corporation in South Bend join the vast army of voters who are casting their ballots for Notre Dame football men in the Tribune's annual All-Star poll. Left to right: Martin Schundt, Albert Webster, Louis Kovach, Joe Dudziski, and Louis Kortisz. They were handed ballots along with their pay checks. South Bend hopes to place 12 of the Fighting Irish on the squad which meets the Packers on Soldiers' field Aug. 29. [TRIBUNE-A. P. Wirephoto.]

Industry and Business Back All-Star Vote in South Bend

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., July 18.—Five rides and a free swim for every 40 votes launched a landslide in the South Bend All-Star football poll today and necessitated the enlargement of the pass gate at Playland, Indiana's leading amusement park.

The new drive to place Notre Dame's 12 candidates on the Chicago Tribune's All-Star squad has been organized by Earl [Pete] Redden, owner of Playland and promoter of the bi-annual all-expense trips to Los Angeles for Notre Dame-Southern California games.

Locks Is in Charge.

It supplements the campaign of the Notre Dame Club of St. Joseph Valley, an alumni organization, and has been placed in the capable hands of Billy Locks. Locks, a former professional boxer, claims to be the most popular deputy sheriff in the United States. He immediately took over Redden's office in the lobby of the Oliver hotel and began sending out the call to 1,000 schoolboys. Any youngster of school age can enroll by shaking Billy's hand, seizing a petition and setting forth. Billy says he expects to place an all-Notre Dame lineup on Soldiers' field against the Packers on the night of Aug. 29.

Redden's campaign came on the heels of a plea to business men by Henry Lowenstine, president of the retail merchants' association.

Votes Straight Ticket.

"I voted the straight Notre Dame ticket," said Lowenstine, proprietor of Greene's Ladies' Specialties Shoppe, and have urged all my friends and acquaintances to do the same. The Chicago All-Star game has been a boon to football, football has been a boon to business, and every business man should be glad to reciprocate, especially when the only expenditure is a little enthusiasm. I am grateful to the St. Joseph Valley club and to the Elkhart Truth, which is providing the ballots and doing the work, for the opportunity to get behind Notre Dame and such a worthy enterprise as the All-Star game."

With Lowenstine's plea the South Bend campaign took to the air. Harry S. Wagner, president of the Indiana Air service, set up a booth at the Municipal airport, where student fliers and mechanics canvassed the passengers on every ship that calls at the busy little port. Wagner also fixed up a company plane and began flying from place to place in Indiana, dropping petitions and collecting ballots.

Take Votes at Ball Park.

Maj. W. S. Gundeck, chief of the personnel division of the Studebaker corporation, organized the Studebaker Athletic association to conduct a poll of crowds at the association's ball park, the city's athletic center, and placed a booth at the pay window. Employés sign as they draw their weekly wage.

The straight Fighting Irish ticket corners the bulk of the votes here and in Niles, Mich., where the St. Joe valley club also circulated petitions. But in nearby Mishawaka and on South Bend's great west side, there is a steady infiltration of votes for Leon DeWitte, Purdue full back, and Frank Bykowski, the Purdue guard. Bykowski is a South Bend boy. DeWitte is from Mishawaka, where George Blair, president of the Mishawaka woolen mills, has taken charge of the campaign and substituted Purdue's great defensive star for Joe Thesing on the All-Notre Dame ticket.

Horace Fox, of the Lamport-Fox advertising agency, who has seen all the All-Star games and ordered his tickets for this year's contest three months ago, also wants one exception in the Notre Dame starting team.

"Give me Logan of Indiana in place of Riffle of Notre Dame at guard, then bring on the Packers," said the former Indiana university yell leader.

HOSTAK MEETS ZALE TONIGHT IN TITLE BOUT

Seattle, Wash., July 18 (AP).—Al Hostak of Seattle, recognized by the National Boxing association as world middleweight champion, defends his title here tomorrow night in a 15 round bout with Tony Zale of Gary, Ind.

A crowd of 17,000 is expected to pay $50,000 to see the return match.

200 WILL START FIRING TODAY IN 3D CHICAGO OPEN

Golf Stars to Compete at Tam o' Shanter.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A field of 200 of the nation's leading professionals and amateurs will come out swinging today in the first 18 holes of the 72 hole battle for the third $5,000 Chicago Open golf championship at the Tam o' Shanter Country club, Howard street and Caldwell road. The second 18 holes will be played tomorrow, with the low 48 professionals and ties and the low 24 amateurs and ties for the first 36 holes fighting in Sunday's concluding 36.

From the standpoint of competitive quality, this third Chicago Open outshines its two predecessors. It includes both of the former winners, Gene Sarazen and Sam Snead. It brings the three men who tied for first place in the National Open last month—Champion Lawson Little, Runnerup Sarazen, and Ed Oliver, the 23 year old Hornell, N. Y., pro who was the central figure in the now celebrated disqualification case.

More Big Names.

The professional brigade which will seek first prize of $1,500 includes Ben Hogan, one of the heroes of the winter circuit; Dick Metz, Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour, Horton Smith, Ralph Guldahl, Lloyd Mangrum, Clayton Heafner, Jimmy Foulis, Tony Penna, Ernie Harrison, Johnny Revolta, Johnny Bulla, Ky Laffoon, Butch Krueger, and Jimmy Hines.

Jimmy Demaret of Houston, leading money winner of the year and one of the advance favorites, will not compete. Demaret recently developed a blister on his right foot and left for home immediately after the Ryder cup series in Detroit. Demaret said he will drop out of all competitive golf until the national P. G. A. next month.

Wehrle Leads Amateurs.

Snead yesterday shot a 34—32—66, six under par, and best of the practice rounds. Bulla finished with a 68, as did Bill Williamsen, and Revolta turned in a 69 that included a six on the 18th.

The amateur contingent matches the professional corps in shooting ability. It is headed by Wilford Wehrle of the home club, low amateur in the 1940 Open; George Victor, sensation of the Western amateur last week; Art Doering, new Trans-Mississippi champion; Tom Sheehan, record setting medalist in the 1939 national amateur; Gus Moreland, new state title holder, and three former national amateur winners—Johnny Fischer, Willie Turnesa, and Chick Evans.

It's a Tough Course.

Tam o' Shanter, the site of the three day battle, is the most improved golf plant in the Chicago district. Under the direction of President George May, Tam has survived a clubhouse fire and a course flood

BILL LEE of the Cubs has a new-fangled sweat band to keep his new specs from getting splashed with perspiration. . . . It's like the one Walter Masterson of the Washington Senators wears. . . . Manager Jimmy Dykes, who charges Masterson tries to distract the hitters with his band, could not make similar complaints against Lee, who hides his under his cap. . . . Marchmont Schwartz, who is visiting in New Orleans, is trying to interest Tulane university authorities in a 1941 game with Stanford. . . . Clark Shaughnessy, Stanford's head coach, developed Tulane's first unbeaten football team in 1925. . . . For the first time in many years not a single event at the National A. A. U. track and field meet at Fresno, Cal., was won by a Negro athlete. . . . Seven of Joe Kuhel's 16 home runs have been made in Yankee stadium, which is a pretty good tipoff on the tricky architecture of the layout in which the Yankees play 77 of their home games. . . . The open track meet, sponsored by the South Bend Athletic association in South Bend tomorrow night, was organized by the late John P. Nicholson, Notre Dame coach, to give working boys a chance to compete in the sport. . . . Red Ormsby, American league umpire, has become 100 per cent air-minded, but is handicapped by not being able to tote his equipment on planes. . . . His pals help out by lugging the bosom protector from city to city on trains while Red drifts thru the clouds. . . . Al Scherer, New Orleans pitcher for whom the Cubs have been dickering, barely missed a no hit, no run game on July 14. . . . One scratch hit, which came in the eighth inning, was charged against him. . . . Playing with a tail-end team, Scherer has won 11 games and has lost only 3. . . .

Holcombe Ward, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, won the national singles title in 1904. . . . When Ray Mack, Cleveland second baseman, played football at Case university, his name was Mickovsky. . . . The shorter name was acquired by legal processes. . . . Ray Duncan of the University of Illinois football coaching staff has written a book on six-man football, which soon will be published by an eastern concern. . . . Bob Zuppke thinks six-man football is all right for small high schools which cannot muster enough talent for the orthodox game. . . . Waldo Fisher, assistant football coach at Northwestern university, is now associated with a New York Stock exchange firm's Chicago office. . . . Bernie Moore, Louisiana State football coach, owns a 400 acre farm near Winchester, Tenn., where he spends part of each summer. . . . Mickey Haslin, former Giant infielder, drives a hearse in the off season. . . . He now plays for San Diego. . . . Tom Harmon, Michigan's brilliant left half back, hopes that at this time next year the fans of the nation will be picking him for a starting position with the College All-Stars. . . . Harmon is burned up about a story that appeared in another newspaper last fall in which he was quoted as calling Bill De Correvont of Northwestern "a bum player." . . . "The whole story was a lie," says Tom. "I saw De Correvont play in high school and I thought he was great."

A Tip to War Department.

My mother-in-law says there's no sense in her daughter letting the government teach me how to fight. An Old Mathematics Book.

It's just an old mathematics book
With pages dog-eared, soiled, and torn;
Ink spots adorn its cover, too,
And all in all it looks quite worn—

With smudgy figures of old sums,
Initials of my school day beaux,
And love notes written on the sly,
Beneath a cross old teacher's nose;

And, lo! Between its pages old
I found the petals of a flower
That I had pressed long years ago
To mark for me a wondrous hour.

It's strange how things so soiled and worn
Can stir up memories old and dear,
And hearts beat faster at the thought
Of happy days of yesteryear.

How about a new baseball game to relieve the war and political tension? Herewith an All-Alphabetical All-Time Chicago baseball team. I'm starting with an A team and leaving the other 25 alphabetical possibilities to other industrious contributors.

Jimmy Archer, Cubs; Chick Autry, Sox	Catchers
Grover Alexander, Cubs; Nick Altrock, Sox; Pete Appleton, Sox	Pitchers
Cap Anson, Cubs	First base
Sparky Adams, Cubs	Second base
Luke Appling, Sox	Shortstop
Jake Atz, Sox	Third base
Ethan Allen, Cubs; Milo Allison, Cubs; Maurice Archdeacon, Sox	Outfielders

The manager, of course, would be Cap Anson. We could draft Jimmy Austin of the Sox as coach.

SENATORS SCORE TWO IN EIGHTH TO BEAT SOX, 5 TO 4

Pass with 3 On Forces In Winning Run.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Jack Knott wilted today and the outcome was disastrous both for himself and his White Sox associates. The Texas strong man, after leading from the start as the result of some batting heroics by Julius Solters, melted down to the vanishing point in the eighth, Eddie Smith wasn't able to fill an order for a rescuing job, and the Senators scored a brace of runs, one of them forced home, to make it two straight over the Chicagoans. The score was 5 to 4 and it was the Senators' fifth straight victory.

If Knott had been able to stave off his departure until completing the regulation nine innings, Solters' name would have been splattered all over the headlines. He accounted for all of his team's runs—runs that would have been winners if Knott's decline hadn't occured. Solters did his best job in the first inning, when, with two on, he whacked Kendall Chase for his fifth 1940 homer. Later he drove in another by singling but, after this pleasing fifth inning incident, the Sox bats went into almost total eclipse.

Gerry Starts Trouble.

What proved the start of Knott's finish was a single by Gerry Walker to open the eighth. Zeke Bonura didn't prove troublesome, but Cecil Travis, batting for Bloodworth, singled Walker to third and Knott surrendered his assignment to Smith. Buddy Myer, who earlier had damaged Knott with three hits, caught the Sox napping. He bunted to Kuhel for a single, and, altho Kuhel heaved the ball to the plate, it didn't arrive in time to stop Walker with the tying run. Then Smith lost his aim. He filled the bags by walking Pofahl and also walked Ferrell to force home the winning run.

Things began to boom for the Sox as soon as Webb had opened the first inning with a fly to Walker. Kreevich slipped a two bagger down the left field line and Kuhel, altho swinging hard enough to break his bat, produced only a slow bounder toward short. He beat it for a hit. Kreevich took third on the scratch. After looking over a few pitches, Solters boomed his homer into the left field bleachers, about 400 feet away.

Chase Is Pretty Good.

Knott got by safely in the home first, despite a hit with which Case opened the attack and despite a healthy line drive by Walker. Webb leaped into the air and speared the latter. But the big fellow's luck was different in the second. He walked Bloodworth with one out and an instant later Bloodworth was on his way to the plate, propelled by Myer's triple to right center. Another bit of Knott's three run lead vanished when Myer scored on Pofahl's fly to Solters.

Between the first and the fifth Chase conducted a high class party. In this stretch there was only one hit—a two base sock to right by Kuhel with two out in the third. He died on second when Solters popped to Bonura. The one run transaction in the fifth began with Webb singling to center after Knott had fanned. Kreevich singled to left and Kuhel flied to Lewis. Then Solters singled Webb home but Wright tapped to Chase.

Senators Get Lucky.

Altho Knott was jolted by three hits in the home fifth, there was a fluky aspect to the assault. With one out, Chase's bounder jumped over Kennedy's head for a two bagger. Case got a single on a grounder for which Appling made a late start, Chase scoring. Lewis hoisted a fly close to the line in left but between the sun in his eyes and his cap flying off, Solters let it drop for a single. Walker was set down on a fly to Solters, whereupon the fleet-

DODGERS BAT LEE OUT IN 3D TO WIN, 7 TO 4

Nicholson, Leiber Hit Home Runs.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Vito Tamulis.

The revived Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday whipped the Cubs for the eighth time in this otherwise beautiful summer, 7 to 4. The Cubs had shaken off chagrin over another of Bill Lee's failures and were just beginning to have fun with their bats at Curt Davis' expense when Manager Leo Durocher played them a dirty trick by sending in Vito Tamulis. Vito yielded one single in the last six innings, that a pinch effort by Manager Gabby Hartnett with two out in the seventh.

Since cheery home town items have been distressingly scarce this year, we're going to tell you about the aforesaid fun the Cubs were having before we give you details of Lee's latest failure and the defeat. The Cubs scored their first run in the third inning on a triple by Bill Nicholson and a foul by Hank Leiber. Then, in the third, with Dom Dallessandro, pass recipient on base, Nicholson made his No. 13 homer and Hank forthwith matched it with his No. 7. Alas, that was the Cub fun for the day, but how exhilarating while it lasted!

Bill's 12th Defeat.

Lee pitched nothing bigger than singles in the two and one-third innings he lasted, but they, combined with two walks and errors by Nicholson and Bill Rogell, were good for five runs, enough, you readily can figure, to accomplish victory for the Brooklyns.

It was Lee's 12th defeat—he's won a half dozen—and the 14th occasion he has failed to finish games he started. Charley Root, Vance Page, and Ken Raffensberger did the thankless relief pitching, while Tamulis was about the business of pinning Cub ears tight against Cub noggins.

There were two out in the first inning before Lee got caught in the first base hit shower. A pass to Cookie Lavagetto had been sandwiched between outs by Peewee Reese and Joe Medwick, after which Babe Phelps singled, scoring Lavagetto. Dixie Walker singled to left and Jimmy Wasdell singled to right, scoring Phelps. When Nicholson juggled the ball, Walker reached third and Wasdell second. Joe Vosmik flied to Nicholson.

Error Helps Dodgers.

In the second inning the Dodgers made their third run without making a hit. Pete Coscarart walked and moved up on Davis' sacrifice. Coscarart went to third on Reese's fly to Nicholson and proceeded home when Nicholson's throw got thru Rogell. Bob Mattick threw out Lavagetto.

Nicholson opened the home second with a triple to right and scored on Leiber's foul to Reese. Rogell popped to Reese, but Al Todd doubled and stopped at third on Mattick's single to deep short. Lee forced Mattick.

Lee was knocked out thus wise: Medwick and Phelps singled, but Walker flied to Dallessandro. Wasdell singled to center, scoring Medwick and putting Phelps on third. Root replaced Lee. Leiber made a spectacular catch of Vosmik's drive, Phelps scoring. Wasdell was caught trying to steal second.

The Cubs broke loose in one of

KINNICK, SMITH ARE ALL-COACH ALL-STARS, TOO

Given Unanimous Vote of Seven Head Men.

Jim Phelan.

Seven nationally known coaches, casting ballots in the nation-wide poll to select a starting college lineup for the Chicago All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers on Aug. 29, voted unanimously yesterday for Harry Smith, Southern California's great guard, and Nile Kinnick, Iowa's 60 minute triple threat half back.

Banks McFadden, the gangling one-man back field from Clemson, was named on six of the seven ballots, and Bill Kerr, Notre Dame end, was selected on five.

Bo McMillin of Indiana, who coached the All-Stars to a 28 to 16 victory over the Washington Redskins in the 1938 game, nominated Kinnick and McFadden as his choices for the starting half back positions and placed Smith at guard with Frank Bykowski, Purdue's most valuable player last year. McMillin's selections follow:

Ends—Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State, and Bill Kerr, Notre Dame.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Jim Reeder, Illinois.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Frank Bykowski, Purdue.
Center—John Haman, Northwestern.
Quarter back—Steve Sitko, Notre Dame.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Banks McFadden, Clemson.
Full back—Harold Van Every, Minnesota.

Lou Little, veteran Columbia coach, who was a member of the All-Star coaching staff in 1936 when the collegians and Detroit Lions played a 7 to 7 tie, votes with the rest of the experts on the half backs. He names:

Ends—Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State, and Bill Kerr, Notre Dame.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Harry Stella, Army.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Jim Turner, Holy Cross.
Center—John Schiechl, Santa Clara.
Quarter back—Ambrose Schindler, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Banks McFadden, Clemson.
Full back—Dom Principe, Fordham.

Harry Stuhldreher, head coach and athletic director at the University of Wisconsin, agreed with the majority in the back field, but voted for Frank Ivy of Oklahoma at end, Hal Method of Northwestern at guard and Steve Andrako, Ohio State center. Stuhldreher selected:

Ends—Frank Ivy, Oklahoma, and Bill Kerr, Notre Dame.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Jim Reeder, Illinois.
Guards—Hal Method, Northwestern, and Harry Smith, Southern California.
Center—Steve Andrako, Ohio State.
Quarter back—Grenville Lansdell, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Harold Van Every, Minnesota.
Full back—Banks McFadden, Clemson.

Anderson Names Own Men.

Eddie Anderson, the man of the hour in Iowa, named two of his Hawkeye Iron Men. Anderson rates his pass catching end, Ervin Prasse, a nine letter man and honor student, worthy of a place in the starting lineup. Anderson would switch several men, placing Ambrose Schindler, Southern California's game breaking quarter back, at the full back post and moving John McLaughry, Brown's great full back, up to quarter back. He also would start Win Pedersen, Minnesota's giant tackle, at guard to team with Smith. His ballot reads:

Ends—Erwin Prasse, Iowa, and Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Jim Reeder, Illinois.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Win Pedersen, Minnesota.
Center—Clyde Turner, Hardin-Simmons.
Quarter back—John McLaughry, Brown.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Jack Nix, Mississippi State.
Full back—Ambrose Schindler, Southern California.

Moore Names Southerners.

Bernie Moore of Louisiana State, another coach who has first hand knowledge of what it takes in the All-Star game from his assignment as an assistant coach in 1937, put two southerners, Nix and McFadden, in his back field to team with Kinnick and Grenville Lansdell, Southern California quarter back. Moore's selections:

Ends—Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State, and Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Millard White, Tulane.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Jim Turner, Holy Cross.
Center—Clyde Turner, Hardin-Simmons.
Quarter back—Grenville Lansdell, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Jack Nix, Mississippi State.
Full backs—Banks McFadden, Clemson.

Jimmy Phelan, another former All-Star assistant coach from the University of Washington, nominates Kerr, Smith, Kinnick, and McFadden and places Bob Hoffman, Southern California back, on his squad to cover Don Hutson, the Packers' record holding pass receiver. He would like to see the following eleven start the game:

Ends—Esco Sarkkinen, Ohio State, and Bill Kerr, Notre Dame.
Tackles—Walter Merrill, Alabama, and Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Eberle Schultz, Oregon State.
Center—John Schiechl, Santa Clara.
Quarter back—Ambrose Schindler, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Bob Hoffman, Southern California.
Full back—Banks McFadden, Clemson.

Boosts Smith and Kinnick.

A canvass of the football players in this year's senior class revealed no one in the opinion of Buck Shaw, Santa Clara coach, better qualified to start the All-Star game at guard and half back than Smith and Kinnick. The former Notre Dame star also likes Kerr, McFadden and his own center, Schiechl. His ballot follows:

Ends—Bill Kerr, Notre Dame, and William Anahu, Santa Clara.
Tackles—Joe Boyd, Texas Aggies, and Lee Artoe, California.
Guards—Harry Smith, Southern California, and Frank Bykowski, Purdue.
Center—John Schiechl, Santa Clara.
Quarter back—Grenville Lansdell, Southern California.
Half backs—Nile Kinnick, Iowa, and Banks McFadden, Clemson.
Full back—Frank Emmons, Oregon.

ADMIRERS HONOR CHICK EVANS ON 50TH BIRTHDAY

More than 250 admirers of Chick Evans assembled at Edgewater golf club yesterday to honor the veteran amateur on his 50th birthday. The guests played golf during the day and assembled in the clubhouse in the evening for a banquet at which the former National Open and National Amateur champion was eulogized. Evans, who rose from caddy to become the city's greatest amateur golfer, did not play.

A number of professional stars entered in the Chicago Open at Tam o' Shanter today carried off the major golfing honors.

Sam Snead led the field with 36—35—71 and Johnny Bulla was second with 38—35—73. There was a five way tie among the non-professional shooters. They were Jimmy Miller, 39—36—75; Ted Payseur, 37—38—75; Homer D. Sayre, 36—39—75; Steve Williams, 39—36—75, and Harry Bishop, 37—38—75.

Low net honors were shared by Carl Ragnitt, 81—10—71, and J. P. Harding, 91—20—71.

A bronze replica of a statue of Evans was presented to him at the banquet. The statue will be placed in the Chick Evans scholars' room in Scott hall at Northwestern university. Proceeds of yesterday's party will go to the Chick Evans caddy scholarship fund at the university.

Swedberg, Nalon to Meet Twice in Midget Races

Paul Swedberg and Duke Nalon will be leading contenders in two midget auto racing meets over the week-end. They are listed for the eight event program tomorrow night at Raceway park, 129th street and Ashland avenue, and in the races scheduled for Sunday night at Riverview speedway.

Yachts Await Start of Race to Mackinac

Since the first race from Chicago to Mackinac island, Mich., in 1898, a total of 618 yachts have sailed in the 33 races, an inspection of the records showed yesterday. Ten years ago the entries numbered only 20 boats. Tomorrow, more than 50 of the fastest yachts of the Great Lakes will start in the largest fleet ever to sail the course.

Each yacht's crew averages between seven and eight men [including in some cases, women]. Thus an estimate places a total of approximately 4,600 who have sailed in the Mackinac race.

Two Races Held in Gales.

Weather conditions have varied from the 80 mile gale in 1911 and the 66 mile gale three years ago, to calms in which crews threw orange crates overboard and did not lose sight of them for as long as five hours. Amorita, the 100 foot schooner that set the all-time Mackinac race record during the 1911 storm, passed Point Betsie, Mich., 18½ hours after the start. This distance is 203 miles.

Fastest elapsed time to the island, made by Amorita, was 31 hours, 14 minutes, and 30 seconds. This averages more than 10 miles per hour, altho the schooner hit 17 miles per hour at the height of the gale.

In 1927, the race was changed into two divisions, Universal [racing] and cruising. This was necessary so that the slower and heavier, but more seaworthy cruising craft would compete together and not against the fast, narrow racing yachts.

New Prize Is Added.

A new prize, the Chicago-Mackinac trophy, was presented by a group of yachtsmen headed by Commodore George Woodruff. Since then, the trophy has been alternated between the two divisions with the historic Mackinac cup, original award for the race. This year the cruising division will race for the Mackinac cup, and the racers will compete for the trophy.

Only one boat, the Q class sloop Siren, has won the race as many as five times. L. L. [Ole] Karas, Siren's former owner-skipper, will sail tomorrow aboard Manitou, James R. Lowe's big white yawl. The Manitou, 1938 winner of the Mackinac cup, broke all records last week in winning the Port Huron-Mackinac island race, 240 miles, the second year in succession.

Purse Held Up for Armstrong and Lew Jenkins

New York, July 18 (AP).—Fireworks broke loose today in the wake of the Henry Armstrong-Lew Jenkins fight, with loud explosions coming from an order holding up the purses of both battlers and a threat from Promoter Mike Jacobs that he would quit boxing.

The state athletic commission, giving no reason for its action, directed Jacobs, in a letter written before the bout, to withhold the fighters' purses pending a meeting tomorrow which the promoter, Armstrong, Jenkins, and Armstrong's manager, Eddie Mead, were ordered to attend. Armstrong stopped the Texan in a six round thriller last night in the Polo grounds. His end of the gate was $25,404.48, compared to $24,984.63 for Jenkins.

Jacobs, irked by this latest commission decision on top of a row last night over bandages for the fighters' hands, roared that if "they don't stop this interference, I'm going to quit this business."

"I'll pull out," he shouted, "and let somebody else over there [pointing in the direction of Madison Square Garden] book fights."

The commission refused to say why it was holding up the boxers' pay. Gen. John J. Phelan, the chairman, said, "We'll tell you all about it tomorrow." From another source, however, it was learned that there really wasn't much to the thing.

It seems that before the commission would sanction last night's nontitle bout Welterweight King Armstrong and Lightweight Boss Jenkins had to agree to make the next defenses of their championships in New York state. It was learned that the commission ordered tomorrow's meeting—and the withholding of the purses—to get these agreements on paper, and probably to request each fighter to post a forfeit of $1,500.

Challedon Starts Trip to California Track Today

Boston, Mass., July 18 (AP).—William L. Brann, owner of Challedon, said tonight that the 1939 turf champion, which ran third in yesterday's $50,000 Massachusetts handicap, will be shipped to Inglewood, Cal., tomorrow for the $50,000 Hollywood Gold cup race July 27.

X-RAY CAN'T FIND FRACTURE; JOYCE TO FACE MORELIA

Substitution of Ward Is Called Off.

Willie Joyce, who suffered a bruised rib during a final workout on Wednesday, will be able to go thru with an eight round return bout with George Morelia, Detroit lightweight, in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, tonight. Earlier Issy Kline, manager of Joyce, said his protégé would be unable to fight.

After X-ray pictures taken in American hospital last night showed no signs of a fracture, Kline changed his mind. The pictures were taken under the direction of Dr. Frank A. Lagorio of the Illinois boxing commission.

Promoter Alex Veck expressed the belief Joyce was attempting to take a runout. After being handed a boxing lesson by Morelia in White City on May 17, Joyce scored a 12 second knockout over the Detroiter in the same arena a week ago. Morelia claims Joyce's victory was an accident.

A six round semi-final will bring together Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont., junior welterweight, and Sammy Scully. Other bouts:

Booker Beckwith vs. Bobby Millsap [5], 175.
Matt Dougherty vs. Kelly Kehn [4], 136.
George Feltes vs. Pete Hantz [4], 160.

Saverio Turiello, shifty welterweight from Italy, opened sparring workouts in Trafton's gymnasium yesterday for a 10 round rematch with Milt Aron in Marigold outdoor arena Monday. In a three round drill with Chico Romo, Los Angeles 140 pounder, Turiello showed all the skill demonstrated in two previous triumphs over Aron. After the drill Turiello was down to 148 pounds, four under the stipulated weight.

Sammy Angott, National Boxing association lightweight champion, will open training in Trafton's gymnasium tomorrow for a 10 round nontitle encounter against Nick Castiglione of the Italo-American Youth organization in Mills stadium next Wednesday.

Amateur boxing shows will be presented this evening in Madison-Cicero outdoor arena, 4830 Madison street; Parichy stadium, Harlem avenue and Harrison street; Northwest stadium, 4043 North Cicero avenue, and Davis Square park, 45th street and Marshfield avenue.

YANKS DEAL 5TH DEFEAT IN ROW TO INDIANS, 9-6

Early Lead Bolstered by Three Home Runs.

New York, July 18 (AP).—The New York Yankees built a 10 hit attack around three home runs today to give Cleveland its fifth straight defeat, 9 to 6, and help drop the Indians from the American league lead. The Yanks virtually won the game in the first two innings. In the first, Buddy Rosar hit his third home run of the season, scoring Frank Crosetti, Red Rolfe, and Joe DiMaggio. In the second, Rolfe hit a homer, scoring Crosetti. DiMaggio got his 17th home run of the year in the seventh. Score:

TIGERS WIN IN 11TH, 10 TO 8.

Boston, Mass., July 18 (AP).—The Red Sox's Jack Wilson ushered the Detroit Tigers back into first place today by passing three batters before Pinky Higgins slammed out a two run single in the 11th inning that gave his mates a 10 to 8 victory. The Red Sox were unable to uphold an early 8 to 3 lead.

The Tigers worked the first triple play Fenway park has seen in many years during the seventh inning. Jim Tabor opened Boston's half with a single and made second as Johnny Peacock beat out a bunt. Tabor then stole third before Marv Owen grounded to Charley Gehringer.

That veteran second sacker was set to tag Peacock as he raced for second, but after the latter turned back to first Gehringer tossed to Rudy York to put out Owen. York's throw to Ralph Kress doubled up Peacock at second base and Higgins relayed Kress' throw to Birdie Tebbetts, who nailed Tabor at the plate.

their too rare displays on power in the third. After Stan Hack and Bill Herman had bounced out to Coscarart, Dallessandro walked and scored on Nicholson's homer, a drive high into the right field bleacher. Leiber followed with his homer, his going into the left field bleacher. Rogell flied to Walker.

The only run off Root in 4 2-3 innings was Coscarart's homer with none on in the sixth. It was one of the two hits off Charles, the other being a triple by Reese with two out in the fourth.

Page, third Cub pitcher, got thru the eighth without difficulty, but got nicked a bit in the ninth when nudged along by Rogell's second error of the afternoon. Tamulis opened with a single, after which Reese sacrificed. Rogell picked up Reese's bunt and threw the ball into the dirt in front of first, Tamulis got to third and Reese to first on the misplay. Lavagetto singled to left, Tamulis scoring. Medwick bounced out to Mattick. Phelps was given an intentional pass, loading the bases, then Raffensberger replaced Page. Walker bounced to Hack and Reese was forced at the plate, Hack to Todd. Wasdell struck out.

TAYLOR VICTOR ON 37TH HOLE IN JUNIOR TOURNEY

William Taylor Jr. of Acacia, unheralded at the outset, won the Chicago district junior closed championship and possession of the Aldin B. Swift Memorial trophy at Park Ridge yesterday by defeating Sanford Rissman of Bryn Mawr, 1 up in 37 holes.

Both fought uphill battles to reach the final round, Taylor conquering the defending champion, Earl Wild of Westward Ho, in the quarter-finals, while Rissman sent Goodwin Clark of Hinsdale, the medalist, to the sidelines in the semi-finals.

The final match was nip and tuck with neither ever holding more than a two hole advantage.

LEE VS. MASTERSON TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 18.—Thornton [Lefty] Lee will pitch for the White Sox tomorrow in the final game of their visit here. The Senators' starter will be Walter Masterson.

The fans taunted Manager James Dykes today with "We want McNair," the reason being those four errors Boob committed to present yesterday's game to the Senators. But Dykes, while not exactly in the mood to give the little infielder to the first taker, probably won't return him to an active rôle for a long time.

Bill Dietrich was plunked on the right shoulder by a batted ball during the pregame drill and retired to the clubhouse for ice applications. Anyway, it was too hot for comfort on the ball field.

CLAUDE PASSEAU FACES DODGERS IN FINAL TODAY

Whit Wyatt Selected to Pitch for Visitors.

Claude Passeau and Whit Wyatt will oppose each other this afternoon in the final of the Chicago-Brooklyn series.

The Cubs' squad of able bodied athletes of varying talents yesterday was reduced to 20, five under the major league limit. Phil Cavarretta was put in the sick bay as a result of an injury suffered several days ago in a slide into second base. It was said no additions will be made to the pay roll. With Glen Russell recovering from an appendectomy, Stan Hack had to move from third to first base and Bill Rogell filled in at third.

Bill Lee was the picture of dejection when he was getting his bumps in his short tenure yesterday. Terrible experiences Bill's been having are the more aggravating because the once great performer can't figure what's wrong.

The Phillies will be in town tomorrow and Sunday. One game tomorrow, two Sunday, and then the Cubs will take off for Boston and a six city trip which will include Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh in that order.

MINAREK TO PITCH.

Bill Minarek will pitch for the Chicago Firemen against the Chicago Policemen Tuesday afternoon in the annual charity baseball game at Edward Hines hospital.

FOR "80 SHOOTERS" AND BETTER

Don't compromise your game with an "all-purpose" ball. Play a ball fitted to your game. Wilson's new 19W40 is for the 80 shooters and better. For the "90-and-up'ers," there's the Spartan. The high-tensioned "HH" is for the hard-hitting experts. All are 75¢ balls.

Naturally "GOLDEN"

Q. What's the newest, smartest, coolest drink to serve in summer?

A. The "GOLDEN Collins."

Q. Why is it called the "GOLDEN Collins"?

A. It's made with Seagram's Ancient Bottle Gin—the superb gin with the natural golden color.

Q. How did this gin acquire its "golden" color?

A. By an original and secret process—a slow and prolonged process—which gives the gin its mellow flavor and its natural color of pure pale gold.

Seagram's Ancient Bottle distilled dry Gin

$50,000 CLASSIC LOOMS AGAIN AS CHAMPIONS' RACE

Leading Stake Winners Run Tomorrow.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The $50,000 Classic stakes, which will be run tomorrow at Arlington Park, seems likely to fulfill its tradition as the race of champions. With yesterday's arrival of Edward R. Bradley's Bimelech and Dixiana farm's Sirocco, this race was assured of a field which probably includes the horse which will be recognized next fall as the season's best 3 year old.

Among them Bimelech, Milky Way farm's Gallahadion and Arnold Hanger's Dit have accounted for the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness, the Belmont stakes, and the Wood Memorial. Andy K., another member of the Classic field, has the Kent handicap to his credit. Sirocco and Alhalon have been unable to win a stake event in the 3 year old division.

It is obvious that any horse which stays out of tomorrow's big race will have a hard time setting up a claim for the title, with the Classic as well as the above mentioned stakes missing from his list of achievements.

Two Carry Top Weight.

Thus the Classic seems assured of being the same kind of a race which was won in the past by Challedon, Blue Larkspur, Gallant Fox, Cavalcade, Omaha, and other famous thorobreds.

Under the allowance conditions of the Classic, Bimelech and Gallahadion will carry top weight of 126 pounds because of the value of stakes they have won. Dit and Andy K. will come in at 123. Sirocco, whose only important achievement was a victory in the Walden stakes last fall, has been allotted 121 pounds and Alhalon will tote only 118.

The weight allotments are not expected to have a great deal of bearing on the betting. Those who like Bimelech or Gallahadion aren't going to worry much about the three pounds allowed to Dit and Andy K. To date, Alhalon has shown nothing to indicate that he could win even if he had an allowance of 28 pounds instead of eight.

Bimelech Appears Fit.

Bimelech was greeted by a delegation of horsemen upon his arrival at noon yesterday. He appeared to be in excellent condition as he came down the unloading chute. Then he was led a mile along the road to his barn.

This is his second trip to Arlington. He came out last year to run in the Futurity, but was scratched a few hours before post time, his handlers saying that they had taken this action because of an off track.

Bimelech still hasn't been to the post in muddy going, and there is some question whether he would be withdrawn from the Classic in the event of rain. It is known that Bradley is anxious to have another of his horses repeat the performance of Blue Larkspur, which won in 1929, but on the other hand he has shown a dislike to expose Bimelech to the hazards of running over slippery footing.

Arlington officials are preparing for another big crowd such as packed the track on July Fourth. With Bimelech and Gallahadion as attractions, the attendance is expected to reach 40,000.

Bimelech Hopes to Stay in Front

Bimelech, E. R. Bradley's 3 year old star, has a slight lead over the Dixiana farm's Sirocco as the two horses are led to the stables after arriving from Suffolk Downs yesterday to run in the $50,000 Classic at Arlington Park tomorrow. More than 40,000 are expected to see the race, which may decide the 3 year old championship.

Golf Stars to Compete at Tam o' Shanter.

within four years and its water crossed acreage will give the lads more than one problem come Sunday evening's finish.

Furthermore, Tam o' Shanter is the most conveniently located tournament site a local major event has had since the national amateur of 1931 was conducted at Beverly. Howard street is at 7500 north and Caldwell road is approximately 6400 west. Free bus service will be conducted by the club, buses meeting street cars at Milwaukee and Devon avenues three times an hour. Tam o' Shanter and officers of the Chicago District Golf association haven't stopped at this point in making the Open a real show for the galleries. Bleachers have been set up at a number of strategic points on the course for foot weary fans.

Use New Scoring Standards.

Another innovation is the system of scoring standards devised by Secretary Tom McMahon of the C. D. G. A. These will show how the tournament leaders and favorites are faring against par in an up to the minute fashion. If a player is three under par for 45 holes or two over for 58, the standards following him will so inform the galleries instead of giving his record for the particular round he is playing.

A season ticket good for all three days of the tournament will cost only $3, one of the best bargains Chicago galleries ever have been offered. Admission for today's round is $1.10,

Indiana Youth Enters Tribune Swim Trials

The Chicagoland 100-yard free style swimming races, preliminaries of which will be held July 27 and 28 in four sections, will attract outstanding swimmers from territory outside Chicago and its suburbs. Latest of the entries is that of Harley Pritchett, of Terre Haute, Ind.

Pritchett will compete in Class D for boys 17 and 18 years of age. On Saturday, July 27, he will compete in Cincinnati with the Terre Haute Y. M. C. A. team. On the following afternoon he expects to be at Whealan pool, Devon and Milwaukee avenues, to win a gold qualifying medal which will then entitle him to compete in the championships Aug. 4 in Lincoln park lagoon.

Four days remain in which to submit entries for the trials. All must be mailed by midnight Monday. Preliminaries will be held July 27 in Cermak pool, Lyons, Ill., and the Sherman park pool, 52d street and Racine avenue. On July 28, in addition to the races in Whealan pool, trials will be held in California park pool, 3901 North California avenue.

Mills Beat Peoria Nine, 9-1, in Semi-Pro Meet

Peoria, Ill., July 18 (AP).—The Chicago Mills scored their second straight triumph in the Illinois Semi-Pro Baseball tournament by defeating Peoria's E. N. Woodruff club tonight, 9 to 1. In the second game, Lefty Newell yielded only one hit in seven innings and fanned 13 batters to give Cohen's of Peoria a 9 to 0 victory over Oglesby. Newell struck out the first eight batters to face him.

SOUTHWEST STAR HEAVILY BACKED IN EL PASO VOTE

El Paso, Tex., July 18 [Special].—Member schools of the Border conference are backing Ken Heineman, Texas Mines quarter back, for a position on the College All-Star team which plays the Green Bay Packers in Chicago on Aug. 29. Blocks of votes for Heineman are being received daily from conference schools, including Arizona university, New Mexico university, New Mexico State college, Arizona State at Tempe, and Arizona State at Flagstaff.

Heineman is the only candidate for the All-Star squad from the far southwest, which embraces West Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico.

Friends of the Texas Mines star are making a house to house canvass in El Paso.

15,000 ATTEND EXPOSITION OF NEGRO ADVANCE

Sponsors Explain Ban on Birth Control Exhibit.

Fifteen thousand persons have visited the American Negro exposition—the "Negro world's fair"—since it opened July 4 in the Coliseum, officials in charge said yesterday.

The exposition will be open until Sept. 2. It traces the progress of the Negro in education, science, health, culture, art, and agriculture in the 75 years since emancipation. One hundred twenty exhibits, including an art show of 300 paintings and sculpture by Negro artists and a "swing" version of the operetta, "The Chimes of Normandy," take up the floor space of the Coliseum.

Programs observing Detroit day and North and South Carolina day will be held at the exposition tonight. Several hundred persons, including Mayor Edward J. Jeffries Jr., will come from Detroit for the observance.

Film to Be Exhibited.

A half hour film, "Negro Life and Education," will be shown in the north hall within the next two weeks. The movie has been made under the supervision of Rufus Clement, president of Atlanta university; Frederick D. Patterson, president of Tuskegee institute, and Claude A. Barnett, director of the Associated Negro Press and a member of the exposition's authority.

The fair, organized by James W. Washington, south side real estate man, is being financed by a grant of $75,000 from the state, a like amount from congress, and $15,000 from the Julius Rosenwald fund. Only two-thirds of the state's appropriation has been made available up to the present time, according to Truman K. Gibson, Jr., executive director.

A controversy recently arose when the exhibition commission canceled the exhibit space of the Birth Control Federation of America. Hundreds of letters from doctors, farmers, clubwomen, social workers, schools, and members of birth control leagues opposing this action came to Wendell E. Green, vice chairman.

An equal number of letters, however, was sent by Roman Catholics commending the commission's stand, Mr. Gibson said yesterday. The birth control exhibit was refused space due to pressure by the Committee on Catholic Participation in the American Negro exposition. Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of Chicago, chairman of the committee, and the Rev. John F. Ryan, executive secretary, contended that the exhibit would have been illegal under the federal law.

Wishes to Avoid Friction.

"We have an excellent health exhibit anyway," Mr. Gibson asserted. "The birth control exhibit would not have been important enough to endanger the entire fair itself. We wish to keep the good will of the Catholics who have been coöperative with us."

Members of the Illinois Birth Control league said the exhibit was developed at the invitation of the commission, in consultation with the national Negro advisory council of the Birth Control Federation of America. It would have graphically illustrated how 45 white mothers in every 10,000 births die as compared to 85 Negro mothers in the same number and that 50 white babies out of 1,000 die at birth as compared to 82 Negro infants. Exhibits also asserted the progress that could be made by the Negro race in health by birth control under medical supervision.

FINDS OLD FRIEND TO OBTAIN DATA FOR CITIZENSHIP

Mrs. Rose Gaines, 50 years old, who came to Chicago from London, England, 27 years ago, will begin another attempt to get her papers as an American citizen today, and this time has every hope of succeeding. For that she can thank her own detective work.

Mrs. Gaines lives at 630 Sheridan road. She had neglected to apply for papers until a few months ago. Then she found herself unable to recall the year she and her son, Raymond, and two daughter landed at Quebec. She couldn't remember the name of the boat. She did recollect her friendship aboard ship with a girl named Rose. She heard Rose had moved to Chicago's west side and married a furrier.

Weeks of canvassing the west side neighborhoods availed nothing. Then she began visiting loop furriers who formerly were located on the west side. The first shop was that of I. Kastil, 5 South Wabash avenue. Kastil heard Mrs. Gaines' story and smiled. "You've come to the right place," he said. Mrs. Rose Kastil and Mrs. Gaines recognized each other instantly. Mrs. Kastil supplied the immigration details.

The Kastils live at 6042 Kenmore avenue. Raymond Gaines, who is in the wholesale jewelry business, lives at 640 Addison street.

FALL OFF PORCH FATAL TO CHILD.

Mayetta Slutzky, 5 years old, died yesterday in Mount Sinai hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday when she fell to the pavement from the third floor porch of her home at 3506 18th street.

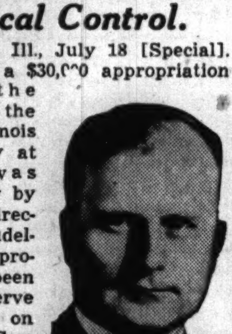
NUDELMAN WON'T GIVE UNIVERSITY $30,000 VOTED IT

School's Head Charges Political Control.

Springfield, Ill., July 18 [Special].—Release of a $30,000 appropriation made by the legislature to the Southern Illinois university at Carbondale was refused today by Finance Director S. L. Nudelman. The appropriation has been held in reserve by the state on orders of Gov. Henry Horner.



Roscoe C. Pulliam.

The action was referred to by President Roscoe C. Pulliam of Southern Illinois university, a normal school as "arbitrary and capricious political interference." He observed that the recent scandal at Louisiana State university is an example of what can happen when politicians get a grip on an educational institution.

Two months ago a special senate committee which investigated the failure to release the fund reported it was of the opinion Nudelman was acting without authority.

School's Emergency Told.

In seeking release of the money, Pulliam wrote several months ago that the university was operating under emergency conditions with grossly inadequate facilities. He added that "unless the money now held in reserve be released between now and September, it will be necessary for us to deny admission to about 300 students next fall."

Nudelman asserted that state investigators had found the school would be "able to progress with a normal and healthy growth" without the use of the appropriation. He said his action in withholding the fund was taken on orders of the governor to insure economy of operation after the senate added $30,000 to 1940-41 biennial appropriation for the institution, making the Carbondale school's appropriation approximately $117,000 greater than for the previous two years.

Political Power Attacked.

When he was notified today of Nudelman's refusal, Pulliam remarked: "It is important to remember that the power to withhold money from an institution is the power to completely control or destroy it."

"If it is the privilege," he continued, "of the director of finance or any other political functionary of the state to withhold money at will from an educational institution after it has been appropriated by the legislature and approved by the governor, then there is no limit to what might conceivably be done by way of compelling the administrative authorities and instructors in the institutions to use them for political purposes or have their support withdrawn."

DECLINE IN HIRING OF MILK DRIVERS TOLD TO ARBITERS

Testimony to show that the employment of union milk wagon drivers in the Chicago area has decreased greatly in the last 10 years was presented yesterday to the three man board arbitrating wage differences of the union and the employing dealers.

The principal witness, placed on the stand by the dealers, was Dr. Raleigh W. Stone, formerly a professor of economics at the University of Chicago. Certain large companies which handle the bulk of the home delivery business, Dr. Stone said, had 5,790 union drivers in 1931 and have only 3,445 now. He added that the volume of their business had fallen 40 per cent in the period and their customers had decreased 48 per cent.

The union has refused to accept a lowered wage scale which the dealers claimed was necessary to restore the home delivery business.

Girl Wounded by Stray Shot Sues for $50,000

A suit for damages of $50,000 was filed in Superior court yesterday in behalf of Catherine Dressel, 13 years old, 2849 Congress street, who was wounded in the head by a stray bullet which came thru the kitchen of her home on April 19, 1939. The suit, filed by Attorney Earl Little, is against George Viscariello, 20, of 2941 Harrison street, and John Burrows, 17, of 3000 Flournoy street, who allegedly were firing a gun near the girl's home when she was wounded.

Ex-Policeman Gets Year for Violating Probation

John Warpenberg, 43 years old, a former city policeman, was sentenced to one year in the Bridewell yesterday for violation of probation on which he was placed in March, 1939, after a tavern shooting. Probation Officer Edward J. Shaw told Judge N. J. Bonelli that Warpenberg stabbed a man in a quarrel in Rock Island last October. He was arrested as a violator of probation last week on his release from the state penal farm at Vandalia.

OBITUARIES

Martin W. Grosse.

Martin W. Grosse, 65 years old, an attorney and a former official of the old village of Harlem, was found dead yesterday in his room at 15 West Pearson street. Mr. Grosse, a descendant of a pioneer Chicago family, was village attorney in Harlem in 1904 and president in 1905 and 1906. At that time Harlem was composed of parts of the present villages of Oak Park, River Forest, and Forest Park. During the last 25 years Mr. Grosse was associated with the Cantwell and Cantwell law office at 160 North La Salle street. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Fred Klober, three sisters, and a brother.

George Harold Savage.

New York, July 18 [Special].—George Harold Savage, 54 years old, an attorney, died last night. During the world war he was general counsel and secretary of the United States shipping board emergency fleet corporation. Afterward, as major in the army, he was chief of the advisory branch of the division of purchase, storage and traffic, under Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals.

Hiram Densmore.

Beloit, Wis., July 18 [Special].—Hiram Densmore, 78 years old, retired head of the botany department of Beloit college, died this morning. He taught at Beloit for 47 years until his retirement in 1936. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Margaret and Theodora of Beloit, and Mrs. Arthur Collins of Hinsdale, Ill.

Ross H. Bobbitt.

The funeral of Ross H. Bobbitt, Aurora restaurant operator, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 332 Downer place in Aurora. Mr. Bobbitt died Wednesday night in the Copley hospital in Aurora. He was 54 years old. His widow, Metta, survives.

SHIFT TENANTS AT ARMY DEPOT TO AID DEFENSE

Veterans' Unit Moves to North Cicero Avenue.

BY AL CHASE.

One of the three big units comprising the United States army quartermaster depot at 1819 West Pershing road, said to be the largest of its kind in the world, is to be made ready for national defense needs at once. This was disclosed yesterday when it was learned that one of the tenants, the Veterans' administration supply depot, is to move to new headquarters at 1135 North Cicero avenue.

The three army buildings, containing a million square feet of floor space and built in 1917 at a cost of 5½ million dollars, are known officially as the Sixth Corps Area quartermaster's reservation.

Told to Vacate Building.

Two of the units are occupied by the quartermaster. The third, building "C," has three tenants: the Veterans supply depot, the department of agriculture, and the Indian bureau, a division of the department of interior.

Two months ago the quartermaster department received instructions from Washington to vacate building "C" as soon as possible. It was understood the space will be used by army units. Veterans' administration, which occupies approximately 350,000 square feet, will be the first to move.

Accept Lease Offer.

The government has accepted for the Veterans' administration an offer of the Pines Winterfront company to lease 210,000 square feet in its two story building at the Cicero avenue address, altho the lease has not yet been signed. J. H. Van Vlissingen & Co. is negotiating the transaction.

The supply depot, of which E. A. McGinn is manager, furnished food, drugs, and other supplies to all veterans' hospitals west of Chicago. Other space in addition to the Pines plant may be leased, it was said.

The administration will pay a rental of $5,500 a month, or $66,000 for the one year lease to be made.

DIE MAKER ASKS TO REOPEN NLRB BACK PAY ORDER

Stewart Die Casting corporation, a subsidiary of the Stewart-Warner corporation, has reopened its fight against a National Labor Relations board order affecting back pay and reinstatement of strikers, Attorney Frank H. Towner of Winston, Strawn and Shaw, representing the company, said yesterday.

A petition has been filed for a rehearing of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals order affirming the NLRB finding the company must reinstate with back pay 190 strikers who participated in a sitdown strike in March, 1937, Towner said.

'Amateur' America Told: 'Shun Professional War of Europe'

Ernest T. Weir.

A single incident or a misguided statement of policy by a government official might lead America into war, Ernest T. Weir warned the Associated Industries of Alabama at its annual meeting in Birmingham. Weir, who is president of the American Iron and Steel Institute and of National Steel corporation, said the greatest responsibility of industry at present is to keep the nation out of war.

Weir asserted the recent upturn in business was due to one circumstance—the European war. The rise in the business curve coincided with the outbreak of war, he asserted, and the improvement was accelerated by speculative buying to anticipate war demands. Weir said altho activity has been almost entirely of a domestic nature, speculative buying has been the spark plug.

Fears War Influences.

"At present the American people are solid in their opposition to war, but so were they in the first two years of the last war," asserted Weir. "As there was then, there is now danger that as time goes on this watchfulness will vanish. A sudden incident, a misguided action or statement of policy by a government official, a fanning of the flames of passion by people who have their own reasons for doing so, and we might find ourselves quickly and without knowing how or why, once again on the road to war. That is a danger every real American must anticipate."

Weir urged members of the association not to be beguiled by persons who argue persuasively that America has a common cause with the so-called democracies of Europe even to the point of war.

Europe Accustomed to War.

Most nations of Europe, he said, are "old hands in the war game and fighting is an old world pastime." During the 155 years of American independence, according to the speaker, England has spent 68 per cent of the time engaged in some sort of a war. During the same period, he estimated, France has devoted 66 per cent of her time to hostilities.

"In war, America is an amateur among professionals," Weir continued. "Our frontier is not on the Rhine. It is on the Alabama, the Mississippi, the Ohio. It is at every crossroads where humble folks meet to weigh the problems of peacetime life and to forge America's tomorrow out of the experience of yesterday and today."

PLEA FOR FACTS IN UTILITY PROBE REJECTED BY SEC

Blame Union Electric for Delay in Quiz.

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission rejected today a request from the North American company that it make public evidence gathered in an 18 month inquiry into Union Electric company of Missouri, and that it make a public rather than private investigation of Illinois Iowa Power company.

The commission published an exchange of letters with Edward L. Shea, New York, president of North American, top unit in a $1,250,000,000 holding company system which includes Union Electric and Illinois Iowa Power.

Detrimental to Company.

Shea contended the SEC's present plans would "delay constructive and decisive action" and that failure to disclose all facts in the Union Electric investigation "has been seriously detrimental to the company."

Chairman Jerome N. Frank said in reply that the commission regretted the length of the inquiry, but that "much of the delay has been due to recalcitrant, obstructive, and perjurious tactics on the part of certain officials of Union Electric company."

The commission charged the utility made secret contributions to political parties in violation of federal laws.

Turns Down Public Quiz.

Frank referred to a suit brought by Union Electric to halt a proposed public investigation by the SEC and to perjury charges brought against former officials, one of whom is in prison and another on trial in St. Louis.

Concerning Shea's proposal for a public investigation of Illinois Iowa Power, Frank said that the commission felt that such a course "would at present be neither practicable nor fair."

BANKERS LEARN HOW TO HANDLE FOOD STAMPS

Chicago System to Start Operating Aug. 1.

Procedure for handling and redeeming food stamps under the department of agriculture's stamp plan which begins in Chicago on Aug. 1, was explained yesterday to about 100 bank representatives at a meeting of the American Institute of Banking. The meeting was held at 105 West Adams street.

The plan will enable persons on relief to obtain 50 per cent more food than they are now receiving, and also varieties of food not available at present. At various times of the year, seasonal "luxury" foods will be designated surplus items and made available. About $8,000,000 of additional foodstuffs are expected to be sold thru the Chicago retail market as a result of the plan, it was said.

Boyles Tells Procedure.

The procedure for handling the stamps, as explained by George R. Boyles, president of the Chicago district of the Illinois Bankers association, will start with the purchase of the stamps for cash by relief officials from the Surplus Marketing administration.

The stamps are issued in books of various denominations to persons on relief. One now receiving $25 in food will be given orange stamps totaling $25. In addition, he will get $12.50 of blue food order stamps.

He will present these stamps in lieu of cash at retail stores which have qualified with the Surplus Marketing administration. Orange stamps may be used to buy any foodstuffs, but the blue stamps will purchase only foods designated surplus commodities.

Furnish Numbered Cards.

The storekeeper, Boyles said, will be furnished numbered cards upon which he can affix the stamps he receives. Each card will hold $10, and when filled and signed by the storekeeper may be used to pay his bills to the wholesaler, cashed directly at the Surplus Marketing administration audit office, 506 South Wabash avenue, or turned over to his bank for collection.

The banks are expected to handle them simply as items of collection thru regular channels, Boyles said. A representative of the Surplus Marketing administration will be stationed at headquarters of the Chicago Clearing House association to furnish receipts to the banks.

LIFE INSURANCE BUYING REFLECTS BUSINESS GAINS

Workers Apply for More in June.

Increased industrial activity was reflected in a survey of life insurance buyers by the American Service bureau. The survey covered 10,000 applications made during June to 155 companies in the United States and Canada.

The study, which was made for the member companies of the American Life convention, was the sixteenth semi-annual survey of life insurance buyers completed by the bureau.

Skilled workers in the building industry were one of the groups that showed a definite increase in the number of applications made compared with the month a year ago. The bureau said this was due to increased building of private industrial structures and homes.

Wholesale and retail trade workers also showed a substantial gain, according to the survey, especially in the building material, food and allied products, and general merchandising classifications.

Those engaged in military and naval service, while not a large group, showed the largest percentage of increase in the number of applications compared with previous surveys, the bureau said.

Average size of the policy applied for was $2,144, or slightly more than the average of $2,120 shown in the June, 1939, survey. Included in the applications this year were 4,749 persons who indicated they were new buyers of life insurance.

STOCKS DAWDLE IN DULLEST FULL DAY IN 22 YEARS

Traders Study Chances of New Hitler Smash.

New York, July 18 (AP).—News stimulants were lacking in today's stock market and price movements held within a narrow range.

Most traders were cautious, brokers said, partly because of fears the Hitler smash at England might be started over the week-end and, if it should prove successful, bring bearish speculative repercussions.

Domestic business news was encouraging in spots but here, too, doubts began to seep into industrial quarters that the upswing could hold its present momentum without at least a temporary let down.

Renomination Was Expected.

Renomination of President Roosevelt failed to stir the market, owing to the fact it was entirely in line with Wall street forecasts.

The day's turnover of 221,640 shares was the smallest for any full session since 1918 and compared with 381,920 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues again was unchanged at 41.7. Individual stocks traded amounted to 555 against 637 the day before. Of the total, 189 were down, 186 up and 180 unchanged.

American Telephone gained 1⅛ points. Minor advances were held by United States Steel, General Motors, United Aircraft, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Westinghouse, General Electric, du Pont, and International Harvester.

Bolivian Tin Shares Rise.

Patino mines came to life for fractional improvement on word the United States government was negotiating with this Bolivian tin producer for a large quantity of the metal.

A trifle in arrears were Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Great Northern, Texas corporation, Anaconda, Kennecott, Western Union, North American, Goodyear and American Can.

News reports influencing the action in boardrooms were: reports of a lag in new orders for steel; a seasonal increase in last week's freight loadings; a jump in construction awards, mainly for building under the defense program, and an expansion in bank clearings.

Day by Day on the Farm by BOB BECKER

Return of the Native.

July 18, 1940.

A WILD Bob White quail that lives on the Du Page county farm surprised the farm workers by his behavior this week. It flew from a nearby field, headed straight for the game bird plot where pheasants and other chicks are being reared, and calmly helped itself to the grain mash which had been set out for the young pheasants. To complete its performance and surprising visit this bird flew to the top of one of the wire pens and calmly surveyed all the young game birds in the enclosure.

The boys who watched this friendly little Bob White [it was a white-throated cock] naturally began to wonder if their feathered visitor could be one of the birds that had been hatched in the game bird yard last summer. Bob Whites, pheasants, and some partridges were hatched under hens last season and then released on the farm.

Finds Bird Tame.

One of the farm workers who saw the quail come to the rearing pen says that he walked within 20 feet of it before it flew into a nearby cornfield. He's confident that the sight of the young pheasants and Bob Whites in the game bird yard made this visiting quail think of the old days when it was living behind wire.

It won't be long until the gamekeepers on the farm will be able to distinguish between the male and female pheasants in the game bird yard because all the young birds are growing rapidly and developing their plumage. We noticed this week that the silver pheasant chicks already are beginning to show a few silver-colored tail feathers. These birds now are about 10 inches long. The blackneck and Chinese pheasants are almost as large as the silvers, but so far they have shown no signs of adult plumage.

It is easy to tell the two species apart, however, because the Chinese pheasants are almost yellow now, while the blackneck chicks have darker brown and tan feathers on their wings and backs, with lighter colored breast feathers.

Protects Her Chicks.

The appealing little peafowl chicks are getting lots of attention and protection from the fussy white bantam hen which is acting as their foster mother. She didn't like it at all when we peeked thru the wire fencing of her pen to look at the young birds. She immediately called all three of her offspring into the sanctity of the wooden coop inside the big pen. Then she looked thru her front door and challenged any one to come any nearer.

It's hard to tell how the little peacocks would get along with the pheasants if they were all put together in one pen, but they should be friendly since both are members of the pheasant family. Game breeders believe that peafowl originated in India and were taken to the Pharaohs of Egypt as gifts. These birds are mentioned in the Bible and in Greek mythology, so there's no doubt that they have a long and interesting history.

N. Y. TELEPHONE SIGNS ITS FIRST LABOR CONTRACT

New York, July 18 [Special].—The new York Telephone company today revealed that after more than eight months of negotiations it had entered into its first labor contract. This is a one year agreement with four locals comprising the United Telephone Organizations, an independent union which includes approximately 10,000 installation men, construction workers, and repair men in the New York metropolitan area. The union is a subsidiary of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which is said to have 150,000 members.

The contract provides for pay increases in outlying areas to eliminate differentials with the city; seniority rights; vacations up to three weeks, depending on length of service, and pay allowances in case of layoffs.

Eggs Drop About 1-5 Cent in Chicago Futures Mart

Egg futures closed with losses of 0.15 to 0.20 cent a dozen on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday with the October delivery at 18.65 cents. A slow demand for graded eggs in the wholesale market discouraged buyers. The Surplus Marketing association bought 82,800 dozens in Chicago to maintain cash prices. November butter closed unchanged at 26.85 cents a pound.

URGES COMPANIES SPEND 2 PER CENT OF GROSS ON RESEARCH

Dr. Karl T. Compton.

New York, July 18 (AP).—Today's frontiers are in the laboratories and machine shops of industry, Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said tonight in a report calling upon all companies in the United States to spend 2 per cent of their gross income for research.

"If all the companies in the United States spent 2 per cent of their gross income for research, the total would amount to more than a billion dollars a year—probably five times as much research as is being done now," he said.

"In the research that has not been done, America may have missed many a nylon [fibre], neoprene [rubber], polaroid [plasitc substitute for glass to remove the glare from light] or even an automobile industry.

"Industrial research not only pays dividends to the companies which engage in it, but it is a major new source of national prosperity and its potentialities are unlimited."

People and Events

James E. Thompson, who had been in charge of the credit department of the Sears Community State Bank, has been elected assistant cashier, it was announced yesterday.

Fred Evanson was appointed manager of the new United Air Lines ticket office in the Stevens hotel.

Alvah E. Davidson, vice president and general manager of Bon Ami company, has been elected president, succeeding Eversley Childs, who resigned. Childs has been elected chairman of the board.

John F. McGovern of Larry Ryan & Co., Inc., was admitted to membership in the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

The American Gas association refrigeration committee will draw up plans for continuance of its gas refrigeration campaign at a meeting in the Palmer House July 26.

Carroll C. Grinnell has been elected president and general manager of the General Electric company [P. I.] Inc., at Manila, and has been appointed manager of the International General Electric company in the far east. Homer U. Pierce has been made vice president of International. Both men will make their headquarters at Tokio, Japan.

Aaron Wakefield, in the engineer's division of Marshall Field & Co., where he supervises the purchases of engineering supplies, will complete 50 years of service with the store today.

N.Y. Savings Banks Change Computation of Interest

New York, July 18 [Special].—Eleven savings banks in New York state have decided to change the method of computing interest on deposits without altering the interest rate, the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York announced today. Some of these now will compute interest on a semiannual basis, others will continue on a quarterly basis, but will compute from the first of the month following instead of from the day of deposit to the end of the quarter, and others of the "quarterly" group will require a full three months of deposit.

Bureau Predicts Larger August Demand for Oil

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The bureau of mines today forecast the August market demand for domestic crude oil at 3,657,700 barrels daily, or a total of 113,390,000. This would be 29,300 barrels a day higher than the estimated July demand and 15,400 higher than the actual August, 1939 demand.

PARTY PLANKS ASSURE STATE INSURANCE RULE

Minimize Threat of Federal Control.

The 30 billion dollar life insurance industry has won assurances from both major political parties that supervision of insurance companies will remain with the states. The major concern of the industry in the last two years has been the apparent efforts of the Roosevelt administration to impose federal regulation of life insurance.

Inclusion of insurance planks in the party platforms adopted by the Republican and Democratic national conventions is said to be the first such action in American political history. Insurance company and life underwriting groups were reported to have urged the platform makers to write these planks because the threat of federal regulation appeared to have become more serious recently.

Vigorous G. O. P. Plank.

The Republican plank was a vigorous statement on behalf of continued state supervision and against proposals to control the business thru a centralized commission in Washington. The plank read:

"We condemn the New Deal attempts to destroy the confidence of our people in private insurance institutions. We favor a continuance of regulation of insurance by the several states."

C. B. Robbins (left) and Charles Zimmerman, who discussed political action.

The Democrats were less explicit in their support of state supervision. Some Chicago insurance company executives said the Democratic insurance plank did not close the door to federal regulation. Others commented that the plank implied that existing state supervision has not always been adequate to protect the rights of the public and policyholders.

The emphasis on the word "strict" in the Democratic plank and its absence from the Republican plank was considered significant.

Strict Control Pledged.

The Democratic plank read:

"We favor strict supervision of all forms of the insurance business by the several states for the protection of policyholders and the public."

The life insurance industry last year marshalled its forces to defend itself against encroachment by the federal government. This resistance was aroused by investigations into life insurance companies by the temporary national economic [monopoly] committee and the Securities and Exchange commission.

The insurance business in the past has been considered by the courts not to constitute interstate commerce and thus has been immuse from federal regulation.

Charles J. Zimmerman of Chicago, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, said that no insurance plan had been presented by his group to the Republican platform drafters.

"Didn't Want Plank."

"We have never wanted an insurance plank in either party's platform," he said. "We have been anxious to keep insurance out of politics and we hoped that the Democrats before whom we appeared Monday were as desirous of keeping politics out of life insurance."

Zimmerman said he presented a draft of an insurance plank last Monday to the Democratic platform committee because the Republican party had adopted a plank submitted by a Dayton, O., insurance man and delegate.

Announce Full Plank.

The draft of the plank which Zimmerman submitted but which was accepted only in part follows:

"The Democratic party reaffirms its belief in the benefits of sound insurance institutions to all the people. The Democratic party pledges itself to support all measures and practices that will maintain the institution of insurance in its present position of high public confidence and that will continue to give full opportunity for individual service and enterprise. It further favors the most efficient supervision and regulation of all forms of insurance by the several states."

Col. C. B. Robbins of Chicago, manager and general counsel of the American Life convention, an association of life insurance companies, said:

"Inasmuch as both major political parties have gone on record as favoring state regulation, it seems unlikely that any attempts will be made in the forthcoming congress to supplant state regulation and supervision, whichever way the election may go."

BRITISH CUT HOLDINGS OF U. S. STEEL STOCK TO RECORD LOW MARK

New York, July 18 (AP).—Foreign holders of United States Steel corporation stock liquidated more than 200,000 shares of common and about 1,500 shares of preferred stock in the last three months, the corporation's quarterly analysis of share holdings showed today.

British holdings of the common, at a record level of 367,000 only 15 months ago, fell to 48,000 shares, the smallest in recent years.

As of June 30 foreign holdings amounted to 503,195 shares of common and 72,614 shares of preferred, compared with 717,272 and 74,152, respectively, at the end of March.

The analysis showed total common stockholdings in the hands of the public was 72.43 per cent of that outstanding, compared with 71.69 per cent at the end of the March quarter. The remaining shares were registered in the names of brokers.

'OFFICIAL' POUND SALES STARTED BY N. Y. BANKS

The "official" British pound sterling, its quotations held rigidly in line by controls of the Bank of England, monopolized foreign exchange dealings yesterday, except for scattered trading in the "free" pound. The official rate for sterling is $4.02½-$4.03½.

While theoretically Wednesday was the last day in which "free" sterling existed, yesterday there was set up a new system of registered accounts, by which the "free" money eventually will disappear. The "free" pound closed at $3.81, up 3 cents.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as an agent for the Bank of England, announced it would deal in spot sterling with New York City banks which have registered accounts in sterling, buying from them at $4.02½ and selling at $4.03½. The banks in turn buy or sell sterling exchange from or to their customers at $4.02-$4.04.

London Eases Ban on Sale of United States Securities

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, today announced a partial relaxation of the ban imposed last June 17 on dealings in Canadian and United States stocks and bonds. He told the house of commons that under an order in council permits would be resumed to permit certain of the securities deposited in Canada by the owners to be sold abroad. Other securities marketable in the United States and elsewhere abroad, said Kingsley Wood, similarly would be sent to Canada in order that they might "continue to be realized in orderly fashion."

June Newsprint Stocks Show 7.7 Per Cent Gain

New York, July 18 [Special].—Stocks of Newsprint held by United States publishers, or in transit to them at the close of June amounted to 305,002 tons, a 7.7 per cent increase over those of May 31. Reports of 421 newspapers to the American Newspaper Publishers association showed today. The stocks were equal to 38 days' supply at the June consumption rate.

Chicago Bank Loans Reach Peak Since '37

Loans to commerce, industry and agriculture by reserve system member banks in Chicago expanded 6 million to 436 million in the week ended July 17, reaching their highest level since the close of 1937, figures issued by the Federal Reserve board showed yesterday.

Such loans by member banks in New York City failed to extend their recent uptrend, declining $3,000,000 to $1,711,000,000 during the week.

Excess Reserves Rise.

Excess reserves of member banks of the federal reserve system increased 50 millions to a total of 6 billion 880 million dollars, another all time high. This fund represents credit which might be available for lending purposes. A year ago excess reserves amounted to 4 billion 490 million dollars.

Monetary gold held in the nation climbed 90 millions to a new peak of 20 billion 256 millions as British gold continued to flow to the United States. Since the middle of July, 1939, United States gold holdings have been increased by 4 billion 36 millions.

Brokers' Loans Advance.

Loans to brokers and dealers in securities totaled 287 millions, an increase of 200 millions during the week. During the years of extensive stock market activity, such loans were measured in billions.

RATE ON FOREST PRESERVE BONDS AT RECORD LOW

The county board yesterday approved the sale of $2,000,000 of forest preserve real estate acquisition bonds to a syndicate headed by the First National bank at what was reported to be the lowest interest rate in any forest preserve bond issue ever floated.

The bonds will bear 2.12 per cent interest. The purchasers also paid a premium of $31,129 on the bonds, $125,000 of which will mature in 1945 and an equal amount every year thereafter until 1960.

The bonds are to finance purchase of an additional 4,000 acres of land to be added to the present forest preserve tract of 35,000 acres.

Germany Battles Flood of Poor Soap Substitutes

Washington, D. C., July 18 [Special].—Strict government control is being exercised over soap substitutes now flooding the German markets, the department of commerce reported today. After the outbreak of war and the subsequent shortage of imported soap fats, the substitutes appeared, many of them having little value. The German government now informs consumers that good substitutes are being offered for sale at fair prices.

New York Devotes More Land to Growing Onions

Kenton, O., July 18 (AP).—Increased acreage of fine quality onions in the state of New York, with reduced production in the midwest was reported today at the United Statistical Onion association convention. Howard Dunlap of Marshall, Mich., was elected president; and Dick Reno of Jasper, Mich., and Hobart Avery of Elba, N. Y., trustees.

BANK CLEARINGS RISE THRUOUT NATION; TOP YEAR AGO 10 PER CENT

New York, July 18 (AP).—Bank clearings during the week ended July 17 recovered from the preceding holiday week slump and were substantially ahead of a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Latest reports from 23 leading cities totaled $5,454,598,000, a gain of 10.8 per cent from $4,921,775,000 in the comparable 1939 week and were $1,278,969,000 above the preceding week.

New York turnover rose to $3,040,433,000, an increase of 12.5 per cent from $2,702,735,000 in 1939. The total at other cities increased 8.8 per cent to $2,414,165,000 from $2,219,040,000 a year ago.

Chicago volume expanded to $327,800,000 from $297,100,000 in the like 1939 period, a rise of 10.3 per cent.

OFFER $2,350,000 BOND ISSUE FOR UTILITY COMPANY

A banking group headed by E. H. Rollins & Sons, Inc., today will offer $2,350,000 of Arkansas-Missouri Power corporation first mortgage, series A, 4 per cent bonds at 102. The utility will redeem outstanding series A, 5 per cent bonds, due in 1957. This is the sixth large issue to be offered in the revived investment market this week.

The F. W. Woolworth company, variety store chain, announced it has sold to the Prudential Insurance company of America $22,000,000 of 2½ per cent debentures.

The city council of Springfield, Ill., has called $1,300,000 of electric revenue bonds as of Sept. 1 to permit refunding at a lower interest rate. The new bonds were sold to John Nuveen & Co. on a 2½ per cent interest basis and at a premium of $10,000.

RULE NEXT WEEK ON EDISON RATE SUIT PETITION

The Illinois Commerce commission announced yesterday that it will rule next week on the request of attorneys for eight apartment dwellers that they be allowed to file a supplemental petition in their suit against the Commonwealth Edison company for refunds on their electric bills.

The petition in question asks that the attorneys be allowed to examine books and records of the Edison company to determine whether the company complied with a rate reduction order entered by the commission in October, 1936. The order directed the company to reduce its electric rates by $2,500,000 a year.

The apartment dwellers' attorneys contended in their original petition that the company failed to comply with the order, but, instead, has overcharged Chicago users $1,100,000 a year.

GEN. ELECTRIC'S 6 MONTH PROFIT TOPS 25 MILLION

Sales Also Show Big Gain This Year.

Operations of the General Electric company during the first six months of this year resulted in a profit of $25,981,572 available for dividends. This was an increase of 59 per cent over the $18,370,192 profit shown for the corresponding period last year, according to the semiannual statement of Charles E. Wilson, president, which was issued yesterday. These amounts are equivalent to 90 cents and 57 cents per share, respectively, on the common stock.

Net sales billed in the first half of 1940 increased 31 per cent to a total of $191,619,132 from the $146,299,212 billed in the same period a year ago.

American Brake Shoe and Foundry company, large automotive and railway equipment manufacturer reported net profit of $644,074, or 75 cents a common share, in the June quarter, against $510,997, or 57 cents a share, in the quarter last year.

Signode Net Is $79,598.

Indicated net profit for the six months ended June 30 totaled $1,226,636, or $1.41 per common share, against $919,934, or $1.01 a common share, in the 1939 period. The company operates plants in several major cites, including Chicago.

Signode Steel Strapping company, Chicago manufacturer of steel strapping, tools, and other steel products, had net profit of $79,598 for the June quarter, which was equal to 45 cents a common share. This compared with $90,758, or 54 cents a common share in the quarter last year.

For the six months ended June 30, the company had net income of $191,879, or $1.15 per common share, against $178,357, or $1.05 a share, in the first half of 1939.

Kimberly-Clark Net Dips.

Kimberly-Clark corporation, Wisconsin manufacturer of paper and wood pulp products, showed a net profit of $628,606 or 98 cents a common share in the quarter ended June 30.

Owens-Illinois Glass company and subsidiaries had net profit of $8,589,202 or $3.23 a common share in the 12 months ended June 30, President William E. Lewis reported in Toledo, O.

Lewis said $2,000,000 had been paid in sinking fund trustees to retire debentures. After this retirement, he said, $10,000,000 of the $15,000,000 of debentures issued in 1937 to finance a plant modernization program will be left outstanding.

Hudson Starts Production of 1941 Model Automobiles

The 1941 automobile production season will soon be under way, it was indicated yesterday when the Hudson Motor Car company announced that it has started production on the new models. The company said 1941 models are now rolling off the assembly line at its Detroit factory after many months of preparation which included chassis changes and advances in styling.

W. M. Packer reports July sales at high rate for Packard.

Officials of the company said that first shipments of the new models will go to the dealer groups in 60 cities thruout the country and public announcements will follow in a few weeks. The new models are to feature new body styling, longer wheelbases, and an extensive list of refinements and improvements.

1940 Model Sales Continue.

Meantime Oldsmobile and Packard reported sales of the 1940 models continue at a rapid rate. Oldsmobile sales in the first 10 days of July totaled 5,661 units, representing a 105 per cent gain over the like 1939 period and 17 per cent more than in the first 10 days of last month.

W. M. Packer, vice president in charge of distribution of the Packard Motor Car company, said sales in the first 10 days of July totaled 2,034 units, an increase of 225 per cent over last year. June sales totaled 6,889 units.

Used Car Stock Lower.

There was a 31.8 day supply of used cars in the hands of 241 Chicago area dealers on July 1, the Chicago Automobile Trade association reported yesterday. The supply was a moderate drop from the 34.9 day supply of June 1. On July 1, 1939, the total was equal to a 28 day supply. During June 11,016 used cars were sold and the supply on July 1 totaled 11,682 cars.

REPORT WRIGLEY INTEREST IN NEW TRANSIT AD FIRM

New York, July 18 [Special].—The good will and physical assets of seven advertising companies formed by the late Barron G. Collier, and declared bankrupt last month, were sold today for $70,000 to a new Delaware corporation called National Transitads, Inc. The sale was arranged by John Gerdes, trustee, and approved by John E. Joyce, federal bankruptcy referee.

Among those interested in the new corporation, it was learned, is an officer of the William Wrigley Jr. company, chewing gum manufacturer, of Chicago. The Wrigley company is an important user of transit advertisements, and was a creditor of the Collier firms.

Companies involved in the sale were Street Railways Advertising company of Delware, Street Railways Advertising company of New York, Barron G. Collier, Inc., of New York, Barron G. Collier, Inc., of New Jersey, Barron G. Collier corporation, Railroad Advertising company and Pennsylvania Railways Advertising company.

MID-CONTINENT AIRLINES GIVEN ANOTHER ROUTE

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Mid-Continent Airlines, Inc., received a certificate from the civil aeronautics board today for a new Y-shaped route which will serve Minneapolis and St. Paul, Des Moines, Kansas City, Mo., and St. Louis, as well as intermediate points.

One section of the route will extend from the Twin Cities to Des Moines, with Rochester, Minn., and Mason City, Ia., as intermediate points; nother section from Des Moines to Kansas City, and the third from Des Moines to St. Louis with Ottumwa, Ia., and Quincy, Ill., as intermediate points.

The authority denied rival applications by Northwest Airlines, Inc., and Braniff Airways, Inc. Mid-Continent already has a service between the Twin Cities and Kansas City.

PREDICTS BOOST IN TRADE WITH LATIN AMERICA

New York, July 18 [Special].—The growth of chain stores in South America is opening the way for successful two-way trade between this country and South America, Irving Tow, head of the Tonsa chain stores in Argentina, asserted here today.

There is no reason, he said, why American manufacturers should have to wait for the formation of the proposed $2,000,000,000 trade cartel to begin competing successfully with European countries.

Tow said he believed American manufacturers of radios, electric appliances, refrigerators, and other products have sufficient business skill to sell their wares in Latin America despite lower prices, generous credit and bartering methods that have marked the commercial infiltration there by other countries.

A. L. NEIMAN NAMED VICE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF THE HUB

Willard W. Cole, assistant to the president of The Hub, Henry C. Lytton & Sons, yesterday announced the election of A. L. Neiman as vice president and a director of the company.

A. L. Neiman.

Neiman has been with the Lytton organization for the last seven years. He developed the women's apparel division of the business, an activity with which he has been identified most of his business life. He was one of the founders of Neiman-Marcus store in Dallas, Tex.

Announcement was also made that the Lytton company has closed new leases with present tenants of the Tudor Shops property in Evanston, under which they will remain until June 30, 1943. Lytton recently leased the property for 25 years from Mrs. Barbara Field Bliss, daughter of Marshall Field. A second floor will be added to the Tudor building and will be connected with the present Lytton shop at Sherman avenue and Church street. The improvement will cost about $100,000.

PREDICT DECLINE IN EXPORTS OF CANADIAN WHEAT

OTTAWA, Ont., July 18 (AP).—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today that, as a result of the war marketing situation, "about 300,000 families in western Canada are going to be affected by the cutting of wheat exports or sales."

Gardiner said at least 250,000,000 bushels of wheat were in Canadian elevators. The 1940 crop may total 400,000,000 bushels. Allowing 150,000,000 bushels to meet home needs, the year's harvest should place 500,000,000 bushels on hand.

Britain in peacetime buys 200,000,000 bushels from all countries, and it cannot be expected that all its purchases in wartime iwll be made in Canada, he said.

"Britain is now the only possible market for Canadian wheat," he said. "France and other European countries are now out of the market."

DEFENSE PLANS BOOST BUILDING TO RECORD PEAK

Week's Contracts Are 217 Millions.

New York, July 18 (AP).—Construction contracts awarded to American engineers and contractors reached the highest level on record this week as national defense plans gained headway, Engineering News-Record reported today.

Engineering awards for the week totaled $217,834,000. They included projects totaling $170,834,000 in the continental United States and $47,000,000 for federal defense works in United States possessions. The previous record of $181,886,000 was made in March, 1930.

Private Awards Decline.

Of this week's record volume, $130,736,000 represented work in continental United States for the federal government. Included were a $30,000,000 smokeless powder plant to be built at Jeffersonville, Ind., for the war department under the supervision of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., and 11 contracts for airbase facilities and improvements at various points totaling about $73,000,000.

The week's increase was limited to public contracts, however. Private awards were 59 per cent smaller than in the preceding week and 5 per cent below a year ago.

30 Millions for Pacific.

Defense construction awards in United States possessions included aviation facilities at Pearl Harbor and islands in the western Pacific, $30,870,000; Guantanamo bay, Cuba, $5,190,000; Coco Sola, Canal Zone, $11,050,000.

Awards for continental United States compare as follows:

	Latest week.	Prev. week.	Year ago.
Total..	170,834,000	98,039,000	43,783,000
Private..	$13,893,000	$34,012,000	$14,668,000
State and mun...	26,205,000	35,205,000	27,240,000
Federal..	130,736,000	28,822,000	1,875,000

This year is proving to be the biggest for home building since 1929, according to the F. W. Dodge corporation, statistical research service.

Home Building Rising.

Residential building contracts let during the first half of 1940 in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains amounted to $690,572,000, the Dodge firm reported today. This was an increase of 7 per cent over the first half of 1939 and more than six times larger than in the first half of 1933, the lowest depression year.

Commercial and manufacturing buildings also showed substantial increases for the same periods, the report said. Commercial building contracts amounted to $142,396,000, an increase of 23 per cent, and manufacturing building contracts totaled $111,828,000, an increase of 47 per cent over last year.

The report said the number of single-family houses included in the contract record increased from 74,315 in the first six months of 1939 to 90,910 in the like period of 1940, a rise of 22 per cent.

Public Contracts Decrease.

Combined with increase in two-family houses, combination buildings and converted units, and a decreased number of units in apartment buildings, total new dwelling units for this year were 141,811 as compared with 127,056 in 1939.

The combined half-year total of all private building contracts, $937,867,000 was nearly 13 per cent, or $107,000,000 larger than the 1939 figure. However, the aggregate of both public and private building showed a net decrease of $3,000,000 since the 1940 figures included a $110,000,000 decrease in public building contracts.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 18 (AP).—Extremely wide advances in a small group of domestic and foreign dollar bonds diverted attention from the minor price changes and irregular trend in the main body of active issues in today's market.

Three bonds of Alleghany corporation came in for most attention in late trading by advancing 4 to 5 points on heavy turnover. The convertible 5s of '44 ended up 4½ points at 65, the 5s of '49 were 5 higher at 73, and the stamped 5s of '50 were 4¾ higher at 42. Reports have been heard in financial circles that steps were being taken or under consideration to strengthen the collateral behind the loans.

Belgium 6s jumped up 9¾ points to 40 on sale of two bonds while several loans of Commonwealths of the British Empire were unusually strong.

In the main corporate list the general trend was irregular and changes were mostly small.

United States government issues were neglected all day and ended 4-32 of a point lower to 10-32 higher.

Chicago Stocks.

Midland United preferred continued its individual boomlet yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange, closing up ¼ point at 5⅛ for the fourth 1940 high in six days. Trading was mixed, as 12,000 shares changed hands. Of the 76 active issues, 24 advanced, 27 declined, and 25 were unchanged. Libby, McNeill & Libby, the volume leader, finished at 7¼, up ⅝ point.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois shares, selling ex dividend, and Harris Trust declined 2 points each yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. City National lost a point and Chicago Title gained ½ point. Other leading issues were unchanged.

Commodities

Prices of copper, hides, lead, sugar, coffee and cocoa yesterday dropped to or near the lowest levels of the year.

Announcement that the Kennecott Copper corporation was low bidder at 10.75 cents a pound on 2,000,000 pounds of metal for the navy jolted an already shaky copper market. Futures sank 0.10 to 0.16 cent a pound to record new 1940 minimums. The September delivery closed at 9.45 cents.

Altho Kennecott said its quotation to private consumers would not be lowered from the present 11½ cents, metal brokers expressed the fear that concession to the navy would undermine the price structure.

Trading in hides involved 6,160,000 pounds. Future prices declined 0.23 to 0.26 cent a pound, the September delivery closing at the season's low of 9.16 cents. The Chicago price of packer hides declined ¼ cent to 11½ cents.

Scattered liquidation and hedging left the Santos coffee future at the 1940 low, prices closing unchanged to 0.02 cent a pound lower with the September delivery quoted at 5.66 cents.

Crude rubber futures closed 0.40 cent higher to 0.21 cent lower, the July delivery at 22.30 cents a pound. Smoked ribbed rubber for immediate delivery advanced ⅛ cent to 22.25 cents.

Tin advanced 0.20 to 0.35 cent a pound on sales of 67,200 pounds, the market for both September and December delivery closing at 50.10 cents a pound.

Raw silk futures rose 1 to 2½ cents a pound. The closing bid on silk for December delivery was $2.45.

INVESTING TRUST SHARE VALUES LOWER JUNE 30

Lehman Common Declines 16.1 Per Cent.

Reports made yesterday on the asset value of shares of investing companies continued to reflect the sharp decline in securities prices that took place following German invasion of Norway. Considering the sharp decline in general securities prices, the showing made by some of the companies was considered to be favorable.

The asset value per share of Lehman corporation common stock on June 30 was $27.46, representing a decline of 16.1 per cent from the $32.72 valuation on Dec. 31, 1939.

Common Dips 25 Per Cent.

The Railway and Light Securities company reported that asset value of its 6 per cent preferred stock, Series A, was $215.95 on June 30, compared with $256.29 on Dec. 31, and the asset value of the common stock was $15.02 compared with $20.25 a share, off 25 per cent.

Aviation Capital, Inc. reported its stock had an asset value on June 30 of $18.24 per share, compared with $20.01 per share at the end of 1939. Valuations were adjusted to reflect the stock split-up resulting from a 100 per cent stock dividend on June 18, 1940.

PLAN TO RETIRE N. Y. EXCHANGE MEMBERSHIPS

New York, July 18 [Special].—Plans for the retirement of New York Stock Exchange memberships were approved today at a meeting of the stock exchange forum. The resolution detailing the program will be submitted to the board of governors next Wednesday.

There are now 1,375 memberships. In recent years some members have felt that there may be too many for the amount of business to be done. Three or four plans have been proposed to retire seats but after Edward E. Bartlett Jr., then chairman of the board, circularized members and discovered slight interest in the idea, they were dropped.

The forum agreed not to make public details of its proposal until presented to the governors. It is understood to impose no new burdens on new members but to contain a sliding scale for imposition of transaction taxes.

UNDER GERMAN CONTROL.

I would like to see a survey of the status of interest payments on the dollar bonds of the various countries now under German domination.—R. T.

Answer: Belgium, Denmark, France, and Norway are the only countries conquered by Germany which have not defaulted to date on interest payments on their external dollar bonds held in the United States.

Altho these countries have redeemed interest coupons which have matured thus far, there is no certainty that the payments will be continued. Most of the recent interest was disbursed from funds already accumulated in New York banks which act as paying agents.

The interest status of the dollar bonds of once independent governments now under German control follow:

Austria—Interest payments on $25,000,000 in 7 per cent bonds, due 1957, have been in default since May 31, 1938.

Belgium—Coupons on the 7 per cent and the 6 per cent bonds of 1955 were paid June 1 and July 1 this year, respectively. The next interest which the kingdom will have to meet falls due Sept. 1 on the 6½ per cent bonds due in 1949. The kingdom has $20,263,600 in dollar bonds outstanding.

Czecho-Slovakia — Interest on the $3,682,800 in outstanding dollar bonds was suspended after April 1 coupons on the 8 per cent bonds of 1951 and 1952 were redeemed.

Denmark—The kingdom paid the July 1 interest on the 6 per cent bonds due 1942. On Aug. 1 coupons of the 5½ per cent bonds of 1955 are payable. There are $95,298,000 of Denmark's direct dollar bonds outstanding.

France—The dollar debt of the republic consists of two issues totaling $88,267,100. Coupons on these bonds, which matured July 1, were paid. The next interest payment date is Dec. 1.

Norway—The kingdom has five issues of dollar loans amounting together to $96,554,000, and has met all interest payments on them. Aug. 1 is the next interest date for one of the issues, the 6 per cent bonds of 1944.

Poland—Partial service of the republic's $66,711,446 dollar bonds was suspended Jan. 2, 1940, after provision was made for payment of April 15 coupons on the 4½ per cent bonds due 1968. Three of the six issues which comprise this debt have been in default since 1936.

The Netherlands government did not have any dollar bonds outstanding.

The dollar bonds described above include only those which are direct obligations of the various governments.

Information concerning specific issues may be obtained from this department upon request.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Decreased hog receipts again failed to bolster the market yestrday. Trading was slow on a steady to 10 cents lower price basis. Prices averaged 5 cents lower, at $6.00 a hundred pounds, the lowest average in two weeks.

Wholesale pork prices were steady to 50 cents lower for the day.

Receipts of hogs at 11 leading markets the first four days of this week, at 246,000, were 24,000 short of a week ago.

Best yearling steers were in fair demand at steady prices, but most steers were weak. Heifers were steady to 15 cents lower. Calves were strong to a little higher. Reductions of 10 to 25 cents were registered in lamb prices.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

CANDY COMPANY VOTES 40 CENTS EXTRA ON STOCK

Railroad to Pay More on Its Common.

Life Savers corporation, candy confection manufacturer, yesterday declared a special dividend of 40 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 40 cents. Both are payable Sept. 3 to holders of record Aug. 1.

A dividend of $2.75 a share on common stock was authorized by the Louisville & Nashville railroad, payable Aug. 26 to holders of record July 29. The last disbursement was $1.25 last Feb. 28. In August last year, the road paid $1.25.

Copper Producer to Pay Less.

Reducing its payment from the 25 cents disbursed in each of the three preceding quarters, Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., Ltd., announced a dividend of 15 cents, payable Sept. 3 to stockholders of record Aug. 16. The company is engaged chiefly in mining and concentrating copper ores.

"In view of existing war conditions and the resultant increase in taxation," the company statement said, "as well as the possibility that the company may require a substantial sum for the construction of its own smelting and converting plant, the board deemed it desirable to conserve cash resources."

INVITE PRIVATE BUILDING IN U. S. HOUSING AREAS

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The Farm Security administration announced today it would permit privately financed housing programs in three low rent housing communities it constructed as demonstrations of model suburban planning.

The communities are Greenbelt, Md., near Washington; Greenhills, O., near Cincinnati, and Greendale, Wis., near Milwaukee.

The administration said water, street, and other facilities of each community were designed to permit considerable future expansion. It said Greenbelt, which has 885 dwellings, could be expanded to 3,000 units; Greenhills, with 676, to 2,000, and Greendale with 572, to 750.

The FSA said it was inviting proposals from private builders. Under its plan land would be leased for 99 years to builders who agreed to erect at least 200 dwelling units. Individual residents could lease or purchase the houses from the builders.

ORDER AGAINST WARD IS UPHELD BY CIRCUIT COURT

The United States Circuit court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the order of Federal Judge William H. Holly directing Montgomery Ward & Co. to open payroll records of its Kansas City plant to the national wage and hour administration.

The company had appealed from the District court order on the ground that the records demanded included those of employés not covered by the minimum wage law and on the plea that the decision violated the search and seizure clause of the constitution.

Morgenthau Asks Advice on 'Frozen' French Funds

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said today that French funds in the United States would be held pending a determination of "what is the French government." He disclosed at a press conference that he had called in J. P. Chamberlain, international law expert of Columbia university, to advise him on the situation. Virtually the only French funds "frozen" by presidential order that are being released are small monthly sums to maintain the French embassy and consulates in this country, Morgenthau said.

Germany, Russia to Take Output of Finnish Mines

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 18.—Germany and Russia have reached an agreement regarding the Petsamo nickel mines owned by the International Nickel Company of Canada reports from Finland said today. Under the agreement, negotiated between Moscow, Berlin and Helsingfors, Germany will get 60 per cent of the output of these mines and Russia 40 per cent. The owner of the mines, as far as is known, was not consulted. The mines are not expected to begin production until next year.

Chicago Firms Ordered to Pay Overtime Wages

Injunction restraining the General Cullet corporation, 3719 South Kedzie avenue, and the Revere Electric company, 757 West Jackson boulevard from violating the fair labor standards act were issued yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly. The General Cullet corporation, which buys and sells broken glass, was ordered to pay $800 in overtime wages to 25 employés. Revere company, wholesaler of electrical supplies, was directed to pay $1,500 to 36 employés.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC CLIMBS TOWARD 1940 PEAK AGAIN

Railroads Load 740,465 Cars Last Week.

Loadings of revenue freight totaled 740,465 cars last week, a gain of 103,564 cars, or 16.3 per cent above the preceding week, and an increase of 70,577 cars, or 10.5 per cent, from the corresponding week last year, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

Railroad freight traffic resumed the upward trend that had reached a peak for the year in the last week of June, when revenue loadings aggregated 752,326 cars. Loadings fell sharply the first week in July as the result of the holiday.

Coal and Ore Loadings Rise.

All commodities except coke shared in the recovery last week from the preceding week. Loadings of coal rose 24,131 cars over the preceding week, and 20,285 cars over the corresponding week in 1939. Ore shipments increased to 24,754 cars above a year ago.

Resumption of activity in the heavy industries was reflected in the rise of 38,490 cars in loadings of miscellaneous freight above the first week of July and the 28,470 car gain over the corresponding week last year. Loadings of miscellaneous freight have gained consistently since America started rebuilding its national defenses.

Grain Lags Behind Year Ago.

Movement of grain, while 8,429 cars better than in the preceding week, fell short of the corresponding week a year ago by 3,317 cars. Shipments of live stock and less than carlot merchandise also were below last year.

Loadings of the various commodities compare as follows:

WHEAT FUTURES LOSE SMALL GAIN TO FINISH LOWER

Wheat futures lost early fractional gains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday and closed ⅜ to ½ cent a bushel lower, with prices within about 1 cent of the seasonal low. Hedging sales reflecting the movement of new grain were largely responsible for the recession, brokers said. Unfavorable crop comments from the American northwest attracted little attention.

While trading in corn was not large the market showed a firm undertone and closed ⅛ to ⅝ cent higher, the latter on December. Oats were ⅛ cent lower. Rye declined 1⅛ to 1¼ cents and soy beans were unchanged to ⅝ cent higher.

Trading in July contracts of leading grains will cease at the close of business next Tuesday. So far there have been no deliveries of wheat, corn, or oats on July contracts on the Chicago exchange.

PUBLIC RELIEF CASES DECLINE 4 PCT. IN JUNE

Washington, D. C., July 18 [Special].—The federal social security board today reported a decrease of 4 per cent in the number of cases receiving general relief from public funds in June, and a decrease of 6 per cent in the amount of obligations incurred, as compared with May. The reports were based on advices received from 106 urban areas in 33 states.

Decreases in the number of cases reported for 72 of these areas ranged from less than 1 per cent to as much as 47 per cent. Increases in the number of cases reported for 26 areas ranged from less than 1 per cent to 23 per cent.

Decreases in expenditures reported for 76 of the areas ranged from less than 1 per cent to as much as 33 per cent.

Ask Bids on Manufacture of Toluol, Used in TNT

Washington, D. C., July 18 (AP).—The Defense commission today invited proposals for the manufacture of toluol, an essential element of TNT, from petroleum. Edward R. Stettinius Jr., member of the Defense commission, said that a central office of the War department in Wilmington, Del., would receive proposals from contractors prepared to produce in large quantities within 12 months.

Men Who Are Unemployed.

In and around Chicago are men who are complaining about work being very hard to find. Some of these men actually want work, others are not looking for work or want something that is easy to do for a mere existence. To the men looking for a chance to prove their ability, with possibilities of earning a good, consistent living for themselves and their families, we can present a splendid opportunity in this new electrical unit field.

In our previous announcement we have repeatedly made the statement that we are not interested in men who are merely content with the limitations of a small income. However, we will go a long way in helping a man to a lucrative and permanent future if that man is big enough and willing enough to realize that he must pay the price and prove his worth.

In order to assure that no man will remain in a rut because of a stipulated income used as a harness over him, our men are paid on a percentage basis, giving them a chance to receive in dollars and cents what they actually are worth.

This business is both modern and mutual. No investment is required from any man qualifying. We finance everything.

This ad gives no honest, industrious man an excuse for being out of work. This is not an ordinary ad, but this is not an ordinary job. We firmly believe this represents one of the outstanding opportunities of the decade in our line of work.

Apply in person Friday morning between 10:30 and 11 o'clock only at

MEN

THIS IS YOUR BUSINESS.

We make a straight-from-the-shoulder statement of a business possibility that will cost you money to ignore.

Our deal is brand new and entirely a new invention and amazingly different.

Now we are not spending money to kid any one and I am not interested in men answering this ad who are just trying to get work. I want men who really want work.

We have 60 men in this organization who are happy making money. Absolutely no investment on your part. We pay rent, light, heat, stenographer, etc.; place you where the business is and pay you weekly. Earnings will average $50 to $100 a week on a commission and bonus basis.

I want good men—others stay away. I will prove that you can make $50 a week on sales now if you really want a job. Investigate this profitable business and this new amazing electrical specialty. Apply Friday, 11 a. m. sharp. No other time. Come prepared to spend balance of day if selected. 510 N. Dearborn-st., Room 528.

Personal Property and Salary.

Personal Loans
On Your Own Signature
Here salaried men and women [single or married] can get $25 to $250 or more entirely on earning capacity and personal responsibility. We prefer to make these loans the way most people like—without security—without endorsers.
NO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS.
Simply do this:
1. Make application. [Can be in person or by phone.]
2. Come in, sign, and get the cash.
Pick Your Own Payments.
Take a year, or more, to repay. You know best how much you can afford each month—you name the payment which best fits your income.
PRIVACY.
We keep the entire transaction strictly between us. Your employer, friends or relatives are not notified.
SIMPLE TO GET.
Our loans are made on the simple basis of your ability to make small, regular payments, and if you can, you should not hesitate to see us for a loan at once. Come in or telephone.
